RUHR SWEPT BY BIG STRIKE

CONSERVATIVE GUNS AIMED AT PROGRESSIVES

Plan Battle Lines for Next Congress.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Conservatives of both major parties are preparing for a showdown with the La Follette progressives who have set out to dominate the next congress through exercise of the balance of power they will hold in the house and senate.

The progressives have proclaimed their intention of subjecting the existing body of federal law to microscopic examination with a view to detecting and moving the elimination of all special privilege provisions found in the statutes.

For this purpose the progressive bloc has organized a bureau of experts to hunt down special privilege in the laws, trace its operation and effects and present a comprehensive report of the findings. Then the people will be informed how they are being gouged and ground down by the beneficiaries of special privilege in tariff, trust, tax, corporation, and other laws.

La Follette's View on High Cost.

Senator La Follette [Rep., Wis.] contends that the high cost of living and almost all the other ills of the hour are due to the operation of special privilege enjoyed by big business.

Accepting the challenge on the ground La Follette has chosen, the conservatives will demand a show down on the special privilege to combine and restrain trade granted by congress to farmers, organized labor, and other elements supporting the progressives. When is a combination to restrain trade and control prices a special privilege? ask the conservatives. When it is organized by farmers or only when organized by manufacturers? Why is a strike of a number of unions legal and a lockout by a number of manufacturers an illegal conspiracy?

The keynote of the attack aimed by the conservatives at the progressives is sounded in a letter addressed by former Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw to Senator La Follette.

Mr. Shaw's Letter.

The letter written by Mr. Shaw under date of Jan. 16 follows:

"I write to inquire, as courteously as I may, and as earnestly as possible, as to what specific laws and pending legislation you and your group refer to when you so emphatically condemn 'all special privilege'?

"The growers of wheat are specifically permitted to combine, and even confederate, to advance the price of their product, while the consumers of wheat are as expressly denied the right to combine to advance the price of flour. Do you object to the 'special privilege' shown in this instance?

"The growers of cotton and of wool are even encouraged to combine to advance the price of their products, while the consumers are liable to imprisonment if they combine to advance of textiles. Do you object to this glaring discrimination as between American producers?

Where Labor Has Advantages.

"Specific legislation expressly permits producers of labor to combine, and also to confederate to advance wages, as well as to limit output, while the employers of labor are prohibited by stringent penal statutes from combining to advance the products of labor, or to limit output or to reduce wages. If you think either the Adamson bill, which permits the one, or the Sherman anti-trust bill that prohibits the other should be modified please state in what respect, and to what extent?

"The shipping bill that bears your name has as its principal object, if not its sole purpose, the granting to members of seamen unions of very extensive and far reaching special privileges. Does this glaring fact appeal to you as a reason why the law should be now repealed?

Shopmen's Seniority Claims.

"When the president or other official of a railroad resigns or voluntarily quits, and, that the public may be served, his place is filled, then if he wishes to come back he has to be content with the best opening available. Last summer, when the men in the railroad shops quit, and that the public might be served, their places were filled, and later these men wanted their places back with seniority rights restored, where did you and your group stand?

"I ask these questions, for I am convinced that a great number of thinking Americans, not easily swept off their feet, are watching you, and many who seem to think it an honor to enlist under your banner to learn if and whether you are seeking to solve problems, or simply to nurse dis-

'WOMEN'S K.K.K.' RAIDS STILL AND CAPTURES 2 MEN

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 24.—[United News.]—Dressed in flowing blue robes and hoods, with white crosses covering their breasts, the ladies of the Ku Klux Klan began first open activities here Wednesday night by capturing a still in operation in a house four miles south of the city.

The raid was spectacular. Twelve women, said to be an auxiliary body of the Ku Klux Klan, slipped quietly out of the city in automobiles, stole up to the house, overpowered two men still operators and held them until local authorities were called.

The women made the capture without male aid until the police arrived. The women held the men, according to the police, the four heaviest of the women sitting on them. The prisoners are in the city jail and the still will be used as evidence to convict them.

TURKS CALL 25 TROOP CLASSES

Mobilize Reserves to Meet Greek Menace.

BY FRANK WILLS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 24.—[Tribune Radio].—Smyrna reports that all the Turkish reserve classes, numbering twenty-five, have been called to the colors on account of the Greek concentrations in western Thrace.

While the allied high commissioners have not yet replied to the Angora government's protest regarding the Greek mobilization it is believed they will assure the Turks that the Hellenic forces will not be permitted to assume a new offensive.

Turk-British Crisis Grows.

The issue between England and Turkey is becoming more clearly defined with the declaration that France and Italy will not associate with Great Britain in forcing the Turks to sign the proposed Lausanne treaty.

The extent of the issue involved is indicated in the declaration of a delegation of twenty-one Indian leaders at Angora under Mehmed Vali Khan, who are openly proclaiming that their object is to solidify the Islamic world.

At the same time a third Egyptian delegation at Angora is venting radical views, seeking to get the Kemalists' support for their struggle to attain Egyptian independence.

See No Mosul Compromise.

LAUSANNE, Jan. 24.—[By the Associated Press.]—Great Britain's proposed appeal to the league of nations against Turkey, on the ground that the Turkish attitude on the Mosul question threatens to disturb international peace was the subject of a long conference today between Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, and Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league.

Both the British and the Turks were holding tenaciously tonight to their original positions. "No compromise appears possible.

In the meantime a complete agreement was reached today on the problem of the exchange of populations.

The allies have abandoned their demand for the expenses of the occupation of Turkey and have reduced the reparations bill to £15,000,000.

GHOSTS JUST A MENTAL JAG, IS SAVANT'S VIEW

New York, Jan. 24.—"Ectoplasm" is so unspiritual that it "can be chewed and swallowed," and spiritual photography is "a clever and ingenious fraud," Dr. Joseph Jastrow, professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin, said in an address today before the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

He characterized belief in ghosts as a sort of "verbal intoxication," declaring that people "always elaborate upon stories they hear regarding ghosts and spirits."

To gain any scientific attention today, he continued, a ghost must have modern attire. The old time ghostly shroud, he said, was a thing of the past, and the tendency today is to "substitute new words for old things and imagine they have a meaning"—hence, "ectoplasm."

STATE SENATE BACKS TRIAL OF HERRIN MINERS

Refuses to Qualify Brundage Fund.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—The Illinois senate today in an unmistakable manner expressed its sentiments on the issues of the Herrin massacre.

By a vote of 38 to 1, Senator William J. Sneed of Herrin, objecting, the senate declined to adopt an amendment to the $75,000 appropriation bill Attorney General Brundage asked to continue the prosecutions at Marion, which would have refused this sum to him until he had "first indicted and brought to trial men responsible for killing three union miners."

Another amendment directing the attorney general to report to Gov. Small an itemized account of his expenditure of the $75,000 was voted down without the formality of a roll call. The original bill was sent to third reading and probably will be passed without further opposition next week.

Thrash Out Controversy.

The whole Herrin-Brundage controversy was fought out in a debate between Senator Sneed, who is an official of the Mine Workers' union, and Senator Otis Glenn [Rep., Murphysboro], who assisted the attorney general in the Marion trial.

The verdict of the senate was impressive. Senator Clarence F. Buck [Rep., Monmouth] called up the attorney general's bill for third reading. Senator Chas. L. Wood [Rep., Keenes] offered the first amendment. This reduced the $75,000 to $25,000. He wanted to know if the coal operators contributed anything to the prosecution fund.

Senator Buck replied that the only fund which the attorney general had was $25,000 from the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. It was a blot on Illinois, he said, that any organization should have to contribute. He called attention to the large sum which the defense had raised through assessment of coal miners' wages.

Says Union Men Died First.

Senator Harold Kessinger [Rep., Aurora] said he would vote all the money needed by the attorney general to prosecute the murderers.

"The charge has been made," he said, "that the murderers of the first three men killed, three union men, have not been indicted and brought to trial. It would be a serious condition if this accusation were true."

The Wood amendment was defeated by a vote of 26 to 9. The nine voting to cut the appropriation were Senators Boyd, Jewell, Meentz, Piotrowski, N. E. Smith, Sneed, Telford, Van Lent, Wood.

Sneed Presents Amendment.

Senator Sneed then presented his amendment which says:

"No part of this fund [$75,000] shall be used for the prosecution of the union coal miners involved in the so called Herrin disaster until after the attorney general has had indicted and brought to trial the fomenters and perpetrators of the original killing of the union coal miners, and the attorney general is hereby directed to first secure the indictment and prosecution of the gunmen and those responsible for their importation into Williamson county who first slew union coal miners.

"The attorney general shall submit to the general assembly within thirty days after passage of this act a report of all expenditures by him in the employment of special investigators and state whether any of such investigators have been members of the invading army of Williamson county.

"The attorney general is directed to report to the assembly under what authority he solicited, secured, and received contributions from private sources."

Sneed Defends Gov. Small.

Senator Buck moved to place the Sneed amendment on the table, whereupon Senator Sneed delivered a prepared address in its defense.

He asserted the amendment was not introduced in enmity to Mr. Brundage. "I would not stand in the way of the execution of the law," he said. "We have the right to say to the attorney general that an individual shall not be given preference in the execution of the law.

"Much has been said about Gov. Small vetoing the appropriation. In my judgment the governor protected the taxpayers and his acts will receive the approval of the people.

"No one objects to the passage of this bill, but we believe justice and law must be enforced equitably. We know that W. J. Lester has gone from

60 Companies Fight 2 Fires at Same Time

Two fires which broke out at almost the same time near midnight caused damage estimated from $250,000 to $450,000. At one time sixty fire companies, exclusive of trucks and squads, were engaged in fighting the flames.

The first fire was in a five story brick building at 741-745 West Van Buren street and caused damage of $150,000. Adjoining buildings were threatened and a 4-11 alarm, closely followed by three special calls, was sent in.

Fire Wall Halts Flames.

A fireproof wall between the burning building and a six story structure occupied by the Ackerman-Quigley Printing company, in which 100 men were at work, saved the latter from destruction, according to Assistant Fire Marshal Edward F. Buckley.

The Fischer-Hayes Rope and Steel company, the Jaffe Radiator company, the American Vulcanized Fibre company, and the Manus Candy company were tenants of the burned building.

Linseed Plant Burns.

While the firemen were still fighting this blaze fire started in the plant of the American Linseed company's plant at 2209 Lumber street, a four story structure. A 4-11 and seven special alarms were sent in, as the flames threatened a large elevator to the north.

The building was destroyed with a loss variously estimated at from $100,000 to $300,000. After two hours' work the fire officials reported they would be able to save the elevator and other buildings of the company.

Oak Park High Boys Tell of 'Puppy Revels'

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Tales of indiscretions and petting parties indulged in by at least sixteen Oak Park High school boys and girls have aroused the suburb to an investigation of the youth life of the suburb.

As a direct result of the story of a "wild party" attended by eight high school couples reported to Principal M. R. McDaniel last Thursday two boys were expelled by the school board on Monday, a third awaits the findings of a special session of the board, and the other thirteen are absent from classes.

Students Aid in Quiz.

As indirect results of the startling revelations seven upper classmen and representative men, including Edgar "Farmer" Madsen, 20 Central avenue, River Forest, captain of the football team, were summoned to a conference with Harry Hobbins, president of the school board, and Principal McDaniel. The boys, it is reported, agreed to aid the authorities in getting at the facts and freeing from implied blame students who may have been wrongfully reported in the "wild party." They seek to "clear the name of the school."

Frank Spencer, sophomore and member of the high school orchestra, was host at the party, which was an innovation in youthful recreation. Spencer's parents are both employed during the day, and the first floor flat at 106 Home avenue has been a rendezvous for congenial classmates as they abandoned geometry for merriment.

Only Students Attended.

In every case it was high school girls, invited by high school boys, who made up the party. They found that the informal "fratority" provided entertainment more exhilarating than the basketball games and discussion clubs sponsored by the school. It was even more thrilling to indulge in somewhat unrestrained dances to the strains of a victrola than to listen to the new records at the music store, a favorite after school diversion for some of the more sophisticated girls.

One afternoon about three weeks ago, Spencer passed along the word that there was to be a "real party." "Only girls who were wise" were given a bid. Most of the girls were from the freshman class. The majority of the boys were sophomores.

Blames the Girls.

"There was no hootch at this party," insisted Herbert Watson, 738 N. Grove avenue, who, with Spencer, was expelled. "I went; but I didn't do anything but dance. But the girls, they were there, I'll say they were."

Watson, who was offered $50 by investigators but refused to reveal the names of his companions, declares that his father will give the board one week in which to clear him from wrong charges. "My father wants to know why the others didn't get expelled and I got it," he said last night.

It is the attitude of the father, E. E. Watson, which is thought to have prompted the school board's confer-

PARIS, Jan. 25, 4 a. m.—A general strike of German miners, railwaymen, boatmen, telegraphers, and civil officials began at midnight in the Ruhr.

The order was flashed throughout the region occupied by the French the minute the news of the conviction of the Ruhr magnates, tried at Mayence, reached the committee of labor unions sitting permanently at Elberfeld.

The strike of 35,000 railway men began at 8 o'clock, the workers leaving their jobs as the trains reached their destinations. At midnight not a single train was running.

Wire Service Collapses.

The postal and telegraph services gradually collapsed during the afternoon, upon sharp orders from Berlin. The French are only able to maintain a few military telegraph lines.

The boatmen had been deserting their work all day Tuesday and Wednesday, and the cessation was complete at midnight.

Berlin's Biggest Blow.

The civil officials, particularly the tax collectors, have closed their offices and gone on holidays.

Three-fourths of the miners are expected to strike this morning, as they promised in case of the conviction of the magnates. In any case the mines will be tied up in less than a week with the railways stopped.

The general strike is the last desperate blow from Berlin to force the French to abandon their occupation of the Ruhr.

Gen. Weygand, Marshal Foch's right hand man, who will be the French high commissioner in the Ruhr, was ordered to proceed to Essen last night by the French government. He was accompanied by Yves Letroquer, French minister of public works. The exploitation of the Ruhr mines has been entrusted to the experts of the ministry of public works.

MOB FRENCH OFFICERS

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MAYENCE, Jan. 24.—Riots in which killings were narrowly averted occurred here tonight when huge crowds of angry Germans ran amuck in the streets because fines were imposed on Fritz Thyssen and other Ruhr magnates.

French cavalry finally dispersed the rioters and is now patrolling the city.

Thousands of Germans, mostly youths, began marching through the streets singing patriotic songs, about 8 o'clock. The objective of all was the hotels where the French officers are quartered.

In front of the Holland hotel the crowd spied two French infantry officers and began booing. Hotel officers succeeded in saving them from molestation. A score of French officers were in the dining room at the time.

Insult French Officers.

Attempting to follow the two young officers, the rioters broke the glass doors of the hotel and some of the bravest ventured inside, returning with palms and shrubs as trophies, at which the crowd hurrahed.

Some Germans climbed to the windows of the office of the porter, where there were some French officers. The rioters insulted the officers to their faces, but the latter ignored them, keeping remarkably cool. Hotel employés again saved the Frenchmen.

The crowds took up the march, singing "Victory Over France." A French officer alighted from a street car with his wife, but the crowd did not molest them.

Cavalry Scatters Rioters.

A few minutes later, while passing the Hotel Grande Bretagne, the rioters, angered by French and British flags under a glass case in front of the hotel, smashed the case and also twelve windows.

The alarm had been given at the French barracks by this time, however, and a squadron of cavalry cantered up the street, followed by other cavalry patrols.

The crowds gradually dispersed before the troops and at midnight the city was quiet.

Magnates Fined $20,000.

The six German industrialists were fined an aggregate of 307,000 francs (roughly $20,000) for failure to deliver reparations of coal to France. They were acquitted on the more serious charge of interfering with public services and refusal to obey the orders of Gen. Degoutte, commander-in-chief of the French forces in the occupied area.

The six men fined were:

FRITZ THYSSEN, who represents his father, August Thyssen, Germany's second richest man.

F. WUESTENHOEFFER, general manager of the Essener Bergwekasverein-Koenig Wilhelm.

German Officials Also Convicted.

At another trial a French military court convicted Dr. von Rarffersen of the German mines administration and Dr. Schultius of the German finance department. Both were sentenced to a year in prison, but the sentences were suspended.

The industrialist prisoners did not pay the fines, but appealed to a higher French military court in the Rhineland for a new trial. They were released on their own recognizance by agreeing to remain in their homes in the Ruhr within reach of the French authorities.

Tonight after a quiet dinner at the Central hotel they returned to Essen, where they were welcomed at a select dinner at which they could say just what they pleased about the French.

Will Not Obey French.

Despite their experience of six days in jail they remain firm in their refusal to coöperate with the French as long as Berlin maintains its present attitude towards the reparations question. Before the week is over they may expose themselves to the same charge again.

Fritz Thyssen, when interviewed at dinner, was reluctant to comment on the sentence, but said he was sending an attorney to Paris to appeal to the reparations commission.

"It is not a question of prison or a fine but it is a question of principle whether a man can be punished in his own country by a military court for obeying an order of his own government," he continued. "The decision of the court does not change the situation and we shall continue to follow instructions from Berlin and the people of the Ruhr will support us."

Did Not Enjoy Straw Mattresses.

The Germans did not relish their days in their cells, where they had only straw mattresses to sleep on, but the guards were courteous "although they had strict orders from their officers."

While the president of the court was reading the findings the song "Deutschland Uber Alles" was sung by thousands who were awaiting the verdict in the rain in the streets. This represents truly the spirit of the occupied regions which has been aroused by the French advance. The passiveness has developed into active antagonism.

In a Court of Bayonets.

The trial of the defiant German industrialists was held in a military court bristling with French bayonets. From the entrance of the palace of justice to the Schwurerichts the path was marked with French infantry, the tips of their bayonets almost touching the rims of their steel helmets. Ten of them, with the gendarmerie, were in the courtroom itself.

A score of French officers stood among the 100 German and some foreign correspondents inside the door. And on the long bench where usually members of the German judiciary sat was Col. Debeu and seven other members of the military tribunal.

At the extreme of this legal throne of the occupationary forces were the judge advocate and soldier clerks. Opposite were six guards, in helmets and with their bayonets fixed, who sat stiffly on another bench. Between them and the court were two round tables with French correspondents at one and the German counsel at the other. The prisoners, appearing as though they had just come from their offices, sat behind their lawyers. In the rear of the guards was the clerical staff of the German attorneys.

Gazes Into Faces of Hate.

Behind them was Col. Debeu, who looked into 400 German faces, unanimously and openly hostile and hating with a malignity that would make a student of physiognomy shudder. This intense feeling so pervaded the chamber that it almost overcame the effect of the display of the power and pomp of the French army.

The prisoners entered with six guards. Capt. Baden, the judge advocate, read the charges, which were translated into German, although four of the six clearly understood them. The president of the court called on Fritz Thyssen to plead first. Light applause followed the opening statement.

"I am a German," he said, "and plead not guilty." The others followed his formula.

Spectator Interrupts Attorney.

The French produced two witnesses to make their case and the judge advocate began his closing argument. During the interpretation of this a man among the spectators shouted, hysterically: "I want to get out and I can't get out."

"Throw him out," Col Debeu said, and the soldiers hustled him into the corridor.

Later a French interpreter was interrupted again, this time by a fraulein stenographer of the German staff, who said "Nein, nein." The Frenchman repeated and corrected his statement.

The French furnished a supplementary counsel for the accused, on their request, but his closing arguments were strongly denounced by Dr. Grimm, chief counsel for the magnates.

Admits Extenuating Circumstances.

Closing for the French, the judge advocate admitted that there were extenuating circumstances in that the accused obeyed the order from Berlin, but he asserted that the alleged offense deserved punishment regardless of this.

The court deliberated for forty minutes, during which time the prisoners retired to an anteroom. They did not reappear when the court reconvened. Before Col. Debeu read the finding Dr. Grimm asked the spectators not to express their feelings.

As Dr. Grimm and the magnates appeared outside the palace the crowd of several thousand cheered them.

Belgians Send New Regiment.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 24.—[By the Associated Press.]—A fresh regiment at full war strength left Antwerp today to reinforce the Belgians in the Ruhr. The men were loudly cheered as they departed. A strong detachment of railroad men has also been sent to the Ruhr.

Begin Cutting Off Ruhr.

ESSEN, Jan. 24.—[United News.]—The French plan to cut the Ruhr off from the unoccupied portion of Germany tomorrow morning, according to all indications.

Germans Try to Enlist.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MUNSTER, Jan. 24.—Ten thousand young men from the occupied region swarmed to the 6th division headquarters of the reichswehr seeking to reenlist following an announcement in a Gelsenkirchen Communist paper this morning that the government was offering a bonus of 8,000 marks for recruits to defend the fatherland from invasion.

Gen. von Lossburg, commanding the reichswehr, denied seeking recruits, asserting that the affair was a machination of the French to foment trouble and to excuse their advance.

It is rumored that Herr Escherich, the organizer of the Orgesch in Bavaria, is here seeking to organize a corps of the freiwilligen—volunteers—to reinforce the reichswehr in case the French move forward.

Monarchists Are Active.

[Copyright: 1923: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Reactionary elements everywhere in Germany are making the most of the situation in the Ruhr for their own purposes.

Count Westarp told a meeting at Kiel yesterday that the monarchist agitation must be continued until "the watch on the Rhine" meant again what it implied under Wilhelm II. Though Capt. Ehrhardt of "Kapp putsch" fame is in prison, the brigade that bears his name is evidently preparing to mobilize. Its Bremen branch has sent out secret circular letters to all members asking them to report at headquarters immediately.

Hamburg reactionaries have come out boldly in an advertisement in the Hamburg Correspondent asking officers, men, and engineers to report immediately to the "German league" if they wish to save their country from its present peril. Similar appeals have been spread from Munich.

NATIONAL STRENGTH

There is an old saying that the Roman soldier thrashed the rest of the world as long as he lived on beans.

But when he took to ducks' heads, peacocks' brains and nightingales' tongues the rest of the world thrashed him.

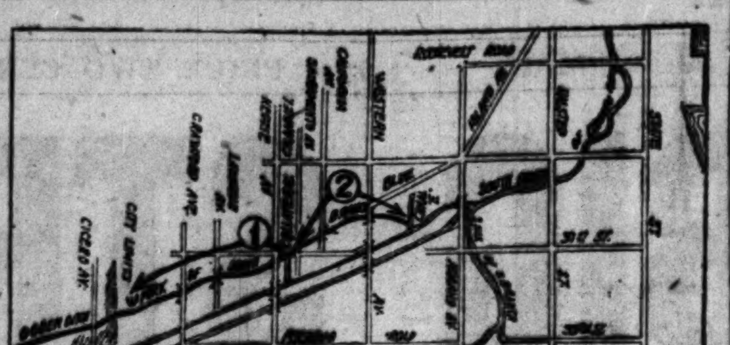
NEW STEPS TOWARD A GREATER CHICAGO



Congress last week declared the west fork of the south branch of the Chicago river non-navigable as far east as the collateral channel, just east of Kedzie avenue. This action makes possible the filling of this open sewer. Ald. Charles S. Eaton, chairman of the council committee on efficiency, economy, and rehabilitation, is now urging that the rest of the west fork, at least as far as Western avenue and preferably as far as canal "E," also be declared non-navigable to enable it all to be filled and an extension of Blue Island avenue over the approximate line of the fill to be constructed. This development, it is pointed out, would give a much needed new thoroughfare to the southwest part of the city.

The accompanying map shows the territory affected.

1. The section of the west fork of the south branch which has been declared non-navigable.

2. The section which must be declared non-navigable before it can be filled and crowned by an extension southwestward of Blue Island avenue.

U. S. WILL RECALL ALL "OBSERVES" IN RUHR DISTRICT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Press reports that an American army officer attached to a Belgian unit in the Ruhr had been fired at by snipers prompted Secretary Weeks to inquire by cable of Maj. Gen. Allen today whether any American officers had been on duty with the French or Belgian occupation forces.

The war department has no knowledge that American officers have been observing the operations either as military observers or as liaison officers. In his cable Secretary Weeks directed that if American officers were on duty of this character, the should be recalled at once.

It was said at the war department that there is no necessity for liaison arrangements, and that in the present situation in the Ruhr it seems highly undesirable that American army officers should be with the French or Belgian troops in any capacity.

BORAH'S ATTACKS STIR ANGER OF FRANCE'S TIGER

[Copyright: 1923: By United News.]

PARIS, Jan. 24.—"If Senator Borah feels that way about it, why doesn't he declare war on France?"

Georges Clemenceau, France's wartime premier, fairly snorted these words when the United News correspondent showed him the cable report of Borah's attack on France for invading the Ruhr valley to collect reparations.

Then the Tiger, who was interrupted as he was leaving his Paris home, garbed in his dinner clothes and the old fatigue hat that he wore through the trenches and all over America, grew more calm.

"Anyhow, I'll not concern myself with Borah," he declared. "I know him and refuse to have any controversy with him, Lloyd George, or anybody else.

"I'm a private citizen, not belonging to the government—not even to the civil service. When I went to America it was only by virtue of the right of any private citizen to travel abroad and to speak his mind."

POLAND TELLS GERMANY IT HAS NO WAR SCHEMES

Will Remain Neutral in the Ruhr Quarrel.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Poland today gave the German foreign office official assurances that the movement of troops from the Lithuanian frontier has no significance and that Poland has no bellicose intentions. Warsaw announced that it is preserving the strictest neutrality regarding the Ruhr occupation, and promised to aid in the punishment of Polish nationalists who may cause any trouble in Upper Silesia.

The proprietor of the hotel at Munich where the allied commissions are stopping decided this morning they could stay, but he announced that the members would have to cook their own meals and tidy their rooms, as no servants were willing to wait on them. The shops there are refusing to sell to the allies. The members will probably leave, as the Bavarian government has warned them that the feeling against them is so high that it would not be able to guarantee their security and advised their departure.

Do Not Fear Loss of Ruhr.

Despite a confident belief that the erection of customs barriers separating the Ruhr from Germany proper is preparatory to the formation of an economic buffer state between France and Germany, the government is still determined to continue its fight through passive resistance against French occupation.

The establishment of a buffer state under French protection is not regarded as a new idea, mention first being made during the reign of grandchildren of Charlemagne and movements for the reëstablishment of this have fluctuated with the wars which have been waged since then.

Dusseldorf already has announced that French bankers are due at Essen to discuss the introduction of new currency for the district.

It is believed that the buffer state as planned by the French includes the Rhineland, the Saar, the Ruhr, and the Palatinate. The inclusion of this territory under French protection paves the way for direct and unhampered communications between the coal fields of the Ruhr and the rich iron fields of Alsace and Lorraine, giving the French a dominant position in the steel industry of Europe.

More Coal Slips into Germany.

The German coal situation, it is stated, is better than the French suspect, while French attempts to starve the German workers into submission are regarded as certain to react against Premier Poincare.

The press announces that a certain unit of the Ruhr border was closed this morning. However, certain tracks were not guarded, and coal by the trainload is slipping into Germany.

An investigation shows that the steel and iron works of Germany are amply provided with coal to withstand a siege of three months. The Upper Silesian industries state that the Polish miners are standing beside the German workmen and that no industries there are closing. The Saxon mills are getting coal from Bohemia.

The movement for aiding the Ruhr workers is increasing daily. The central relief committee with offices at Hamburg has sent 500 boxes of goods, valued at 75,000,000 marks, to the mayor of Essen. Government employés are now offering 5 per cent of their wages. The labor unions in the Ruhr are organizing a direct courier service to Berlin.

PRINCIPAL DIES IN SCHOOL FROM SUDDEN STROKE

Falls as He Enters Room in Englewood Bldg.

While on his way to address a class, William Radebaugh, 68 years old, 6537 Perry avenue, principal of the Kershaw school, 64th street and Union avenue, fell dead of heart disease yesterday afternoon.

He collapsed just as he was entering Room 1 and ten minutes later was pronounced dead by a neighboring physician.

Mr. Radebaugh was principal of the Kershaw school for fifteen years and was recognized as an able executive and instructor. He had previously served as principal of the Webster school and the Harvard school and had also been a professor of history in the Chicago Normal college.

Mr. Radebaugh was a member of the Chicago Historical society and the author of several historical books and reviews.

At the request of Englewood business men, whose children were pupils of Mr. Radebaugh, funeral arrangements have not been definitely settled. They propose that the body of the principal lie in state in the school. Interment will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Irene Radebaugh, a daughter, and two sons.

GEN. H. T. ALLEN.

The Stars and Stripes, which for four years was the emblem of American fair play in the hearts of the Germans, was reverently folded away at noon today. Four and a half hours later two trains bearing the 8th infantry steamed out of the Coblenz yards and the American occupation of German soil was over.

It was a simple ceremony, this godspeeding the American troops.

No Cheers; Many Tears.

There was no cheering, only a wistful look on the faces and many tears in the eyes, as the stalwart troops of the 8th, headed by their band, marched into the square in front of the station, where they were greeted by a small detachment of English and a handful of Belgian troops and fifty French officers.

Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen and his staff had arrived a quarter of an hour before the troops. They were followed by Lord Kilmarnock, the British member of the Rhineland commission, and Baron Rolin Jacque Myns, the Belgian member, to whom the sight of the lowering of the American flag from Ehrenbreitstein had been too painful to witness.

Colors Lowered with Dignity.

The ceremonies at Ehrenbreitstein at noon were dignified by their simplicity. The turning over of this historic and picturesque fort to the French army occupied less than half and hour.

As the last notes of "retreat" blown by an American bugler echoed back from the ravines the French and American bands burst into the strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner." Slowly and almost haltingly the enormous flag which graced the staff above Ehrenbreitstein was lowered by four enlisted men, erstwhile members of a machine gun battalion which wrote its name in history at Chateau Thierry. They were Sergts. Dewey Kitner, Lester Kelbaugh, Charles Long, and Frank S. Esley.

BRITAIN AT LOSS AS HOW TO ACT IN RUHR CRISIS

Position of Troops on Rhine Critical.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Jan. 24.—[Tribune Radio.]—The position of the British troops on the Rhine is becoming so critical that it has been decided to hold a cabinet meeting to consider the whole question of the British attitude in view of the new situation created by the French action. The meeting may be held this week, or it may be postponed until Stanley Baldwin's return from Washington, when he will be able to report on the American official opinion on the Ruhr situation.

In the meantime Prime Minister Bonar Law is carefully sounding out British opinion. He is conferring daily with the political leaders in all parts of the country, and so far, it is understood, he has gained the impression that London and south England are disposed to leave the troops on the Rhine while the danger of a serious involvement is slight.

Lord Derby is said to have expressed Lancashire's view that Great Britain should pull out of its continental entanglements immediately.

At the personal direction of Mr. Bonar Law, Lord Crewe protested to Premier Poincare about the arrest of German officials in the British zone, which has led the Germans to believe that Great Britain is approving the action of the French. Lord Crewe conveyed a hint diplomatically that withdrawal must follow if the incident is repeated.

M. Poincare promised that the French would do nothing to make the position of the British on the Rhine more difficult than now.

COMMITTEE OF 15 AGENTS GOT VICE GRAFT, JURY TOLD

New 'Houses' Opened as Old Ones Are Closed.

Investigators for the Committee of Fifteen, the citizens' organization formed as an independent suppressor of vice, have solicited and accepted bribes in return for protection granted vice dives, keepers of these resorts testified yesterday before the grand jury.

MORRIS I. GREEN.

The jury, in the most productive day of its existence, also heard from Morris I. Green, attorney who admitted that he represented an average of fifty vice house keepers a month, a complete recital of the methods through which bonds are furnished and fines paid for inmates and keepers of dives as fast as they appear in the Morals court. In most cases, he said, the man paying the fine or furnishing the bond doesn't even know his clients until he gets to court.

Woman Keeper of Houses Talks.

Edith Ivy, keeper of syndicate controlled houses in Grand boulevard, Indiana avenue, and Ellis avenue, furnished the most damaging testimony against the Committee of Fifteen investigators.

"Some time ago," Miss Ivy said, "George Haddock, chief investigator for the Committee of Fifteen, and another investigator whose name I have not learned, came to one of my houses. They said they had been sent by 'Dago Frank' Lovece, 2346 State street. I've known him for a long time. They said that unless I came through with weekly graft the Committee of Fifteen would close my place. Haddock said he must have $75 a month, while the other fellow wanted $20 a week.

Had to Pay Police.

"I told them I already had to pay too much to the police and couldn't afford to give them anything. They said they'd come back. I had paid policemen on beats covering my houses more than $500 in a few months, besides meeting demands from syndicate collectors that I give half of my profits to them.

"The Committee of Fifteen investigators went around to all the houses. Other keepers told me they had 'kicked in' to keep them quiet."

An attempt by two investigators to collect bribes from Violet Phipps, reputed to be the best protected housekeeper in the city and owner of a place in the 2400 block on South Michigan avenue where men in evening clothes are habitués, was revealed to an investigator yesterday.

Their Demand Refused.

Two Committee of Fifteen investigators demanded $500 from her a short time ago, according to the statements made to those connected with the investigation. She dickered with them a bit, finally telling them to come back. Then she went to a city official, who is reported to be her protector, and demanded an explanation. A dictaphone was installed, a transcript of the investigators' demands taken, and they were politely told by Violet to get out and stay out or they'd be exposed. They left.

How Lawyer Was Hired.

Green was summoned as a result of testimony by Virginia Brown, housekeeper, who a year ago was head of a missionary society in a southern city. She was arrested Sunday night at 118 South Halsted, a syndicate house. Monday morning, in Morals court, Green, who had never seen her before, told her he had been instructed to represent her and seven girls taken in the raid. He entered pleas of guilty and paid about $200 in fines, borrowing the money from Ike Roderick, who supplies bonds for most of the women brought into court.

Green at first refused to say who employed him in the Brown case, but finally named Salvadore Muzzio, a west side Italian.

"I handle about fifty such cases a month," he told the jury. "Frequently I don't know the persons until I go to court and ask for them. I am simply employed by some other person and told to look after certain persons when their cases are called. The fines are refunded by my employers."

Green to Be Recalled.

Answering questions by jurors, Green said he was not related to State Senator Adolph Marks, but knew him and had worked with him. Marks handles many cases of prositutes in Morals court, according to Judge Trude. Green will be recalled Friday when the jury will attempt to learn the names of all of his employers and ask him whether it is true that he is the chief attorney for the west side vice syndicate. He lives at 2913 Washington boulevard.

Thrasher Not Worried.

Samuel P. Thrasher, active head of the Committee of Fifteen, said he did not "take any stock in statements from a prostitute accusing a man of Haddock's reputation of seeking graft."

"Haddock has been in my employ four years, and I believe him to be an honest, trustworthy investigator," he continued. "Reports are frequently circulated that our men are taking bribes, but no one has ever proved it. If any one can prove that George Haddock or any other person connected with the Committee of Fifteen is grafting I will see that the guilty person is discharged."

Mr. Thrasher said he might have something further to say after learning full details concerning Edith Ivy and her charges.

MAYOR SAYS LITTLE

Mayor Thompson was asked yesterday if he thought the investigation under the state's attorney was "on the square."

"I don't know anything about that," he answered.

"Do you think there is much vice in the city?" was the next query.

"I don't know," replied the mayor. "What does the crime commission say?" The crime commission takes no cognizance of vice.

"Do you approve Dr. Bundesen's campaign against venereal diseases?"

"That's up to the people," was the answer.

Twenty-five policemen are ready to go before the jury tomorrow. Many have been on the force only a few months and are not expected to know much about vice. Others are said to be ready to testify they never saw any vice conditions, although on beats where known houses of prostitution exist.

"You keep away from the door of my private office," said the judge, finding Johnson there. "I don't want eavesdroppers and tale bearers around, no matter whom they represent.

AID FOR WOMEN

Women and girls discharged from the Lawndale hospital as cured of venereal diseases and others who have been thrown out of work by the clamping of the vice lid on the city are to be given a chance to "go straight" by the Salvation army and the Juvenile Protective association.

Acting on Health Commissioner Bundesen's statement that women discharged from the hospital have little chance to avoid a return to resort life, the Salvation army announced yesterday that if application is made, the women will be taken into army homes until positions are found for them. The offer of the J. P. A. is similar.

TRY TO IMPEACH STATE WITNESS IN MILLER CASE

Efforts to impeach the testimony of Dr. Samuel Foman, witness for the state in the trial of W. H. H. Miller, former director of the department of registration and education under Gov. Small, and two co-defendants, were made by attorneys for the defense of the three men yesterday.

Miller, with his son-in-law, W. K. Fries, and Dr. N. Odean Bourque, are on trial charged with conspiracy to sell doctors' and pharmacists' licenses to persons unqualified to receive them. The case against William Broniarczyk, indicted with them, was nolle-prossed yesterday.

Each one of the defense witnesses told the jury they paid Foman sums of money ranging from $50 to $350 for "getting them through the examination of the state board of medical examiners." None of them ever were issued a license to practice, they said.

$50,000 VOTED TO LIGHT PORTABLE SCHOOL HOUSES

The 1923 school budget, already estimated at $5,000,000 more than last year's, was swelled again yesterday by the Lundin-Thompson trustees, when an appropriation of $50,000 was voted for lighting facilities in portable schools.

For months, it was stated, pupils in these buildings have been subjected to serious eyestrain. The portables are makeshifts, designed to relieve the situation brought about by diversion of funds that should have gone into new buildings.

Trustees Severinghaus and Davis put through a motion to pay Fred W. Sadler, former "efficiency engineer," $376 as salary for services after he was fired by other board members following his indictment last September.

THOMPSON'S HAT GETS IN RING VIA CITY HALL PROXY

Mayor in Race, but Still Wears Old Mask.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Mayor Thompson's "entry" into the Republican primary race yesterday was carefully staged so as to leave the exit clear and wide open.

It was handled in a way that will permit him to announce, if he so desires:

"I did not put myself in the race. It was my friends. They have urged me strongly, but I cannot consent. I withdraw my name."

The first bit of staging was the setting for the weekly roundup of ward leaders for the presentation of "pledge card" reports. The committeemen were admitted to the mayor's inner office and their meeting was held there, but Thompson remained in the small private room and did not come into the session.

Breen Handy Man with Hat.

James W. Breen, first assistant corporation counsel, presided. The cards were checked up and the total of 227,992 was announced. Attorney Breen indicated that that was all, but some of the committeemen showed signs of impatience.

"But what about the mayor?" they asked. "Has he announced himself?"

"He doesn't need to," was the substanace of Breen's answer. "We all know he is. The petitions will be ready for you this afternoon."

And the petitions were given out—not at the mayor's office, which might be construed as a definite commitment to his candidacy, but from the organization's headquarters in the Hotel Sherman.

Still Wears Old Mask.

The mayor himself indicated to a representative of THE TRIBUNE later that he did not consider his own position altered in any way by the appearance of his petitions.

"Will you go into the primary?" he was asked.

"I haven't decided that yet," he replied.

But the appearance of his petitions is believed to have had a definite strategic purpose. Ward committeemen have been insisting for some time that Thompson must be "regular," and that they won't be with him as an independent running against a Republican party nominee.

Aldermen Demand Showdown.

Now a number of Thompsonite aldermen have insisted that he must go into the primary to aid their chances.

These aldermen insist that a refusal by Thompson to go into the primaries will constitute desertion of them. They say they must have the support of the city hall vote or they are lost and that if Thompson isn't in the race on Feb. 27 the city hall vote will not turn out.

Thompson and his advisers have no intention of adding the weight of any aldermanic candidacies to his already heavy burdens if he does go into the primary. They intend to concentrate everything on the mayoralty and let their council supporters fight their own battles as best as they can.

But with the present implication that Thompson may go into the preliminary battle his advisers think they will be able to satisfy the protesting aldermen and committeemen until it will be too late for them to switch over to the Brundage-Crowe-Deneen alliance.

As a matter of fact the best informed now believe that if Thompson runs he will go as an independent in the election contest under some newly created party label. One theory is that this label will be one designed as available for a Hearst-Hylan third party. This would be considered another bid for the fast dwindling Hearst newspaper support upon which Thompson has counted materially.

Prepare Big Lueder Blowout.

Probably the first public impetus to the candidacy of Arthur C. Lueder, the anti-ring Republican standard bearer, will be imparted at a big reunion of the old Twenty-fifth ward forces next Monday night.

The Regular Republican clubs of the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth wards comprising the territory of the old Twenty-fifth, will give a joint dinner in honor of the postmaster at the Sheridan Plaza hotel that night. He is now a resident of the Forty-eighth but the leaders of the old ward organization are anxious to make the first blowout a big success so the two wards are coöperating.

Both the ball room and the orange room, having a combined capacity of 500 will be used and in addition to the banquet there will be musical numbers, community singing and dancing.

Judge William E. Dever, Democratic organization entry, has made no speaking engagements and probably will conduct a quiet primary campaign.

BRIDE VANISHES AS MYSTERY CALL HINTS ACCIDENT

Informer Declares Her Dead; Spouse Also Gone

Police of Chicago, Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Ont., last night were searching for Mrs. Grace Reichen Hills, 23 years old, 1944 Newport avenue, Chicago, daughter of a fire department captain, who has been missing since Jan. 15.

On that date, when supposedly she was nursing her husband through an attack of pneumonia in Detroit, her parents were informed by an anonymous telephone call that she had been fatally injured in an automobile accident in Chicago.

A search of hospitals here has failed to reveal the woman as an accident victim, the police say, and there is no report to indicate there was such an accident. Police records in Detroit and Windsor also fail to disclose any report of an accident involving the death or serious injury of a woman.

Missing From Detroit Hotel.

Frederick Reichen, Mrs. Hills' father, left for Detroit as soon as he was notified that telegrams to her address there had failed to reach her. There he discovered that she checked out of the Wolverine hotel several days ago, leaving no forwarding address. Mr. Reichen believes that his daughter is the victim of foul play, basing his supposition on the mysterious telephone call.

The day of the reported accident Mrs. Reichen received a telegram from her daughter sent from Detroit. It was one of a series reporting Hills' recovery from pneumonia and it said a letter was following and would arrive the next day. Instead came the anonymous telephone call.

Hastens to Answer Sick Call.

Mrs. Hills was married to J. J. Hills on Jan. 1. Shortly after the wedding Hills, who said he was a salesman for a spring manufacturing company, started east on business. The next news the Reichen family had of him was that he was ill of pneumonia in Detroit. Mrs. Hills hurried to his bedside. He also has disappeared.

At the home of Mrs. Hills' brother, Harry M. Reichen, 3438 North Seeley avenue, no effort was made to conceal the family's concern over the mystery.

ROUGED YOUTHS HELD AS BANDITS; USE WATER GUNS

Two "sheik" bandits, armed with powder puffs, lip sticks, rouge, and 25 cent water pistols, were arrested last night while attempting to hold up a taxicab at Eddy street and Cicero avenue and confessed to twenty similar robberies since Jan. 1, the police say.

The two boys, who gave their names as Jack Loveland and Russell Sherrow, both 21 years old and living at 60 West Erie street, implicated a 17 year old girl, Alma Kennedy, who lives "somewhere in South Chicago." The girl helped them in the robbery of a taxicab driver on the night of Jan. 21, they said.

this Complete Dental Treatment is scientifically correct

TWO dental cleansers—two totally different cleansers are needed, say dentists. The Complete Dental Treatment consists of a "paste" and a "liquid".

Tooth paste removes the ugly yellow film, uncovering the beautiful glistening-white enamel. Liquid Antiseptic purifies the crevices between teeth where tooth brush cannot reach but where food particles lodge, ferment and form acids of decay. Your teeth are not completely protected unless you are USING BOTH!

Costs More and Goes Farther

THE milk alone in every loaf of WARD'S VITOVIM BREAD costs more than the best family flour that goes in the loaf. And then there is the cost of the Vitamins, extracted from the wheat heart at great cost; and after that the mineral salts and the added protein.

No wonder it costs a few pennies more per loaf. But if it cost twice the price of ordinary bread it would still be the cheapest and best of all breads; in fact, the cheapest and best all-around food. After all, bread is not just bread. Stop eating bread just as a filler. Choose your bread with intelligence. When you buy, specify —WARD'S VITOVIM BREAD. Increase your intake; cut down on more expensive foods, and you will save considerable money on your food bill, and provide your family with

WILKERSON RAPS DRY AGENTS FOR "LIQUOR PARTY"

Sees "Countess" Liable as Lawbreaker.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Federal Judge Wilkerson's hearing of the government's case against the Green Mill Gardens yesterday was enlivened by the jurist's pointed criticism of Miss Laura McClaskey, woman prohibition agent, and the mysterious appearance and disappearance of Ray O'Keefe, whose name entered the case as a "shakedown" artist. Assistant Attorney General George H. Wilson is seeking to close the resort under the "nuisance clause" of the federal prohibition act.

Judge Assails Witnesses.

In discussing the credibility of the government's principal witnesses, "Count" William D. Yaselli and Miss McClaskey, who, as the "countess," assisted Yaselli in his Chicago investigations. Judge Wilkerson arose from his chair and said:

"Yesterday a woman in department of the government charged with enforcement of law came on the stand, and, in apparent satisfaction with her conduct, told of an expedition in which she was the companion of a distillery agent and a former prohibition director. She told of helping consume liquor which, she said, she saw the distillery agent buy at $20 a quart. Was she not a part of a conspiracy, the penalty for which is two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $5,000? Does not such behavior affect the credibility of the witness when she openly shows her contempt for the prohibition law?"

In the Tuesday session of the hearing Judge Wilkerson when he heard O'Keefe's name mentioned in connection with charges of attempted bribery made against Yaselli, said the court had been looking for the professional bondsmen for three weeks. Those who were asked as to O'Keefe's whereabouts said they hadn't seen him for at least three months.

Witness Found to Be Missing.

Yesterday, to the apparent surprise of every one except "Count" Yaselli, O'Keefe strode into the courtroom and volunteered to testify. Judge Wilkerson told him to "sit down for a few minutes." O'Keefe did, but when attention was directed to him a short time later he was nowhere to be found.

Judge Wilkerson ordered immediate search of O'Keefe's haunts, with orders to bring him in to answer to alleged irregularities in bond schedules in which he is said to be involved.

At the conclusion of testimony at the afternoon hearing, Judge Wilkerson said he believed the case involved a "basic question of far-reaching importance," and announced he would not give his decision for several days.

SOME OF THAT "EMBASSY" WINE HAS HOME KICK

Cuban Legation Makes a Protest.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—[By the Associated Press.]—The supply of "embassy" liquors which police declare have found their way into the bootleg trade of Washington was declared by enforcement officers tonight to have been curtailed as a result of alleged disclosures by John J. Lynch, who was arrested in a recent raid on his apartment when a quantity of Scotch and rye whiskeys and imported champagnes were said to have been seized.

Lynch, in an affidavit, according to the police, named one legation as a source of his supplies, and they added that they had been promised further information that would "rock the city."

Further disclosures, however, are expected to show that not all of the liquors sold in recent months in Washington as "embassy stock" have really been of such quality, but have instead been of the "home made" variety.

Published reports, attributed to anonymous police sources, that some of the liquor seized in the recent raid had come from the Cuban legation resulted in a visit to the state department by the legation chargé, Dr. Arturo Padro y Almeida, and a public statement by him that he was in entire ignorance of any "alleged selling of liquor" at the legation.

At the state department he is understood to have been informed there was no truth to the published stories that Lynch had named the Cuban legation in an affidavit as one source of his supplies as a middle man between diplomatic sources and bootleggers in the national capitol.

"TAKE A CHANCE" LIQUOR CLAIMS TWO MORE LIVES

Two more victims, said to have died from the effects of drinking illicit liquor, yesterday brought the total of "moonshine" deaths for 1923 up to forty-five. They were Mrs. Mary Malic, 29 years old, of 4937 Justine street, and John Christianson, of 1757 North Sawyer avenue.

Joseph Kornick was asphyxiated when a still which he was operating on a gas stove in his home at 1549 West Division street boiled over and extinguished the flame.

Neighbors said Mrs. Malic had been an habitual user of alcoholic drinks for the last two years. A physician found her in a stupor at her home on Tuesday afternoon. She never regained consciousness. The contents of a bottle from which she had been drinking and of her stomach were turned over to Dr. H. G. W. Reinhardt, coroner's physician, for analysis.

Christianson, who, the Shakespeare avenue police were informed, had been drinking heavily for several days, collapsed while walking in the back yard at his home.

John F. Habel, wealthy manufacturer residing on Sheridan road near Waukegan, whose home recently was raided by dry agents from the office of A. V. Smith, state's attorney of Lake county, pleaded guilty to operating a moonshine still in the bathroom of his residence and was fined $200 and costs in the County court. He paid the fine and with the change from the $21 costs purchased a marriage license with which to wed Miss Margie M. Dinger, of Mayport, Pa.

MOTHER'S DEATH TO REUNITE DIVA WITH TELLEGEN?

New York, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Henrietta Farrar, mother of Geraldine Farrar, the opera singer, died at her home here today of pneumonia and heart disease, just two hours before the scheduled opening of her daughter's divorce suit.

At Mrs. Farrar's death bed was her husband, Sydney, formerly first baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals. Miss Farrar, who is in Canada on a concert tour, was notified by telegraph and is expected here tomorrow.

Reports of a possible reconciliation between Geraldine Farrar and Lou Tellegen were revived today after Arthur E. Schwartz, counsel for the actor, had obtained a postponement until Monday of the divorce hearing. The attorney said he had asked for the postponement in order that he might receive from Mr. Tellegen, now in Los Angeles, a reply to a letter asking whether there was any truth in reports of a reconciliation.

Fifty cents before the war, fifty cents during the war, fifty cents now—always the same quality, gentle, effective, healing. Poslam plays fair with its friends all the time!

And the most wonderful thing about Poslam is how little of it is enough to heal. Often a single 50c box will clear away a patch of eczema or other eruption that has been an itching torment for years! The first touch of this famous ointment cools the fiery skin and gives real, lasting relief.

Poslam Soap helps greatly in the treatment of skin troubles. Poslam and Poslam Soap are sold everywhere. For trial sample, send 10c to POSLAM, 243 W. 47th St., New York.

NAME OF CHICAGO VET DRAWN FIRST FOR STATE BONUS

Gold Star Mother 2d at Springfield Ceremony.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Richard F. Synwolt, 2149 Cullom avenue, Chicago, is the first Illinois war veteran to have his claim for a share in the $55,000,000 soldiers' bonus filed by the service recognition board. His application was drawn from a pile of 100,000 claims by Gov. Len Small today in the presence of members of the legislature, war veterans, gold star mothers, and guests who packed the headquarters of the board.

Ten names were drawn in the ceremonial which marked the beginning of the board's work in filing the bonus claims.

Stand at Attention.

On both sides of the table where the applications had been dumped, war veterans in uniform stood at attention beneath flags and the banners of the American Legion and the World War Veterans. Both organizations, represented by their state commanders, Commodore Charles W. Schick of the American Legion and Sam H. Myers of the World War Veterans, took part in the ceremonies.

The first three names drawn were those of Chicagoans. The crowd applauded when Lieut. Gov. Sterling drew the name of a gold star mother, Mrs. Ellen O'Keefe, of 521 West 28th place.

Adjt. Gen. Black presided over the drawing.

Three Chicagoans Drawn.

Behind Gov. Small, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling stepped to the table and drew a sealed application from the pile. The lieutenant governor was followed in order by Senator Richard J. Barr of Will county, president pro tem of the state senate; David E. Shanahan, speaker of the house of representatives; Mrs. Alice Vollintine of Springfield, a gold star mother, one of whose three sons fell in the Argonne; Commodore Schick, State Treasurer Oscar Nelson, Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black, Commander Myers, and Donald Heter, the 10 year old son of William Heter, a soldier slain by a holdup man three months ago.

How Names Were Drawn.

Other names drawn among the first ten were:

FIGURES HE'S LUCKY.

"There was one chance in one hundred thousand, and I won," said Richard F. Synwolt, a veteran of the 130th infantry, whose name was the first drawn yesterday at the bonus ceremonies in Springfield. "I figure that makes me one of the luckiest persons in the state."

"It is the biggest surprise of my life," he said. "I went to THE TRIBUNE Friend of the Soldier department Tuesday and had the application certified. Then I dropped it in a mail box. Why, I didn't believe the thing had time to get to Springfield, let alone be in the drawing."

Will Receive Full Bonus.

Synwolt, who is employed at the office of Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., chocolate manufacturers, was first assigned to the 344th infantry at Camp Grant and went overseas with the 130th infantry, a member of Company I. He was in the service twenty months and spent a year on the other side. He will receive the full $300 bonus. He lives with his wife and baby at 2149 Cullom avenue.

The name of Mrs. Ellen O'Keefe, a gold star mother who lives at 521 West 28th place, was the second to be drawn from the sack. There were no tears in her eyes when the reporter called. The war and her son are but memories. She is 65 years old and has had little good fortune in her life.

Glad for the Money.

"I'm glad mine was drawn," she said. "I'm glad I'm going to get the money. It is a good state that will show its appreciation in this way."

Her son, Andrew O'Keefe, who was 24 years old when he went west, enlisted early in the war. He went into action with the 325th infantry and was killed in August, 1918. His mother will receive $300.

The third man on the list was an officer. His name is James Thomas Carney, 6342 Ellis avenue. Lieut. Carney is in Pittsburgh on business. He went overseas in 1918.

HOTEL BOOK MAY INDICT MAN AS DANCER'S SLAYER

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—An indictment, charging murder in connection with the death of Fritzie Mann, was expected tonight in San Diego.

District Attorney Chester Kempley appeared before the grand jury today, following his return from Los Angeles. He submitted to that body, it is said, the statement of a handwriting expert who had compared the signatures of a physician and others with that written on the register of the Blue Sea cottages at La Jolla a week ago Sunday night.

The man who took Fritzie to La Jolla and registered for both as "Mr. and Mrs. A. Wise Johnston," is believed to be the man responsible for the death of the dancer. It has been the theory of the police that the girl was taken to the cottage that an illegal operation might be performed, that a drug was administered, that the man believed the girl was dead, and that he threw her body into the sea, hoping her death would be attributed to suicide. She was drowned. Her body was found the following day on the beach at Torrey Pines.

JUDGES PLEDGED FOR CHANGES IN DIVORCE LAWS

"Situation Is Rotten," Arnold Asserts.

Protection of innocent children, elimination of marriage mills in adjacent states, and a possible 50 per cent reduction of divorces in Illinois would result from revision of Illinois divorce statutes to provide for entry of interlocutory decrees, according to chancery judges of the Circuit court in a meeting yesterday.

CHIEF JUSTICE FRANCIS S. WILSON

Result of Child's Plight.

Yesterday's action of the Circuit court jurists is the result of the plight of Pauline Burroughs, 9 years old, whose father, a wealthy loop printer, appeared before Judge Hurley seeking annulment of his marriage on the ground that it had been performed within a year of his divorce. Entry of the decree by Judge Hurley, which is obligatory under the present law, will bastardize the child.

Assistant State's Attorney Justin F. McCarthy, assigned to Judge Hurley's court, entered the fight on behalf of Pauline yesterday and was directed by Judge Hurley to prepare charges of bastardy against Burroughs, under which he may be fined $1,150 if the annulment decree is entered.

Calls Situation "Rotten."

"The child is the most important factor and should be emphasized in every divorce case where there is a child involved," said Judge Arnold. "The situation is a rotten one. I hate to think of how many children there are in Chicago who are under a cloud because their parents were married in another state within a year of an Illinois divorce."

BOY, MAN KILLED, RAISE 1923 AUTO FATALITIES TO 42

Two Reckless Drivers Fined $100 Each.

Two deaths were added to the roll of automobile casualties yesterday, bringing the year's total to 42. Jerome G. Steever Jr., 8 years old, whose father is a prominent Board of Trade operator, living at 342 Park avenue, Highland Park, died in St. Francis hospital after being struck by the automobile owned and driven by George W. Marquardt, retired jeweler of Evanston.

Emil Allison, 3223 Wilson avenue, was arrested by Irving Park police and booked on a charge of manslaughter following the death of Carl Matson, 50 years old, 5704 North Crawford avenue. Matson was struck at Peterson and Virginia avenues Tuesday night and died in Swedish Covenant hospital.

Takes Boy to Hospital.

The Steever boy was struck by Marquardt's automobile in front of 904 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, where he was visiting with his mother. Marquardt, who lives at 930 Ridge avenue, Evanston, conveyed the injured lad to the hospital and surrendered himself to Evanston police, who ordered his appearance at the inquest, to be held this morning.

Walter Hockelberg, resident of Hammond and driver of the Blue Line bus which killed 6 year old Norma Sporleder of Chicago Heights Tuesday night, was arrested last night by Hammond police and held pending the coroner's inquiry into the accident.

Two Motorists Fined.

Fines of $100 and costs were assessed against two motorists yesterday by Municipal court justices before whom they were arraigned on charges of driving while intoxicated and assault with a deadly weapon. Joseph Lieder, 8333 Oglesby avenue, whose car crashed into a heavy truck, was scored severely by Judge Dennis W. Sullivan when it was learned that Lieder was the father of eight children.

"A father of eight children should respect the lives of others more than any one else," said Judge Sullivan. "A heavy fine will teach you that booze and gasoline don't mix."

Frank Bittner, 1524 West Adams street, received similar punishment when Alexander Cook, 214 West 30th street, in a hearing before Judge Joseph Schulman, asserted that Bittner had driven into a crowd of persons alighting from a Wentworth avenue street car at West 30th street.

Boy Injured; Driver Held.

Rudolph Lema, 7 years old, 1152 Cambridge street, was rescued from possible death by his father, Joseph Lemo, but suffered serious injuries when he was struck by an automobile driven by C. E. Weise, 7617 West 63d street, last night at Larrabee and Division streets. Weise will be arraigned in the Chicago avenue branch of the Municipal court this morning on a charge of assault with an automobile.

Cognizance of the increasing number of automobile accidents and the small percentage of financial redress obtained by victims was taken by the council in a resolution introduced yesterday by Ald. Dorsey Crowe. This directed the committee on police and Municipal courts to draft regulations requiring automobile owners to carry indemnity insurance.

"More than 10,000 accidents, many of them fatal, result annually in Chicago from operation of automobiles," reads part of the resolution, "and many of the owners of automobiles do not carry indemnity automobile insurance and are not financially responsible, with the result that persons injured or whose property is damaged are unable to collect damages."

Little Dry Legislation.

Little "dry" legislation will be demanded of the Fifty-third general assembly by the Anti-Saloon league, according to F. Scott McBride, state superintendent. According to others, it is doubtful whether any more dry legislation could be passed.

Several bills to repeal the Illinois prohibition act of 1921 and the search and seizure act of 1919 have been introduced in the house and a resolution was offered today by Representative Franz [Dem., Freeport] calling on congress to modify or appeal the Volstead act.

Mr. McBride, who has been opposing appointment of William Q. Setliffe, state adjutant of the American Legion, as federal prohibition commissioner for Illinois, ran into a hotbed today. Several drys in the legislature broke with the state secretary on his opposition to Setliffe.

Rep. Michael L. Igoe [Dem., Chicago] presented his resolutions in the house today demanding impeachment of Gov. Small, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling and State Auditor Andrew Russel. The resolutions were ordered to lie on the speaker's table until referred to a committee.

SERVANTS TRAP THIEF; WALLOP LAYS HIM COLD

Pursued by a posse of janitors and chauffeurs from surrounding buildings, a burglar who attempted to rob the flat of F. E. French, formerly president of the Evanston Golf club, in a fashionable apartment house at 925 Michigan avenue, Evanston, was trapped in the basement yesterday morning and captured.

When discovered, the burglar fled to the back yard, where other janitors joined Cornelius Enright and Edward Crawford, chauffeur for Mrs. William A. Gardner, widow of the former president of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. The robber finally was felled by a blow from the fist of Crawford.

ILLINOIS SENATE BACKS BRUNDAGE WORK AT HERRIN

Illinois unmolested. Is he, the man responsible, to go unscathed and unpunished? Why did not Brundage indict Lester as well as those that toil?

"The citizens of Williamson county are asking why not justice to outlaw coal operators like Lester."

Senator Sneed told of acts of the Lester guards in terrorizing the county. This, he said, was to tempt the governor to send militia "for the purpose of making a million dollars for a nonresident of Illinois."

"The attorney general let the fomenters escape," Mr. Sneed continued. "He even employed them to secure evidence against union men. The real bill here would be one directed toward investigation of the American gunman. The question is whether you will devote funds to assist a county when that county has not requested assistance. We want to settle the question of the right of private gunmen to kill in the sacred protection of property rights. Why did the attorney general protect invaders and prosecute citizens of Williamson county?"

Glenn Defends Brundage.

Senator Glenn [Rep., Jackson] then argued with such force that every opposition, save that of Mr. Sneed, was stilled.

"I can't stand here," he said, "and hear the attorney general's motive questioned in this great tragedy. I know his feeling—how he went down there in peril of his life. Threat after threat came to him because he dared to do his duty. He braved heat and sickness and death. He has a wife and family, and any night there some assassin may shoot him down like a dog, as they killed scores of other unarmed defenseless men. The whole community has been terrorized. I was glad as a resident of southern Illinois to do what I could, at a time when he had not a dollar to offer for my services."

Mr. Glenn explained that the union men killed were shot while they were marching toward the mine with hundreds of armed men for the purpose of capturing the mine, burning buildings, and stealing supplies and money.

"Yes, they were not only murderers but thieves," he shouted, turning to Senator Sneed. "There was no self defense here. The first men killed, before the union men were shot, were nonunion men, ambushed in a truck in a manner that would have shamed Apache Indians.

"I know Lester was crazy and foolhardy. He might have known he would be attacked. But when we adopt the idea that in order to work for our wives and families we have got to get a card from Sneed or Farrington or Willis, or join any organization, then our institutions are doomed.

"Why didn't you bring in evidence against men who killed your men?" he said, turning to Senator Sneed. "You sat like clams and said you would have nothing to do with the trial. You had a grand jury there under your control. We found a few people that had the courage to tell the truth down there. They found Black Hand letters and pieces of rope on their porches. That's what we had to face. It is my opinion that further prosecutions will not result in convictions. I don't believe we will find twelve men there willing to sacrifice their lives and homes to return a verdict of guilty."

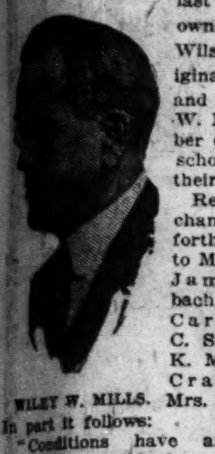
KLAN 37TH WARD ISSUE; "SILENT" ASPIRANT ADRIFT

Better Council Branch Disowns Wilson.

Thirty-seventh ward leaders supporting the "better council" movement last night disowned John O. Wilson, their original candidate, and put up Wiley W. Mills, a member of the Dunne school board, as their candidate.



WILEY W. MILLS.

Reasons for the change were set forth in a letter to Mills signed by James Mullenbach, Mrs. C. S. Carlisle, George C. Sikes, Charles K. Mohler, J. D. Crawford and Mrs. V. E. Sisson. In part it follows:

"Conditions have arisen which make it impossible for us to continue to support Mr. Wilson. We want a candidate who stands squarely against the un-American policy of religious and racial proscription.

Object to Wilson's Stand.

"The rumor is that the three principal candidates—Garner, Brekke and Wilson—are playing for the support of the Ku Klux Klan. Mr. Wilson, in private conversation, says he is not a member of the klan, but he persistently refuses to make a public statement to that effect for the reason that such a statement would hurt him politically.

"We accept his word that he is not a member of the klan, but we object to supporting a candidate who deliberately plays to the Ku Klux Klan group and who takes his stand in that respect alongside of Ald. Garner.

"We consider it a disgrace to the Thirty-seventh ward that its alderman—John P. Garner—should stand up in the city council and boldly defend an organization which exists to promote religious and racial hatred and members of which at times take the law into their own hands.

Mills Accepts Candidacy.

"We want oportunity to vote for a candidate for alderman who stands for real Americanism. We ask you to enter the field as such a candidate. We consider that you, as well as ourselves, are absolved from all obligation to continue to support Mr. Wilson because of his failure to rise to the issue of fundamental Americanism, which seems to be developing as the leading issue in this ward."

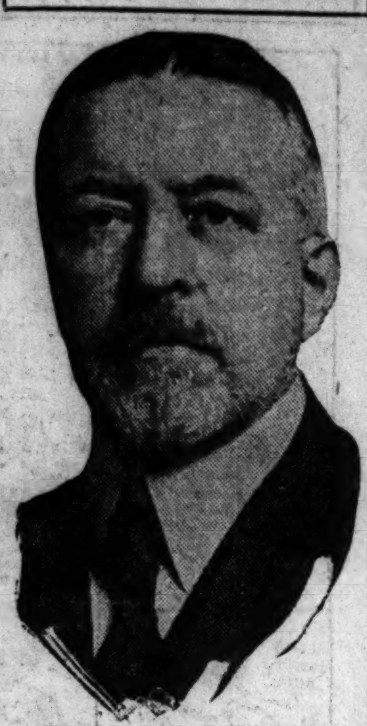
Following his consent to the presentation of his name, Mr. Mills was indorsed unanimously by the Democratic organization of the ward. He thereupon tendered his resignation as secretary of the "better council" committee.

He is a lawyer and is 54 years old. He was born in Michigan and has lived in Chicago twenty-eight years.

Tailormade Clothing Due to Go Higher, Designer Says

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 24.—Prices of tailormade clothing will increase from 12 to 15 per cent in the near future, L. A. Banner, secretary of the National Merchant Tailor Designers' association, stated today. He ascribed the mounting price of wool and scarcity of workmen as reasons.

FOR HIGH COURT



EDWARD T. SANFORD.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Edward T. Sanford, United States district judge for the eastern and middle districts of Tennessee since 1898, was nominated today by President Harding to be associate justice of the Supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Justice Pitney.

The nomination, if confirmed, will give Tennessee two members of the highest court and will restore the political balance of six Republicans and three Democrats which obtained when President Harding took office. The other member from Tennessee is Justice McReynolds, a Democrat, appointed by President Wilson.

Judge Sanford is a native of Knoxville, where he now lives. A number of papers of note on legal and other subjects have been written by him and he has delivered many lectures in various parts of the country.

ANDERSON'S SON IS RETURNING TO HIS COLLEGE

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Frederick Otwell Anderson, 20 year old junior at Wesleyan university and son of William H. Anderson, superintendent of the New York Anti-Saloon league, who was withdrawn from college several days ago because reports reached his father that the young man had partaken of intoxicants, is returning to Wesleyan tomorrow.

Young Anderson's sudden departure from the Middletown, Conn., institution, came, it is learned, after a student friend, said to be a member of the same college fraternity and aware of the position the boy's father held in the prohibition world, sent a note to Mr. Anderson in which he reported Young Anderson's alleged delinquency.

Mr. Anderson in turn sent a letter to the college authorities, in which he asked that "Freddie" be sent home.

Indiana Guard Not Aiding Klan, Adjutant Finds

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—Charges that members of the Indiana national guard, stationed at Portland, Ind., were unduly active in the Ku Klux Klan were found to be "entirely unfounded" by Harry B. Smith, adjutant general of Indiana, who conducted an investigation at the request of Gov. McCray.

The adjutant general made his report today to the governor, who ordered the investigation after charges had been made in a letter to him by Mayor T. H. Fleming of Portland.

KLAN STALK INTO CHURCH, GET MAN, DRAG HIM AWAY

BULLETIN.

Bastrop, La., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Gov. J. M. Parker tonight ordered all troops withdrawn from Mer Rouge and Bastrop tomorrow. He issued a warning that he will declare martial law at once if there is any recurrence of trouble.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

Bastrop, La., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Louisiana today practically completed its open inquiry into the Ku Klux Klan of Morehouse parish.

All that willing witnesses could tell, and all that could be forced from the lips of the sullen, deluded, unwilling ones, has been written into the official records. The interrogation of skillful prosecutors and the administration of the oath have brought forth a picture, a story of what has transpired in this parish.

The evidence is to be recapitulated, condensed and abridged now, into a connected account of a carnival of terrorism and of murder, and laid before the grand jury for action. Only one more witness is to be heard, to complete the story of Klux rule in Morehouse parish. This is Leon L. K. Jones of Moselle, Miss., a traveling salesman.

Saw Mob with Bodies.

Mr. Jones was the last man to see the hooded mob late at night with the bodies of Watt Daniel and Richards. His car was broken down in the night of Aug. 24 on a lonely road away up in the thick forest near Lake La Fourche. Mrs. Jones was with him, and as he worked in the dark on his car, he saw, at midnight, the black-hooded terrors pass by going toward the lake. He saw on the back of the truck which has taken so much attention at this hearing—the ownership of which may hang a man—the inert bodies of the two murdered victims.

As soon as the hearing opens in the morning, Attorney General Coco will make a statement laying the terrorism and murders at the door of the Ku Klux Klan of Morehouse parish.

Calls Klan Menace.

Gov. J. M. Parker and Attorney General Coco want to lay the case of Morehouse parish and its murders and klan reign before the American people, they say, in its larger importance.

"This thing which has lifted its ugly head in Morehouse parish," says Attorney General Coco, "is a matter of terror, vital importance to all the people of this country."

Two witnesses were heard in the inquiry today. Robert D. Robinson, a farmer of Morehouse, up near the Arkansas line, told of a whipping he was given by the Ku Klux. It was on Sunday, June 18, 1922.

Flog Him in Woods.

The black veiled, somber robed "terrors" of Morehouse stalked solemnly into the church in the middle of the hour of worship, dragged him out into the woods, laid him down on the ground, and flogged him and told him to leave the parish and never come back any more.

DOCTOR WHIPS "OTHER MAN" IN OAK PARK HOME

Riot calls for the Oak Park police and a fistic encounter involving members of an alleged triangle yesterday marked the collapse of a reconciliation between Dr. Harry J. Lindley, well known optician in the suburb, and Mrs. Marian Lindley.

The Lindleys, together with G. W. Bennett, 4408 West Jackson boulevard, will appear before Justice Frank McKee in the Oak Park court on Saturday to answer disorderly conduct charges.

Police were notified at 4 o'clock yesterday morning that scores of neighbors had been attracted to the Lindley home at 36 Madison street by a "free for all" fight and arrived to find Bennett being worsted by the irate husband.

Several months ago Mrs. Lindley filed suit for divorce in which she said Lindley's monthly income was nearly $4,000.

WIFE MURDERED IN HOME AS MATE GOES ON JOY RIDE

Mrs. John Boswell, 43 years old, of 227 Hayes avenue, La Grange, Ill., was found murdered in her bed at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. She had been shot through the head and her brains had been beaten out with a fire shovel. The crime was discovered by her husband.

At the inquest yesterday afternoon, which was attended by practically every colored person in La Grange, more than 200 of them crowding into the little courtroom, Boswell retracted his statement that he had attended a lodge meeting Tuesday night and confessed he had been on a joy ride with Frank Handy, a colored chauffeur, and two La Grange white women.

Grilling of a score of suspects resulted in the holding of eight colored chauffeurs of La Grange, Hinsdale and Downers Grove, each of whom, police say, declares that he sold the two revolvers found near the slain woman to one of the others.

HOLINESS CHIEF GONE; HIS FLOCK MAKES CHARGES

The Rev. H. M. Ferguson, against whom charges of misconduct have been made by members of his former religious following in Cedar Rapids, Ia., has "disappeared." A careful inquiry was made yesterday as to the man's present whereabouts. His wife and 17 year old son, Taylor, who live at 742 Fullerton parkway, were questioned. The son said he was not worried about his father.

The Iowa charges against the minister were made at a massmeeting of his former congregation on Tuesday. The meeting was called primarily to discuss the seizing of $40,000 worth of property held in Ferguson's name which they claim belongs to them. But before the property question could be settled the members of the Holiness association aired other troubles, dwelling especially on Ferguson's conduct with certain feminine members of his flock.

NOT SO GOOD.

From the viewpoint of America, and from the nearer observation of Great Britain also, the military occupation of the Ruhr by the French deepens the darkness over Europe. We cannot hope for good from buffer states created and maintained by the sword. We cannot hope the peace for which we fought in the world war will be born of the dismemberment of a people by military force. We cannot think that the economic restoration upon which the well being of Europe and the return of our own normal prosperity depend can be advanced by military invasion and the resistance, active and passive, which it rouses. In short, we can find nothing hopeful in the present program of the French government, even for France.

We are told by French partisans that the Germans had to be taught that they had been defeated and that they cannot avoid payment. When we consider that Germany has fallen from its place as the most powerful and prosperous nation on the continent to a state of military impotence, financial bankruptcy, and widespread popular impoverishment and suffering, we are unable to give much weight to that theory. We cannot see that further punishment will produce anything other than despair and dissolution or desperate resistance, and we cannot believe that either will be anything short of disastrous to European society and to France herself as one of its bulwarks.

If events prove we are wrong in these opinions we shall have to revise our conclusions from history and reverse those doctrines of principle and of expediency which we held during the war and which we condemned Germany for violating. But if we are right we have a rather serious consideration in the part we played in the struggle. For we cannot escape responsibility for that part. We cannot forget that the American President, with the undoubted acquiescence of the American people, set forth in the fourteen points the principles upon which we proposed a durable peace should be made. We cannot forget that he assured the German people that we cherished no intention to prostrate them but only to destroy the militaristic caste which controlled their aggressive policy. We cannot deny that these authoritative pronouncements, backed by our decisive force on the battlefield, dissolved the spirit of resistance in Germany, resulted in the fall of the dynasty and the erection of a republic, and brought about a prompt cessation of hostilities in the field and the end of organized resistance.

In short, we know that our pronouncements of elevated and healing purpose broke the war morale of the German people while they were as yet in enemy territory in the possession of a powerful army, and we know that no sooner had German resistance crumbled and the new republic found itself without force for defense of its interest than terms were imposed in violation of the fourteen points and of the spirit we had assured the German people controlled our actions.

Both Lloyd George and Clemenceau gave explicit and implicit indorsement to the utterances of Mr. Wilson while German resistance was intact, but there is nothing more ironic in the history of international relations than the change which came over them as soon as Germany had thrown away her sword. We are not responsible for the conscience of either Lloyd George or Clemenceau, but we did have a decisive part in placing Germany in a situation in which a repudiation of the Wilsonian principles was possible.

We have that to ponder over, even though it seems not possible for us in all circumstances to correct the situation which has grown out of the fall of Germany. The French operations have made it even more difficult than it was before to interpose with good effect for all concerned. We have no sympathy with the German aggression against France and much sympathy for France's sufferings. But at this juncture the unwisdom of European policy leaves us only one course and that is to stand aside. We regret the destruction of the war—we know that more war, or more warlike adventures, will still further reduce the vitality of Europe. Like Great Britain, our government has made clear that we cannot sympathize with the invasion of the Ruhr.

A TRAFFIC LESSON TO 100,000 CHICAGOANS.

Probably 100,000 Chicagoans have received their second painful but impressive lesson of this winter upon the advisability of carrying out the recent proposal to widen North La Salle street from Washington street to Lincoln park and to construct a broad bridge for vehicular and pedestrian traffic as a supplementary outlet northward from the loop.

The blowing of a fuse on the Michigan avenue bridge while the structure was open in the morning was the immediate cause of the lesson. For something more than half an hour traffic on River street, South Water street, North State street, and North Clark street, and in adjacent districts, was in a snarl which will not be forgotten soon by those involved. Nothing like it has been known since a recent fire which diverted traffic from the boulevard for an hour one evening. Business was virtually at a standstill. Hundreds of engagements were sacrificed. Nerves were frayed.

The North La Salle street improvement would reduce such troubles to a minimum. Incidentally it would relieve a great deal of traffic congestion in normal circumstances.

WHY WE HOPE THOMPSON WILL RUN.

A reader wants to know why we want Thompson to run. "Why not let him fade away," he asks, "like his partner, Lundin?"

Because for the sake of Chicago the lessons of misgovernment ought to be driven home to the people of this town in a campaign. Because if we are going to get our affairs out of the muck and put firmly on a basis of honest and competent administration, our community must have a chance to realize fully and comprehensively what has happened to it under the Lundin-Thompson misrule.

It is true it has been learning. Day after day revelation of abuse of power and of widespread corruption has been made in the press. But Thompson says the press is persecuting. Let him go to the people with his explanations and excuses, and let him answer his opponents in his own peculiar style. Then let the voters decide and let them learn in deciding what they have paid for Thompsonism.

We want Thompson himself to explain the vileness which has grown up under his political régime in the black and tan piggeries of the underworld, exposed the other day in the vice report.

We want Thompson himself to explain the looting of the school funds by such a band of pirates as have seldom had their equals in the records of public plunder in our country. We want him to explain why 40,000 children are on part time and 30,000 in portable shacks, while political favorites and school officials have fattened on school money. We want him to explain how five real estate experts got a matter of $3,000,000 of the city's money for service which needn't have cost a sixth of the amount. We should like him also to tell us why the experts did not pay an income tax on that $3,000,000, and who did.

We want him to tell the people of Chicago what benefit of any great importance they have got from the Lundin-Thompson administration except a black and tan vice problem, the most dangerous in our history, and a system of slush funds and public loot which makes the Tweed ring's record look foolish.

And a couple of million straphangers want him to show what they have got from him but big talk, bad transportation, and higher fares. They want to know how it happens that with all the big talk about a 5 cent fare, when the Lundin-Thompson administration began the fares were 5 cents throughout the city on surface and elevated and after seven years of Thompson they are 7 and 10 cents and have been 8 and 10 cents.

Lundin apparently believes in the motto of Bob Acres, "He who fights and runs away will live to fight another day." We hope Thompson will stay in this fight till the people of Chicago have had a chance to settle with Lundin-Thompsonism for good and all. When they have cast up the account they will be in a state of mind which will make good government in this town possible. They will be ready to back a man who will clean up and build up.

Unless we learn the cost of Lundin-Thompsonism, the best mayor in the world cannot help us much. Unless we see the facts of the Lundin-Thompson system of predatory politics with its roots in the slime of the underworld and its greedy fingers forever in the public till, unless we see the truth of the city's martyrdom through the poison gas cloud of Thompsonian bunk, we cannot give the best of men the support he must have to apply his surgery to political rottenness and to lay the foundations of the city Chicago ought to be.

It isn't enough to elect a new and better man to the mayoralty. It is needful to elect him in a new spirit and with knowledge of what he is to do.

FIFTEENTH AND EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENTS.

THE TRIBUNE received about one hundred letters yesterday protesting against the nullification of the eighteenth amendment as treason, etc.

Well and good. How about the fifty years of complete nullification in southern states of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments? Do the drys favor that? Is that treason?

If they are opposed to nullifying any part of the constitution will they vote to appropriate as much money, dollar for dollar, to enforce the fifteenth amendment as they now ask to enforce the eighteenth?

Editorial of the Day

THE WEST INDIES IN PART PAYMENT!

[Free translation from Abendpost (German).]

Senator Reed has offered a timely resolution. The federal government is to inquire in London and Paris whether the British and the French governments would be inclined to negotiate with our government about ceding to us their possessions in the West Indies.

England has, indeed, sent to Washington a commission which is to arrive at an understanding about the gradual repaying to us of the gigantic sums which that country owes us; but from all appearances the British want to take a very great length of time and are also asking for a considerable reduction of the interest originally agreed upon. Their very willingness to pay back should and even may make them prone to turn over to us in part payment the islands held by them in the West Indies. France, on the contrary, has not paid a cent of interest yet and seems to take it for granted that the moratorium silently conceded to her by the American government will continue indefinitely.

Our country does not require the 11,500 square miles and the one and three-quarters million population of these islands for the purpose of increasing or supplementing its natural resources. The acquisition of that territory is desirable, however, in the first place because such acquisition would be in harmony with the Monroe Doctrine, according to which European possessions in the western hemisphere are merely tolerated, but not desired; and then also because circumstances may arise under which we might in a military way be interested in holding these islands. While in the hands of European powers the West Indies may, in war times, be used as points of naval support from which the Panama canal may be threatened, we want them merely for defense. For us it is sufficient to see them permanently removed from European control; hence we could even grant them a far going autonomy.

TWILIGHT.

There's a hurt in my heart when the twilight comes creeping,
The hurt of a love that has touched me and gone.
There's a smart in my eyes and I can't help my weeping,
For twilight's no time to be loving alone.

A low sigh of wind, and my breath quickly taken,
I strain for a sound of a step on the stone;
It is only the wind—and my heart again shaken,
For twilight's no time to be loving alone.

I know that the hurt in my heart will be healing,
For Time has a balm in his sad gentle tone:
Through the gate of my heart a new love will come stealing—

LIGHT AS A MEDICINE.

IT would seem that we have been overlooking the very best medicine that has ever been compounded. That medicine is light. It begins to look as if light were a better medicine than was ever sold in a bottle or advertised in a newspaper. Maybe one reason for overlooking it was the fact that it is free. We all have a notion that what's free is "no good." Some of us read Altgeld's book, "The Cost of Something for Nothing." Then, again, there was so much of it lying around loose. It was as common as pig tracks. Another reason is that light is a compound, a regular shotgun prescription, and the part that was good for one man was harmful to another.

Finsen was greatly honored for what he knew about light not more than a quarter of a century ago, but what has been discovered about light since Finsen's day makes that distinguished scientist's writings look like a primer.

To begin with, there are different kinds and varieties of lights now in use which have been developed since Finsen's time. That puts some additional machinery in the hands of the person treating sick people. Then, again, we know more about the light ray. The ordinary man knows about light because he can see it, and that limits what he knows about it. As a matter of fact, the section of the sun rays which the human eye can see is only a small part of that ray. Moreland says that three-quarters of the force of the ray of a certain kind is located in that section beyond the red which the human eye cannot see. The part of the ray of the other end, that is, beyond the violet, is likewise unseeable and a source of force of a certain kind.

The part of the ray which causes most of the pigmentation of the skin of those exposed to it is in an invisible area. Moreland says that in most of those diseases which are treated by light the patients who sunburn quickly and nicely get well quickly. On the other hand, those who pigment poorly are apt to convalesce slowly or not at all.

The ultra red part of the ray has but little power to penetrate. Its effects are exerted on the surface or near there. Unless the skin is exposed to cool, moving air when it is exposed to this part of the ray, there is liable to be a resultant inflammation of the skin with but little benefit to the underlying tissues.

The power to ease pain rests principally with the part of the ray toward the red. This part is better absorbed than other parts. The heat of the ray can heat the blood lying below the skin and perhaps through this agency can affect tissues some distance away.

The power to produce chemical change and to kill bacteria lies on both sides of the violet, but principally on the invisible part. Sonne of Copenhagen, who has made a recent and exhaustive contribution to the subject, thinks we have gone too far in classifying different parts of the ray according to their chemical and physiological effects. While the ultra-violet is the best germ killer, it is not the only part that kills germs. Even the reds and ultra-reds have some germ killing power.

The same general statements apply to all parts of the ray, according to Moreland.

MONEY—THE LACK OF IT—IS THE ROOT OF THIS EVIL.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I live at Kimbark, near 57th. I append copy of a letter of the South Park Improvement association of Dec. 15, which reflects seriously on the city administration, particularly the department of health. You can do a great service to my neighbors if you will look into this matter and report. W. G.

"To all members: The neglect of the city to provide adequately for the collection of ashes and garbage has been a source of great annoyance in the last few weeks and the South Park Improvement association has been endeavoring to improve conditions by employing extra teams and motor trucks at its own expense.

"It seems evident that this plan will have to be continued, for a few weeks at least, until the city again arranges to meet its responsibilities and give this district proper service.

"In the meantime the association will do all it can to relieve the situation. Yours very truly,

"SOUTH PARK IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION."

Garbage and ash service is given every fourth day in this district, which is good service with the funds at our disposal. The last collection was on the 15th instant.

DISHONEST SALESMAN.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—On a certain date I made an oral agreement with a man to be my salesman at 10 per cent commission straight. One of the concerns from whom he brought in business went later into the hands of a receiver. Upon inquiry about my account with them, it came out the salesman, instead of turning in the invoices which were made out in the name of the firm, copied them on his own personal invoice, which he had printed, and added more profits for himself. 1. Was this unlawful? 2. Can I have him arrested for it? 3. Can I have an injunction brought against him? 4. Can I sue him for the full amount of what he owes me? 5. Will you recommend a good attorney? F. J.

1. You are entitled to recover.
2. No.
3. We see no ground for it. You should file a claim with the receiver.
4. Yes.
5. We are not permitted to name attorneys.

CANNOT REMAIN IN POSSESSION, REFUSING TO PAY RENT.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The carpet on the stairs and the landings of the apartment building of which I am a tenant is unsightly and dangerous. Several complaints had been made orally and I myself had written a complaint. In December last I told the owner that I would not pay the January rent until something was done about the carpet. The appended letter came in reply.

"Under the terms of your lease, Paragraph 15, I may go into any court of record and confess a judgment for you for the amount of your rent together with attorney's fees and costs and have an execution issued thereon immediately. I will be compelled to do so unless I hear from you with a remittance by Monday, Jan. 15. On that date at 2 p. m. I shall have my attorney confess a judgment against you for the amount of your rent, attorney's fees, and costs in any court of record of Cook county.

"The above action will in no way affect the validity of your lease and I shall continue to hold you liable thereunder."

I am perfectly willing to have the owner break the lease and allow me to move if he is not going to keep up the repairs. 1. Has he a legal right to take the action indicated in his letter? 2. What course on my part would you advise? J. W.

1. Yes. You are not entitled to remain in possession and refuse to pay rent.
2. Upon the facts stated your best course would be to pay the rent and notify him that if he does not make the repair you will have the work done and deduct the cost from your unpaid rent installment.

WHY NOT ENFORCE THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT ALSO?

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Your anarchic editorial of this date entitled "Annulment of Constitutional Prohibition" clearly indicates that your good paper is suffering from a malignant cancer in the form of a corrupting editorial department. It is time to use the knife. If sterilization does not bring prompt relief, then put at the head of that department a healthy, red blooded, double fisted citizen who will editorially vociferate for civic righteousness in every department of government in the city, state and nation, and who is capable of building up reverence and obedience of all laws by private citizens and public officials in every walk of life.

The things you now complain about have always been true of the saloon before the eighteenth amendment. Intoxicating liquor made the saloon what it was; it made beasts and criminals of men, impoverished and burdened the family, wrecked homes, and made wives and children destitute and forsaken, and filled the poorhouses, insane asylums and penal institutions. The eighteenth amendment is intended to stop the evil effects of intoxicating liquor. Its complete enforcement will do it and every citizen and public official should demand effective enforcement.

The cry for light wine and beer is merely the wail of a lot of alcoholics who are not willing to sober up. Their cry is not public sentiment. It is something that needs the big stick. The constitution is a sacred document, and all its provisions are equally binding on all. The reason some of its provisions are somewhat disregarded is because we have a large number of people who openly advocate law violation of one kind or another.

W. T. DICKERMAN.

LET THEM ALL BE ENFORCED.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—As intelligent men, it is not at all likely that you need to be told that your article on the "Annulment of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution" is an outrage against government, against the will of the majority, against basic law.

When you can go so far in your prejudice that you advocate the breaking of basic law, it is time to register a vigorous protest. I have asked the Englewood Newspaper agency to cease sending me THE TRIBUNE. C. B. ALLEN.

IS IT RIGHT FOR THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT TO BE NULLIFIED?

Chicago, Jan. 22.—I also wish to voice my disapproval of your editorial, "Annulment of Constitutional Prohibition," printed in Saturday's TRIBUNE. When you reduce our constitution to a scrap of paper the people should lose respect for your publication. I have been a reader of THE TRIBUNE for the last twenty years and advocated my principals to advertise in it, but if such editorials are going to continue I shall have to withdraw my support entirely.

R. BROWN & CO.

A NATION OF LAW BREAKERS.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—No wonder that the American people are reputed to be a nation of law breakers when a great metropolitan daily paper advocates the annulment of a constitutional amendment. Your editorial is entirely wrong, in my opinion. I. J. BATH.

SEDITIOUS TO ASK EQUAL ENFORCEMENT OF ALL AMENDMENTS!

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom contemplates with dismay the anarchistic and seditious utterances contained in your leading editorial of this date.

We would respectfully ask THE TRIBUNE to inform us what kind of government is proposed if constitutional government is to be destroyed and every individual is to obey only such law as he approves. FLORENCE HOLBROOK, Corresponding Secretary, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

A TRAITOR.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—After reading your editorial yesterday in regard to law enforcement, I cannot let it go without letting you know that I regard you as a traitor to your country. ETTA KEN.

WHY U. S. SHOULD NOT HELP GERMANY.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—John Gorham in today's paper wonders "why should not the United States help Germany." I can tell him one reason—because she murdered our American seamen and slaughtered the innocent Americans aboard the Lusitania. That interests the real American more than Napoleon's efforts. We naturally sympathise with France, as she helped us in the revolution and was our ally in the late war, in which her undeserved suffering is well known. As Mr. Gorham is interested in history, perhaps he is wondering, as many are, if France will wantonly destroy the German mines when she leaves them, as Germany did those of France. Or perhaps he has not read that far in his historical research.

JUSTICE.

"GERMAN HATRED OF THE UNITED STATES" A FALLACY.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—In the "Voice of the People" of Nov. 5, Mrs. F. Harrison makes what purports to be an "open minded" statement in regard to "German hatred of the United States."

As a native born American citizen of English-Scotch ancestry, I desire to give my version of the attitude of the German people toward the American people, as borne out of my own experience.

My trip took me through the "Rhineland," the "occupied territory"—Düsseldorf, Köln, Bonn, Heidelberg, Coblenz, Wiesbaden, Mainz—and pretty well all over Germany. Though a stranger and alone, I had kindness and hospitality extended to me at all times. Unnumbered times questions on the street were solved by my being personally guided to some particular point of interest. On the crowded trains the officials did everything possible for me.

While shopping, whether in the smaller towns or in the large shops in Berlin, I invariably met with courtesy. Never once was an attempt made to take advantage because of my being an "ausländer." At the hotels the service was excellent and the rates unreasonably low.

The "amazing prosperity" mentioned in the article is easily explainable. When traveling through Germany, one is impressed with the idea that the whole country is a combination of a great garden and park system, while in the various cities much repairing and renovating of public buildings is being undertaken. The Schreber garden system allows of even the humblest laborer having a small garden patch. As to the "great boom" in building to which reference has been made, it is a move definitely planned by the German government to give the laborer employment—whenever and wherever possible during the present financial stress.

I agree that Germany has potentialities and fundamentals of an unsurpassed order, but even such assets are more, or less dependent upon international fair play. The statement that "the German government is a deliberate criminal bankrupt" indicates a lack of poise, of logic, and of honesty, and is distinctly un-American.

ROSENWALD FOR FOREGOING WINE AT SACRAMENT

Advises Jewish Union to Appeal to Congress.

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Congress will be asked to withdraw the sacramental wine privilege extended to religious bodies if the recommendation of Julius Rosenwald of Chicago to the Union of American Hebrew Congregations is followed out. Mr. Rosenwald pointed out that the exercise of this privilege by rabbis and congregations of the Jewish faith might cause unfavorable comment, and asked that the union take action to have the privilege withdrawn.

Another drastic proposal was incorporated in a resolution to exclude from election to the office of rabbi all but graduates of a recognized theological seminary or members of a rabbinical society. At present the office is open to any member of the Jewish faith.

Grape Juice as a Substitute.

On the subject of sacramental wines, Mr. Rosenwald said:

"We are all aware of the scandals that have arisen in connection with the enforcement of the prohibition law or, to be more accurate, in connection with certain exceptions made by the law in favor of sacramental wine. Orthodox as well as reform rabbis and religious bodies as well have reiterated the fact that it is not necessary to use wine for sacramental purposes, because grape juice can be used as a substitute.

"Nevertheless, there are known to be certain men who, under the guise of religion, have misused the privilege granted by congress and have made a business of selling wine permits contrary to the intent of the law.

Wants to Aid Law Observance.

"I have no way of telling whether this practice is limited or extensive. Even if it were limited to one man in one city, it would be our business to help the government stamp out this practice and to bring punishment upon the head of any one who is engaged in circumventing the law.

"As God fearing men and law abiding citizens we ought to help to bring offenders to task. If these offenders operate in the name of religion we should accept this challenge to our self-respect. I am, therefore, in favor of having this convention go on record on this subject, stating in the first place, in terms that cannot be misunderstood, the fact that we believe it is not necessary to use wine for sacramental purposes, and, in the second place, that we ask congress, or whatever body is intrusted with the enforcement of the prohibition law, to take cognizance of our attitude and to withdraw the privilege of sacramental wine from Jewish ministers and congregations."

FRIENDS TOAST EDGAR A. JONAS; CROWE STAYS OUT

More than 2,000 persons attended a banquet in the Gold room of the Congress hotel last night in honor of Edgar A. Jonas, first assistant state's attorney. Two hundred men and women were unable to crowd into the room until the speeches commenced.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court presided in the rôle of toastmaster. Dr. John Dill Robertson, former health commissioner; Frank S. Righeimer, and other well known men sat at the speakers' table. Hundreds of Mr. Jonas' former and present co-workers attended.

"Mr. Jonas has made a remarkable record in the state's attorney's office," said Dr. Robertson. "He has directed most of the famous prosecutions of recent months. A better man never filled the office he now holds."

State's Attorney Crowe was not present.

IRELAND WANTS BRITAIN TO FREE LAST PRISONERS

Will Then Pass Amnesty Bill, Senators Say.

BY THOMAS RYAN.

[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—Asked by the government to pass the second reading of a bill for granting amnesty to those who served England in Ireland, the senate, usually deemed reactionary, almost unanimously decided today to defer consideration of the bill until England releases Irish political prisoners remaining in jail.

Col. Maurice Moore, formerly of the Connaught rangers, spoke vigorously against Ireland's passing one sided amnesty. He asserted that the two countries stand equal under the treaty, and said that the charges against the men are offenses against the United Kingdom which is now split.

Purpose of Resolution.

A long debate ensued between those who did not desire to offend England and the others, the majority standing for maintaining the dignity of Ireland's new position. Col. Moore asserted that his resolution was aimed at reconciling the two countries, as the retention of the prisoners remained a source of anti-English agitation in Ireland. William Butler Yeats, the poet, supported the colonel's motion.

Col. Moore told graphically how he and Gen. Bryan Mahon and other former British officers of Irish birth had obtained the release recently of thirty Connaught Ranger mutineers by petitioning Downing street. He said that about ten Irish political prisoners remain in custody.

Direct Shipping to America.

Tomorrow the senate will consider a motion demanding a committee for the establishment of a direct line of steamers between America and Ireland.

There is a war on between the city corporation and the government over prisoners. Following Dublin's announcement that employés will be paid half their wages while in jail, the government stopped appropriations.

MANY EPISCOPAL CLERGYMEN BACK VIEWS OF GRANT

Rector to Reply to Heresy Charge.

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—A distinct rift in the ranks of Episcopal clergymen in the New York diocese is looked for immediately after the publication of Dr. Percy Stickney Grant's reply to Bishop William T. Manning on the issue of heresy, raised when Dr. Grant denied the divine power of Christ from his pulpit in the Church of the Ascension.

An Episcopal clergyman said today that feeling on the question of liberalism opposed to hard and fast traditional belief, had crystallized into a movement backing Dr. Grant against the bishop. At least fifteen meetings of clergymen on both sides of the issue, high churchmen and men taking the Grant view here have been held since the rector preached the sermon a week ago Sunday which brought Bishop Manning's rebuke.

Will Have Plenty of Backing.

"Other men who think as Dr. Grant does may seek to be tried with him," the clergyman said. "At least they will be among his strongest supporters within the clergy. There are those who will not permit him to go to trial without plenty of backing."

The Rev. John Howard Melish, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn, was revealed as a stanch supporter of the Ascension rector. It was learned that Dr. Melish, a speaker at a private meeting of Episcopal clergymen, held on Monday afternoon, uttered a defense of Dr. Grant. He was quoted as saying:

"Dr. Grant has gone far ahead of his time in preaching the gospel in terms of psychology. Perhaps one doy the church will catch up with him."

To Make Reply Tomorrow.

Dr. Grant was said to have postponed his reply until Saturday, because he wished time to consult the highest theological authorities within the church before putting his answer on paper.

There is little doubt among clergymen but that Dr. Grant will accept a trial for heresy before he will recant or resign.

Some of those who are reported as supporting Dr. Grant, include, beside Dr. Melish, Dr. Karl Reiland, rector of St. George's church; Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of St. Bartholomew's; Dr. H. A. Pritchard of Mt. Kisco, N. Y.; Dr. Elliot White, first assistant rector of Grace church; Dr. Alexander E. Cummins, rector of Christ church, Poughkeepsie; and others.

5 PHYSICIANS, DRUGGIST HIT FOR DOPE SALE

United States Commissioner James R. Glass yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of five physicians and one druggist on charges of violating the Harrison anti-narcotic law. One of the defendants is the city physician of Ottawa, Ill.

Those named in the warrants are: Drs. William A. Pike, Ottawa; Jerome J. Weil, 3149 Southport avenue; F. L. Nathanson, 4015 Washington boulevard, A. G. Fairfax, 111 West Chicago avenue, and V. C. Sperry, 769 East 39th street. The druggist is Philip J. Kolb, 2401 Clybourn avenue.

ESTRANGED WIFE KIDNAPED; 'LAZY' MATE ACCUSED

Mrs. Antoinette Bongiorno, 17 years old, 1016 Milton avenue, was kidnaped early last night by her husband, Angelo Bongiorno, and a friend of the latter, police say, while she was approaching her home with her sister.

Police were told by the father of the girl, John Miller, that she had married Bongiorno about a year ago, but had returned to his home to live when Bongiorno failed to support her. "He sent her out to work while he played pool," Miller said.

ALDERMEN PUSH NEW STREETS IN CALUMET REGION

The city council yesterday ordered full speed ahead on street improvements in the Calumet harbor district and in the vicinity of the new Ford motor plant at 130th street and Lake Calumet.

On motion of Ald. Sheldon W. Govier the council ordered ordinances drawn up for the paving of 119th street from Morgan to Western avenue; for the opening of 134th street throughout the district; for the opening of 130th street from Torrence to Indiana avenue, and directed that the paving of Michigan avenue from 124th to 127th street be pushed.

"Great industries are locating in this district, and more will come if the city keeps pace with industrial development," Ald Govier said.

BANKERS OBJECT TO SMALL'S HUGE ROAD BOND ISSUE

Still $33,000,000 Left of His Last $60,000,000.

A resolution opposing Gov. Small's plan for a new $100,000,000 good roads bond issue in addition to the present program involving $60,000,000 was adopted yesterday by the executive council of the Illinois Bankers' association at the Hotel La Salle.

Of the $60,000,000 already authorized under the five year program, approximately $17,000,000 has been subscribed for and spent. Gov. Small was in conference with Chicago bankers Monday relative to putting out another $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 worth of road bonds within the next month and the present plan is for the issuance of a total of $20,000,000 worth of bonds during 1923.

This program would leave $23,000,000 of the authorized $60,000,000 still unissued and unspent by 1924.

See Way to Self Paying Roads.

The resolution, which was presented by S. E. Bradt of De Kalb, chairman of the subcommittee on highways, and approved by the transportation committee of which W. G. Edens is chairman, sets forth that "a new bond issue at this time is neither necessary nor desirable." It recommends a "pay as you go" plan for the construction of all connnecting highways on the theory that the increase in the number of motor vehicles will increase the highway revenues to the extent of being able to finance all road building improvements in the future.

The resolution states that there are approximately sufficient funds now available to complete 3,056 miles yet to be built of the original 4,706 miles provided under the five year period without either increasing the motor fees or imposing a tax upon gasoline.

Drag Up Small's Past Failures.

The bankers point out that the need for the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue is based on the probable construction of 1,000 miles of road a year for the next two years and the consequent exhaustion of funds in 1924.

"The administration proposed to build 1,000 miles of road in 1922," the resolution continues. "What was really accomplished? The records show that there were constructed in 1922 under the supervision of the state 722 miles.

"This is correct, but of this 722 miles, 176 miles were built and paid for by the counties of the state, leaving 546 miles actually built by the state and paid for by the state and federal government. So in 1921. Four hundred and fourteen miles were built but only 286 of these were built and paid for by the state and federal government. In 1920 a total of 341 miles were built under state supervision, 288 by the state and fifty-three built and paid for by the counties. The general opinion was that a construction of 1,000 miles a year was impracticable—partly because of shortage of rail facilities.

3 WITNESSES IN COAL FRAUD CASE DROP FROM VIEW

United States District Attorney Edwin A. Olson last night announced that government agents have been unable, during a three day search, to find James Wilson and three other witnesses expected to appear today against James C. Michaels and Daniel J. Kannally, whose trial is scheduled to begin before Federal Judge Wilkerson.

Michaels and Kannally, officials of the Chest Creek Coal company, are under indictment on ten counts charging filing of false claims against railroads and one charge of conspiracy to defraud. The two men also are under state indictments charging shortweighting in contracts with the Chicago board of education.

A continuance and an order demanding the presence of the men will be asked of Judge Wilkerson, if the missing witnesses do not appear.

ence to "free from blame those wrongfully accused."

The party, according to neighbors, "may have been noisier than usual," but it did not attract undue attention. Shrill girlish sopranos shouting, "Give me the makin's," puffs of cigaret smoke clouding the windows, and several departing guests, their raiment in disorder, being "propped up" as they walked away, did not greatly startle the neighbors. They were used to it.

Alarmed at their own daring, the group swore mutual secrecy, and called off parties for a while, at least. But a freshman girl confided the scandal to a freshman boy. He in turn, infuriated that his "girl" had attended the party, reported the affair, it is believed, to Principal McDaniel.

Each of the sixteen, alone, was summoned before Principal McDaniel and questioned last Thursday. At a special meeting of the school board he presented the matter. Names of all pupils were suppressed, because, as one of the board members stated, "many of us have sons and daughters in school. Possibly they know these students, and we might be prejudiced by what they tell us.

Accordingly, in secrecy, the decision was made, and at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning Herb Watson and Frank Spencer received special delivery letters notifying them of their expulsion. Watson, protesting his entire innocence, went at once to his principal, but Mr. McDaniel is reported to have admitted that "there seemed to be no way of getting back."

Watson, who has been supporting himself through school by carrying a paper route, had intended leaving school at the end of this semester, to seek employment, but his father wishes him to be cleared of blame in any event.

Their Dual Character.

In the daytime, in the classroom, at the blackboard, the sixteen were children, dressed perhaps a bit loudly, talking of things their mothers wouldn't discuss, but giggling at childish jokes, and stamping their feet in unison when one of their companions walked into the room. But when dismissal bell rang the children grew up.

Wild dances, wild songs, cigarets, and hip liquor, often resulting in illness, and indiscriminate petting became their life after school hours—a period packed full of the sophistication of the worldly life than even a cloistered, exclusive suburb cannot shut out.

PRINCIPAL IS RETICENT

Without either affirming or denying the reports of expulsion, Principal McDaniel yesterday said. "Where there is smoke there is fire. While there is a lot of smoke, you can draw your own conclusions. My pupils know me well enough to know that I would never reveal their names, no matter what their offense."

In speaking of the general atmosphere at Oak Park High school, the principal declared it was "above the average." "A large high school," he affirmed, "is like a slice of life. It has all kinds of people. It would be a very unusual community that didn't have its indiscretions. And it would be a very abnormal school that didn't have its individual troubles."

Although none of the pupils involved belonged to secret societies, it is understood that an investigation of sororities and fraternities, banned by law, but said to be existing under cover, will be included in the scope of the school board's probe of student life.

Old Dutch Cleanser
Chases Dirt
Makes Everything "Spick and Span"

For the greatest cleaning value use Old Dutch

You'll find Old Dutch the most economical cleansing service you can use. It lasts longer; gives you more for your money.

The reason is that Old Dutch is a natural cleanser; a fine, flaky substance mined from the earth. Its particles, due to their shape, lie flat and therefore cover more surface than gritty particles. For that reason you use less Old Dutch and save time and effort in cleaning.

There's no hard grit in Old Dutch. It doesn't scratch the surface. A scratched surface, you know, collects dirt and not only makes cleaning difficult, but requires more frequent cleaning. Old Dutch leaves a clean surface, and a clean surface is always sanitary and wholesome.

There's nothing else like Old Dutch.

Rents Her Room With "Tell More" Ad

MRS. B. had an extra room in her apartment to rent, so she inserted the following ad in The Tribune:

TO RENT — 000 MARQUETTE-RD.—LADY has room to rent to lady.

After this ad had run in The Tribune a representative of the paper phoned Mrs. B. and asked her what results she had obtained from her ad. Mrs. B. had not rented the room and was apparently very discouraged. The Tribune Adtaker suggested to her that a more complete description of her comfortable room, a little more information as to location, etc., would give the Want Ad a much better chance of producing good results. Mrs. B. consented to the "tell more" idea and ran the following ad:

000 W. MARQUETTE RD., 1ST—LADY HAS comf. fur. outside rm., 1 or 2 bus. girls: priv. home: board opt.: good trans.

When The Tribune operator phoned Mrs. B. the day after her ad ran she was told that not only was the room promptly rented on the same day that the ad ran, but Mrs. B. could have rented the room twice over. "The more you tell, the quicker you sell."

Eleven Undertakers for Every Funeral

Explains Why Chicago Is Being Gouged
(See U. S. Census Report)

The first broadside in our attack upon Chicago's profiteering undertakers, published last week, burst upon those scalawags like a bomb, throwing their ranks into utter confusion.

By some of these unprincipled gougers it was greeted with wailing and the gnashing of teeth; others are whining their protestations of innocence; still others have taken a belligerent attitude and are threatening us anonymously with dire punishment if we do not immediately retract our accusations, or at least desist in our exposures.

We propose to do neither. We are resolved to carry the fight to a finish, and to do everything in our power to rid the undertaking business of these parasites whose only stock in trade is a silk hat, a frock coat, a false front "store," and a connection with at least one wholesale dealer from whose showrooms they can sell funeral supplies direct to their clients at exorbitant prices, thereby extorting millions of dollars in excessive profits from innocent victims.

We are determined to "hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may." If certain of the big undertaking firms have yielded to temptation and are justifying themselves as profiteers on the ground that they are not grabbing any more than the little fellows, let the truth be revealed so that the public may judge their guilt.

As for the conditions that make possible these dishonest practices, let the facts speak for themselves:

> Government Report No. 148, Mortality Statistics, Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, shows that during the year 1920 there were in the United States 1,142,558 deaths from all causes.

There are, in round numbers, 35,000 undertakers in the United States, which means that each day there is one funeral for each eleven undertakers.

Funerals in Chicago average about one hundred daily, or 36,500 annually. But of this total less than 2,500 are divided between an army of 200 undertakers, averaging about 12 apiece each year.

The undertakers of America's smaller cities and towns are generally a splendid body of honest, conscientious men who would scorn to take advantage of the misfortunes of others. For most of them, their profession is merely a sideline, adding a little to their everyday earnings as retail merchants of furniture and other lines of merchandise.

Contrast with their honorable conduct the laziness of many undertakers whom you know—who grab enough profit from one funeral to pay their expenses through several weeks of loafing and who appear to consider any other kind of honest work as degrading. Estimate as low as you please the business and living expenses of these idlers, and you will still see that they must make enormous profits on every funeral entrusted to them to cover their expenses.

Almost every reader of this newspaper has personal knowledge of at least one bereaved family that has been grossly overcharged, if not actually swindled, in the prices they have paid for a burial casket and funeral supplies at some time during the past five years. The name of the undertaker who profited can easily be learned if it is not already known.

"Really, it was almost shabby; I was quite surprised," is a comment that has been passed upon many a casket for which some undertaker was paid enough money to more than cover an honest price for one of the very highest grade.

How long, do you think, will the people of this city continue to tolerate these persecutors of widows and orphans, when once the truth about their methods is fully known? And how shall the truth be proved?

Simply by comparing, first, the quality and prices of the funeral supplies sold by these profiteers with the values we offer; and, second, by contrasting their custom of investing no capital in their business and selling only through some wholesale dealer's showrooms with our policy of carrying on hand at all times a complete assortment of burial caskets and supplies at both our large establishments.

Ask to see, for example, the casket we furnish for only $25.00, and note how it excels in beauty of design and in quality those for which many undertakers charge $75.00 and even $100.00. On higher grades our prices afford savings ranging from $100.00 to $300.00 and even more.

The members of an organization like ours, which cares for hundreds of funerals each year, are rarely idle. Thus the cost of doing business is reduced to a minimum, and we are able to give better service and to buy and sell funeral supplies on the basis of their actual and honest worth, from the simplest to those of finest quality.

Yet our business is not too large and our equipment and facilities are not too small to permit us to give the most complete and satisfactory service at all times and in any emergency. No client ever has occasion to complain either of delays or of unseeming haste. Instead, each funeral entrusted to our care is conducted with quiet dignity, and nothing that will avoid for the bereaved relatives unnecessary distress is left undone.

You who read this may be a member of some lodge committee assigned to attend funerals frequently. Or you may be an active worker in a welfare organization whose constant effort is to protect the unfortunate from exploitation. In either case the knowledge you and your co-workers would gain from a personal visit to either one of our establishments would enable you to be of the greatest practical help to many in an hour of grief and sorrow who would otherwise become easy victims of these disciples of greed.

Your recommendation of an undertaker to any friend should be based upon first-hand knowledge. We will gladly aid you in making any desired inquiries about us, our facilities, our experience, our prices, our service, and our reputation. We have served many families right in your neighborhood, no matter in which part of the city or suburbs you live.

ALDERMEN MAKE NEW DEMAND FOR UTILITIES RULE

Demonstrate How It Might Be Done on Franchise.

ALD. JOHN S. CLARK.

Rousing speeches in which aldermen demanded of each other that the city council go to Springfield in a body and demand home rule over public utilities festooned the unanimous order of the council yesterday directing the city law department to draw up a bill giving the city council "full and complete home rule over all public utilities operating in Chicago."

Though it was the nth time that the council has made the demand, it was voiced with more than usual determination by the speakers, most of whom are candidates for reëlection. Ald. John S. Clark presented the resolution. It attacked the surface lines, the gas company, and the telephone company for rate increases in defiance of franchise ordinances.

Wants to Get Other Cities Fighting.

Ald. Schwartz urged that the coöperation of every municipality in the state be enlisted in the move. Ald. Toman made an enthusiastic speech in which he berated former Gov. Dunne, without mentioning the latter's name, for his failure to veto the bill vesting control of utilities in a state commission. Ald. Woodhull, Govier, Olsen, and Lyle also spoke.

Soon after the resolution had been passed the council gave a demonstration on how to handle utility problems. The Reliance Electric company is seeking a twenty year extension of its signal and burglar alarm franchise along Milwaukee avenue and the extension of its territory. The request has been batted from pillar to post for eighteen months.

Ald. Thomas O. Wallace charged that Ald. Louis B. Anderson, who opposed certain features of the grant, was "representing" the Western Union Telegraph company in an effort to stifle competition.

Hints at Outside Influences.

"There are just three objections to this ordinance—the Western Union, the A. D. T., and the I. D. T.," Ald. Wallace said. He added that Western Union representatives are "seeing" many aldermen.

Ald. James B. Bowler, in a fighting mood, told Ald. Maypole frankly that he didn't know "a thing about the ordinance" and had not even read it, when Maypole began to discuss it.

After a two hour debate, in which Ald. L. B. Anderson refused to permit his amendments to be studied by a committee, the council took a recess until next Wednesday.

Previously the council received Mayor Thompson's appointment of Tomas Deuther to the Chicago plan commission and Paul Hazard, Hyde Park real estate man, to the public library board.

On motion of Ald. Johntry the state legislature was asked to empower the mayor to remove members of the board of education. The election board was authorized to sell 200 voting machines which have been costing the city $200 in storage charges for years.

SURFACE LINES TRY TO BAR MORE BUSSES IN LOOP

Objections to operation of motor busses in loop streets on which street cars run were made yesterday before the Illinois commerce commission. The Chicago Motor Bus company applied for a petition to operate motor busses on the west side and on certain streets in the loop.

The surface lines' representatives said the operation of such busses would increase loop congestion and would be detrimental to public interests and to street car service.

SON OF DANISH KING SEEKS AUTHORITY TO WED CANADIAN GIRL

PRINCE ERIC.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Prince Eric, second son of King Christian of Denmark, has cabled Danish government officials for authority to marry Miss Lois Booth of this city, granddaughter of J. R. Booth, who, at the age of 96, is Canada's wealthiest lumber king.

Following the announcement of the engagement of the prince and Miss Booth, it was discovered that the prince could not marry a commoner without the proper authority, which he is now seeking.

Prince Eric and Miss Booth met in Calgary, Alberta, two years ago. The prince has a ranching and dairy farm on the outskirts of that city, where, in the interests of the Danish government, he is making a study of dairying.

The prince was a guest tonight of the governor general, Lord Byng of Vimy.

ENGINEERS WILL OPEN SEVERAL BANKS IN N. Y.

New York, Jan. 24.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which Monday purchased a large interest in the Empire Trust company, today announced that within a week it would apply for a charter for a bank in New York City, to be owned exclusively by the labor union, with branches located throughout the metropolis.

Purchase of the Empire Trust company stock, accompanied by the election to its directorate of two of the brotherhood's high officials, "in no way interferes with our plan of opening several banks in the city of New York," Warren S. Stone, president of the union, announced.

"In fact," Mr. Stone continued, "during the coming week I expect to apply for a charter for a bank in New York City, to be operated under the name of the brotherhood and owned exclusively by members of the organization, to be operated on the coöperative principle."

WIFE CHIDED AT DIVORCE REVEL; CALLS IT CRUEL

Mrs. Isadora Beardsley entered a suit for divorce yesterday against Claude Beardsley, manufacturer's agent, on grounds of cruelty, one specific instance of which she said was a hilarious party he held for his friends to celebrate their separation. She was a guest.

According to Mrs. Beardsley, they decided to separate last October and shortly afterward, at a function at the Olympia Fields Country club, Beardsley arose and shouted.

"All you people are invited to come to a party at the College Inn to celebzrate my separation from my wife."

When the separation party was held, she said, Beardsley became so angry over her dances with "Dr. Port" that he ordered her home, but thought again and said, "No, go to hell and take Dr. Port with you."

WOLVES KEEP UP DEPREDATIONS NEAR MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—Wolves are preying on farms and terrorizing the village of Granville, a short distance north of Milwaukee. A horse and dog have been killed almost at the north edge of the village and so many persons have reported seeing wolves that women on neighborhood farms are living in fear.

Today forty or fifty men with dogs, shotguns, and rifles set out to hunt the marauders. Villagers declare there must be eight or ten wolves in the pack.

They broke into a pig pen on the farm of Mike Dinlinger, near Granville, last night and killed a 200 pound hog, devouring part of it.

Detailed Want Ad
Doubles His Sales

MR. O. was a dealer in used cars and had a fair size shop on South Michigan Avenue. He ran the following ad to sell a Jordan car:

JORDAN—SPORT, 4 PASS.; HAS SEAT covers, lock and many extras; will sacrifice for $675. O'R. 0000 S. Michigan. Calumet 0000.

When The Tribune Adtaker called him up to find what results he had obtained from the ad, she was informed that the ad had pulled only a few indifferent replies. The Adtaker suggested to him that he include in his ad more interesting details about the car that was for sale. Mr. O. revised his ad and ran it as follows:

Jordan Sport. This car has been put through our shop and is mechanically perfect. Has a good set of tires, new seat covers, etc. Does not need refinishing. An opportunity to secure a high class car at an exceptional price $675
O'R. 0000 S. Michigan.

When The Tribune Adtaker called Mr. O. again she learned that he had not only sold the Jordan but had sold one of his other cars to the prospects he received from the ad. "The more you tell, the quicker you sell."

The Secret of Want Ad Success

THE MODERN CHICAGO WOMAN doesn't let her husband take THE TRIBUNE with him when he goes to work. She keeps it for herself and reads it carefully. Her husband buys another at the station or on the corner.

LINK BRIDGE ON STRIKE; TRAFFIC IN GORDIAN KNOT

Takes 100 Cops Hours to Untangle Jumble.

A burned out fuse which tied up the double decked Michigan avenue bridge for twenty-seven minutes yesterday caused a traffic jam which took nearly a hundred traffic policemen several hours to untangle. The congestion was felt all over the loop district, as the other five bridges connecting the loop with the near north side were unable to take care of the traffic diverted to them.

The tie-up occurred shortly before 11 o'clock, when the bridge tenders raised the big structure to permit passage of a vessel.

Fault Finally Located.

After it was up one of the leaves could not be lowered, and it was nearly half an hour before the fault was located by electrical experts and corrected.

In the meantime north and south automobile and motor bus traffic on the upper level of the boulevard and team and truck traffic on the lower level was at a standstill. By the time is was determined that the bridge could not be lowered the boulevard was jammed with automobiles as far north as Chicago avenue and as far south as Van Buren street.

Efforts to divert the traffic over the State, Dearborn, Clark, Wells, and Franklin-Orleans street bridges immediately demonstrated that they were not equal to the task. Trucks and drays en route to train sheds and warehouses along the north branch of the river were tangled up with the machines and motor busses from the boulevard, and the street cars which regularly use the bridges, so that it was almost impossible for police to keep them moving.

Traffic Jumble in Loop.

Northbound traffic, having once crossed the river, was soon untangled and on its way, but southward it was another matter. With the exception of the new Franklin-Orleans bridge, all the other arteries across the river have to pass through the crowded and congested South Water street district, and the traffic, having negotiated this, tangled up with the jam in the loop.

The new Franklin-Orleans bridge, constructed with the idea of eliminating much of the loop congestion, was of little avail, because it was so hard to reach from the boulevard, and even it runs into a busy section of the downtown district.

"It was almost as bad a jam as the one a few weeks ago when a fire tied up Michigan avenue," said one motorist. "It took me nearly an hour to get from Erie to Adams street, and I couldn't get out of the congestion on State street until I reached Congress. The tie-up again demonstrates the need of more outlets from the loop to the north side."

Means of Outlet Inadequate.

Traffic experts are unanimous in stating that the Michigan avenue bridge cannot take care of the north and south automobile traffic, which has increased far beyond the expectations of the Chicago plan officials. The South Water street improvement, which provides for a double decked street, and the proposed outer drive, it is hoped, will, in a measure, relieve the congestion, but it will be years before they are realities.

FALLS DEAD AT WORK.

John Gaffgo, 60 years old, who lives in the vicinity of South Keystone avenue and West Congress street, an employé of James B. Clow & Sons, 544 South Franklin street, fell dead at the plant yesterday.

DOUBTS BENEFIT IN LIFTING BARS ON IMMIGRATION

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Doubt as to the desirability of relaxing immigration restrictions in such a way as to relieve the shortage of common labor was expressed by W. W. Husband, commissioner general of immigration of the department of labor, today before the senate committee on immigration. Mr. Husband avoided taking a definite position on the subject and declined to express an opinion for or against the pending Reed bill increasing the quota percentage from 3 to 5 and changing the basis from the census of 1910 to that of 1890.

Comments by Mr. Husband, however, indicated that he was not at all sure that the plea of manufacturers for a relaxation of restrictions, such as provided by the Colt bill, is desirable.

Mr. Husband was asked by Senator Sterling [Rep., S. D.] if he was familiar with the claim of the steel industry that it has a shortage of 40 per cent in common labor.

"Yes," replied Mr. Husband; "I am also aware of the fact that there is a surplus of probably 250,000 workers in the bituminous coal industry."

A delegation from the National Crushed Stone association, headed by O. M. Graves of Easton, Pa., appeared before the committee to emphasize the need of additional laborers.

Peoples Gas Co.,

Dec. 18, 1922.

Gentlemen:

I overheard my wife admonish one of the young folks about the use of gas, and she said: "Your father loves to pay a gas bill" which I thought was pretty good.

As a matter of fact, there is no bill I pay more cheerfully for it represents a service I very much appreciate. Last fall, as a safeguard against the coal shortage, I put in a "Radiantfire", setting it up in the cold corner of the dining room. Although we have a bin full of coal, we use it frequently. Sometimes the furnace doesn't supply the required heat, and especially in the morning or late in the evening, the fire is low and more heat is desirable.

In such a case, the "Radiantfire" fills in the gap. I have another water gas heater for the front room, and between them and the furnace, we are ready for all kinds of weather, especially damp, clammy weather, when the furnace doesn't seem to draw. I don't think I 'enjoy' paying bills of any kind, but I seem to get more for my money out of the gas bills than any other. They represent service that I appreciate.

Yours sincerely,

Geo A Rogers

Why Corns?

Just say Blue-jay to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in thin plasters. The action is the same.

STOCK EXCHANGE CALLED PUBLIC'S MARKET PLACE

People's Need for It Great, Chicagoans Told.

A genuine public ownership of American corporations, bringing new vitality into the companies and in time acting as a solvent to the quarrels of capital and labor, is being unobtrusively brought about by stock exchanges, according to Seymour Cromwell, president of the New York stock exchange, who spoke before a meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday.

The stock exchange was declared to be a people's market by Mr. Cromwell. He said that it is simply a national clearing house for all transactions in securities. By the purchase of securities the vast majority of Americans themselves become both capitalists and laborers, he added.

Need More Publicity.

"Present legislation could be improved by compelling a greater and more widely disseminated amount of publicity regarding corporation affairs than is afforded today," said Mr. Cromwell. "The stock exchange has long enforced such a provision with regard to the companies who list stock on its board, and this corporate publicity, since it affords the means of judging the real value of such securities itself, has proved of great value to our investing public. Laws requiring that sworn statements should be filed coincident with the issuing of securities and semi-annually thereafter would strike a blow at fake promotions, Mr. Cromwell said.

Real Root of Farm Depression.

"The low price of farm products is wrongfully blamed on credit, instead of the real root of the trouble—the inability of European customers to buy," he continued. "Our farmers are nevertheless led to think that such an agriculture depression as the present could be prevented by some different system of banking and credit and consequently are apt to lend a sympathetic ear to radical and unsound proposals to that effect.

"The federal reserve system must not be allowed to become the football of American politics, as our banking systems frequently have been in the past. American banking problems must be solved by scientific analysis and study, not by vehement speeches."

GRAFTING PIG EYE TO HUMAN EYE SEEMS SUCCESS

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 24.—Dr. Edward B. Morgan, who yesterday grafted portions of a pig's eye to the eye of Alfred Lemanowicz in an effort to restore the 17 year old boy's sight, today pronounced the operation a success.

When the bandage was removed young Lemanowicz declared he could distinguish between light and darkness. The condition of the eye was healthy, the doctor said. All hemorrhage had stopped and there was no fever.

It will be at least ten days, however, before the bandage can be permanently dispensed with, Dr. Morgan said.

NEITHER JOHN D. OWNS STOCK IN STANDARD OF IND.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Stock of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana is so widely scattered that the aggregate of the holdings of all possessing more than 1 per cent represents less than one-fourth of the total outstanding, Robert W. Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the board of the company, testified today before the La Follette subcommittee of the senate committee on manufactures which is investigating the oil industry.

The list of stockholders furnished by Mr. Stewart disclosed that neither John D. Rockefeller Sr. nor John D. Jr. now holds any stock directly. Gilbert E. Roe, counsel for the committee, remarked that this was the first Standard Oil company investigated by the committee in which the younger Rockefeller was not one of the principal stockholders. He inquired of Mr. Stewart why this was, but the witness said he did not know.

The Rockefeller Foundation was shown to be the largest single stockholder, its holdings amounting to 5.25 per cent of the 8,807,265 shares outstanding. One of the next largest holdings is that of the Equitable Trust company of New York, which holds 2.72 per cent of the stock for Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick of Chicago, daughter of John D. Rockefeller Sr. and divorced wife of Harold F. McCormick. The Equitable Trust company also holds 2.72 per cent of the stock for Alta Rockefeller Prentice

TRIBUNE TOWER DRAWINGS GO ON 3 MONTHS' TOUR

The original drawings of skyscrapers submitted in THE TRIBUNE'S $100,000 architectural competition—135 drawings, submitted by the cream of the architectural talent of twenty-two nations—have left Chicago on an exhibition tour of the country which will not bring them back to Chicago for public exhibition at the Art institute until early in May.

Requests for the privilege of showing these works have poured in from all parts of the country, from art societies and art institutes, from universities and architectural schools, from all the chapters of the American Institute of Architecture, from commercial clubs, banks, department stores, and even private individuals.

Tour at The Tribune's Expense.

Many of these have offered to defray the entire expense of showing the drawings in their cities, but the entire expense of transportation and arrangement is being borne by THE TRIBUNE, the only stipulation being that those organizations desiring them furnish adequate space for their display.

A regular tour has been mapped out. Only those applicants for the exhibit can be accommodated whose location and date of display are in harmony with the itinerary.

This week the drawings are being shown at the University of Illinois at Urbana. From there they will be taken to Peoria, Kansas City, the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, Omaha, the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, and Milwaukee.

Cross Border for Montreal Exhibit.

The exhibit is expected to be back in Chicago the latter part of February in time for an eastern swing during March—the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Toledo, Detroit, Cleveland, Columbus the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania State college at Scranton, Princeton university, and New York City.

During April the exhibit will be at McGill university at Montreal, Harvard, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston, Yale, and again at other places in New York City.

Blames City for Holdups, Death, on Unlighted Street

Seven robberies in the last two weeks and several automobile accidents in one of which a child was killed on Ogden avenue between Center and Division streets, were charged to the failure of the city administration to light the thoroughfare, by Ald. Arthur F. Albert in city council yesterday. The aldermen, at Albert's request, ordered the commissioner of gas and electricity to put up a temporary lighting system at once.

U. OF C. CLASHES WITH CITIZENS ON ZONING PLAN

The city zoning commission, at its third public hearing yesterday, ran into a controversy between the University of Chicago and property owners along Harper avenue between East 57th and East 58th streets. It involved the desire of the university to erect a heating plant at 57th street and Harper avenue.

Prof. Walter F. Dodds, representing the university, told the commission that the proposed designation of the block as a residential section would frustrate the school's plan. L. H. Kellogg, 5726 Harper avenue, who declared he represented forty-one out of forty-eight of the property owners in the block, demanded that the zoning ordinance stand. The commission took the question under advisement.

CITY FORCED TO GET A $2,500,000 LOAN FOR WAGES

Notwithstanding Mayor Thompson's city hall billboards depicting Chicago's financial condition as excellent, the city council yesterday was obliged to authorize a loan of $2,500,000 from the city trust funds to the corporate fund to meet February pay rolls. Certificates of indebtedness, bearing 4½ per cent interest, will be placed in the trust funds as security for the money taken to pay the policemen, firemen, health officers and other employes, including Mayor Thompson himself.

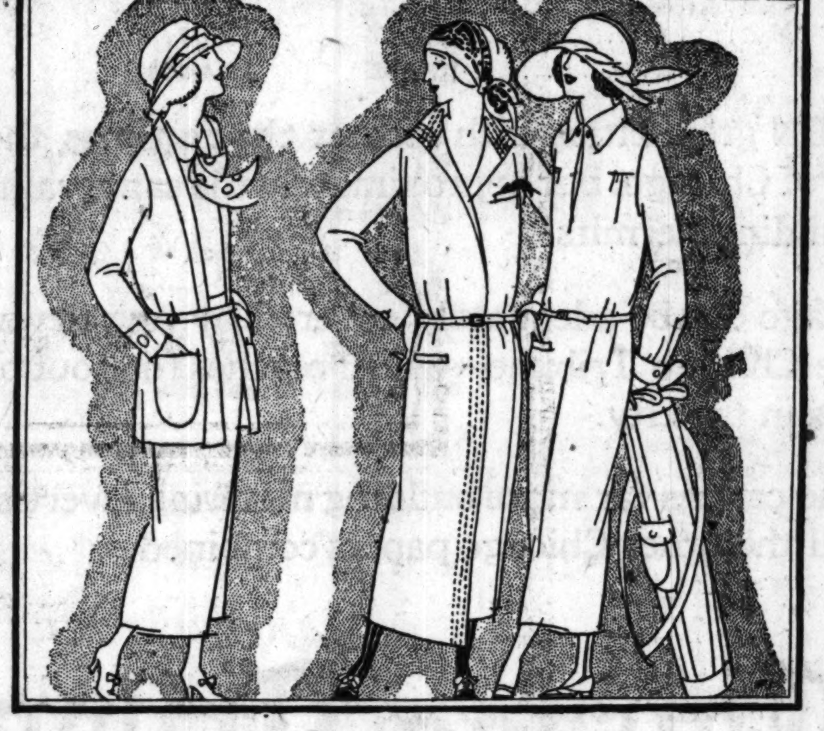
IN OUR SPORTS APPAREL SECTION



The World Plays with You in Comely Sports Clothes

INSPIRATION to enter new fields of endeavor comes after viewing the infinite variety of smart and enticing costumes that compellingly demonstrate the attractiveness of outdoor life. So play and the world plays with you—in comely Sports Clothes.

The sportswoman finds her correct and complete equipment in our Sports Apparel Section, no matter whether she specializes in one activity or all.

At Winter's Court

IN mannish Knickers or warm wool Skirts and heavy "athletic" Sweaters, skating enthusiasts win King Winter's favor with fancy Dutch rolls, figure eights, and spread eagles. Knicker Suits in sturdy materials, as well as new separate sports Skirts in mammoth plaids or in checks worn with heavy slip-on Sweaters in different colors, are particularly popular.

Treasure Trove

FOR adventuring in the sand and sunshine and southern surf the proper garb is a plain all-wool Bathing Suit, enlivened by colored bands or bright embroidered motifs. A long enveloping beach cape, swimming shoes and a brazenly piratical Deauville handkerchief tied over the rubber diving cap, are the necessary accomplices to a successful sally at the seaside.

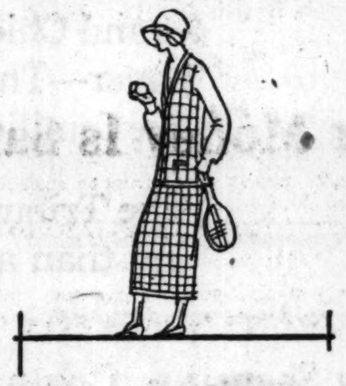
"To Sport with Amaryllis in the Shade"

FOR the gentler sports of watching the tennis tournament or following the races, imported knitted Dresses in wool or silk fibre, or demurely simple monogrammed wash flannel models, are quite irresistible. Again the Deauville or Batik Handkerchiefs, so often worn with sports Dresses, buoyantly flaunt a care-free atmosphere that is altogether gay.

Sports Apparel, Sixth Floor, South, State

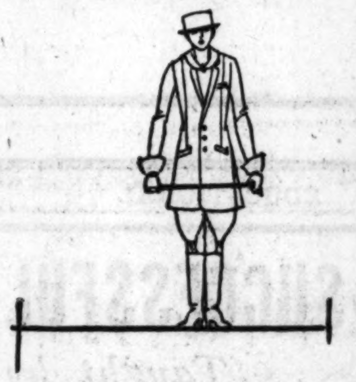
Forty Love—and Game

A RACQUET star can be lithesomely lovely and have complete freedom of movement in a two-piece knitted Suit whose plaid front sweater coat has plain sleeves and back. Suits in blue with black and red subordinated in the plaid, or white and henna Suits, embroidered, are unusually clever.



To Boots and Saddle

ALL wool Habits with straight line coats, in imported rough fabrics, are correct for the true horsewoman who recognizes the important essential of appearing her best in perfectly tailored Habit and smart accessories.



Miami Sand Traps

—are merely a means to an end for her who wears a white flannel or silk Skirt with a mannish Sweater Coat of light camel's hair or mohair with a fancy plaid front—that is, if she plays as well as she looks.

Jacquette Sweaters of wool-and-fibre combination, and Knicker-skirts, are among the latest novelties.

Long Trails A-Winding

Dear Mary—

I have found out the name of that wonderful motion picture that everybody is talking about. It is Quincy Adams Sawyer. You remember how we enjoyed the book by Charles Felton Pidgin when you and I read it together a few years ago. Well Sawyer and Lubin the producers have made it into a picture with all of the stars that you and I have mentioned— Just think of it, in one picture they have—Blanche Sweet, Barbara La Marr, John Bowers, Elmo Lincoln, Lon Chaney, Louise Fazenda, Joseph Dowling, Claire McDowell, Edward Connelly, June Elvidge, Gale Henry, Kate Lester, Hank Mann, Billy Franey, Millie Davenport and Victor Potel. Isn't that a marvelous lot of stars for one picture. And all of them are my favorites too.— Quincy Adams Sawyer is going to play all week at Balaban & Katz's Chicago Theatre beginning Mon. Jan 29.— Don't make any date for that night so we can both go and enjoy it together. I hear there is a wonderful fight scene in it between Bowers and Lincoln, a plunge of a horse and a rider off a steep cliff which makes you shiver as you watch it and toward the end of the picture the biggest thrill ever shown in any picture. A ferryboat is drifting down the river toward the rapids. Blanche Sweet is alone on the boat. Every second it is being whirled closer and closer to the whirlpool— If the boat goes over the rapids, it will be broken to pieces and Blanche Sweet will be killed. Just think Mary, the boat gets to the very brink of the terrible swirling waters with the girl clinging desperately to the side, then— But just because I know what happens. I am not going to spoil it for you. I will meet you Monday night in front of Balaban & Katz's Chicago Theatre and we will see Quincy Adams Sawyer together.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

OPERATORS AND MINERS SIGN 1923 PAY SCALE

New York, Jan. 24.—[By Associated Press.]—Bituminous coal operators and officials of the United Mine Workers of America today signed a new agreement running for one year and covering the tristate competitive field of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana. This agreement will be used as a standard for fixing wages and working conditions throughout the bituminous territory.

In a resolution passed after the contract had been signed, the negotiators professed to see the setting up of machinery which, in the words of a labor chief, "will tend to eliminate the annual coal strike bugbear."

Meet Next January.

It was a resolution that the joint subcommittee of operators and miners should meet Jan. 8, 1924, to prepare a new agreement in advance of the expiration of the current one, on April 1, 1924.

Recent strikes, and strike "scares," causing fuel famines, abnormal markets, high prices, and industrial instability, have been due, it was pointed out, to the inability of operators and miners to get together. The standing subcommittee overcomes this obstacle, it is believed.

Seventeen on Committee.

The subcommittee is composed of seventeen, with Michael Gallagher, Ohio operator, as chairman, William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, as secretary, and W. L. Robinson, also an operator, as assistant secretary. The personnel includes high officials of the union and representative operators of the tristate competitive field.

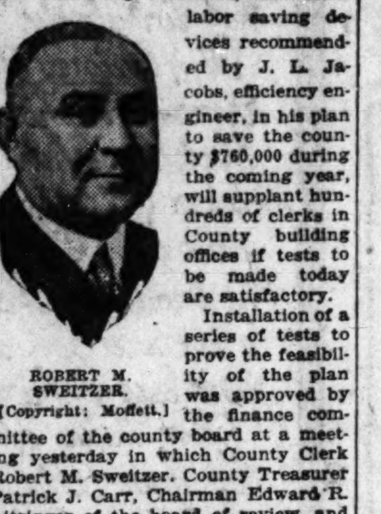
John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, predicted tonight that the new contract will be made a basis for wage agreements in all other coal producing fields.

"We have assurances," he said, "that contracts will rapidly be executed in all bituminous districts not embraced in this conference within two weeks."

TEST PLAN TODAY PROFFERED FOR COUNTY ECONOMY

To Try Machines for Clerical Work.

Cameras, addressing, billing, sorting, and tabulating machines, and other labor saving devices recommended by J. L. Jacobs, efficiency engineer, in his plan to save the county $760,000 during the coming year, will supplant hundreds of clerks in County building offices if tests to be made today are satisfactory.

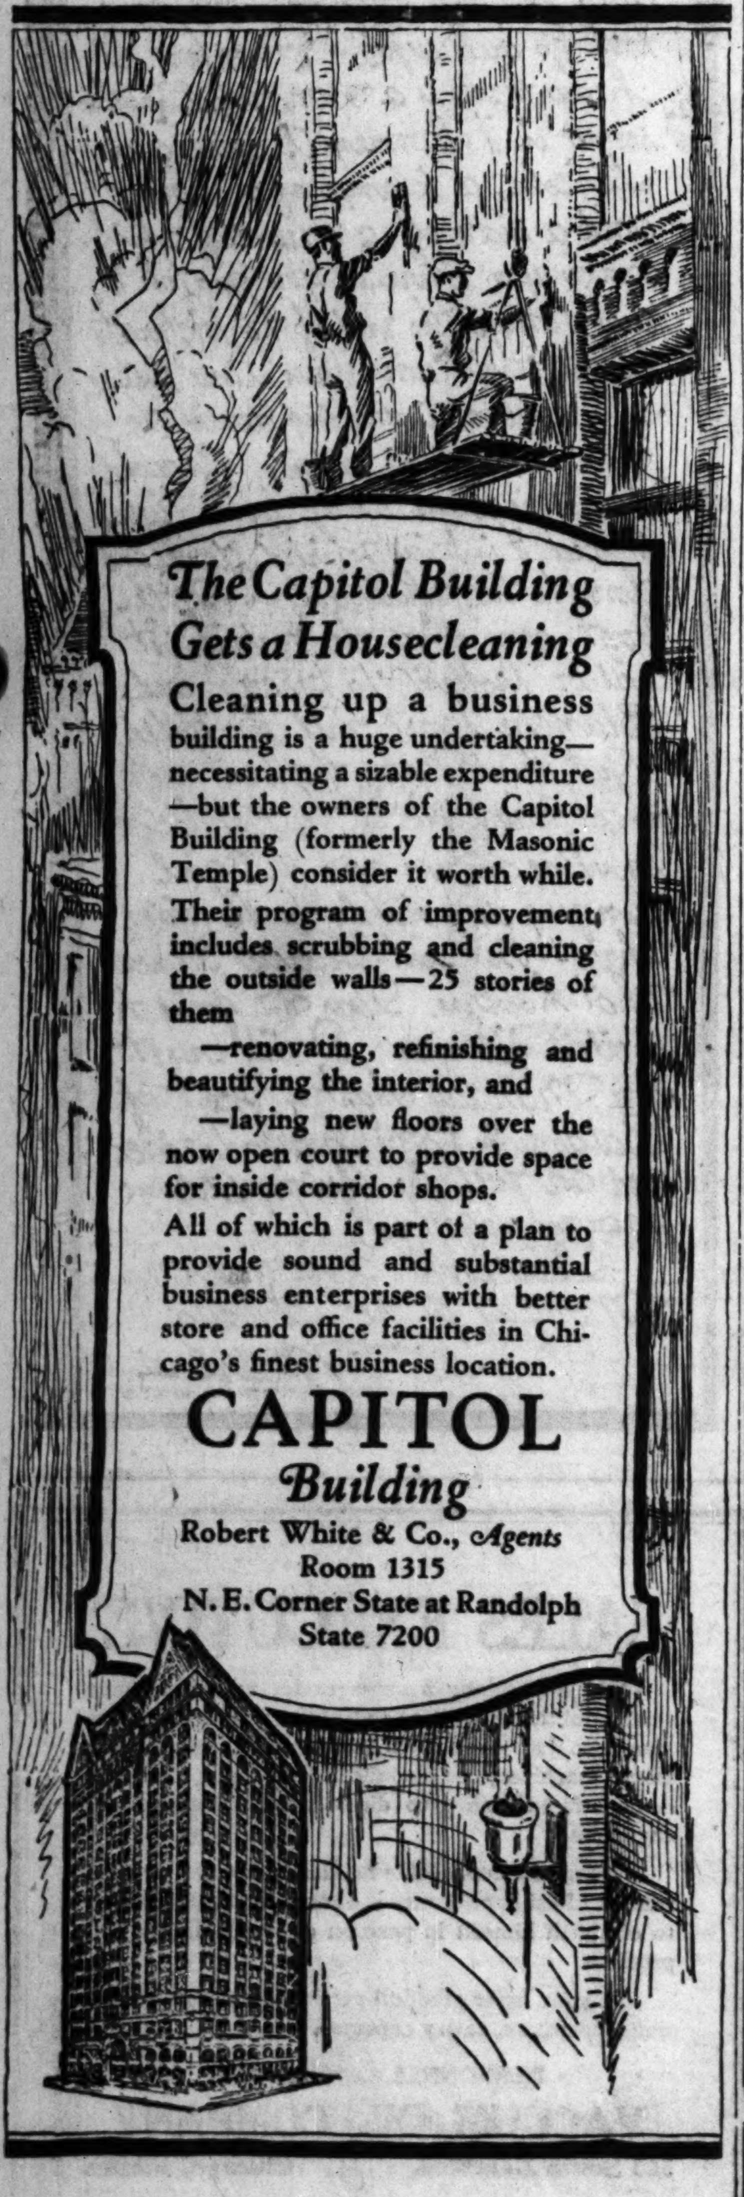


ROBERT M. SWEITZER.
[Copyright: Moffett.]

Installation of a series of tests to prove the feasibility of the plan was approved by the finance committee of the county board at a meeting yesterday in which County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer, County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr, Chairman Edward R. Litsinger of the board of review, and Judges Thomas J. Lynch Harry M. Fisher and Victor P. Arnold participated.

Records in the offices of the county clerk, treasurer, assessors and board of review now copied four times in longhand will be reproduced photographically at an estimated annual saving to the county of $100,000, according to Mr. Jacobs.

Personal and real estate tax notices, now prepared in the county treasurer's office in longhand, will be compiled on automatic billing and addressing machines. Under the present system the names of the assessed personal property owners are rewritten at least six times in the board of assessors office, and the names and addresses of individuals assessed for personal property taxes are written in longhand fifteen to eighteen times in the county treasurer's office.



The Capitol Building Gets a Housecleaning

Cleaning up a business building is a huge undertaking—necessitating a sizable expenditure—but the owners of the Capitol Building (formerly the Masonic Temple) consider it worth while.

Their program of improvement includes scrubbing and cleaning the outside walls—25 stories of them

—renovating, refinishing and beautifying the interior, and —laying new floors over the now open court to provide space for inside corridor shops.

All of which is part of a plan to provide sound and substantial business enterprises with better store and office facilities in Chicago's finest business location.

LABOR LAWS FOR CHILDREN IN N. C. WELL ENFORCED

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Child labor conditions in the cotton mills of North Carolina seem to be far different from the general idea pictured on the outside. In the last ten years this state has experienced a tremendous development in industry and commerces, one of the greatest growths of any of the states, and with it has come an evolution in educational and labor laws. The position of the state is that it is keeping well up with advanced legislation in other states, running ahead even of textile sections in New England.

The impression the visitor gets from mill villages in this region, one of the greatest textile districts in the country, is not one of juvenile exploitation, despite much that has been said to the contrary by some child welfare workers. Under the present laws of the state the employment of children under 14 years of age is prohibited in the mills and factories and several other establishments, excepting that a boy of 12 to 14 years may work outside school hours if he gets a physician's certificate from the welfare department. This exception is to meet cases where the head of a family dies or is incapacitated, and, at present a mother's aid bill is pending in the legislature designed to make it unnecessary for boys of 12 to 14 to work in industry to help support the family.

Law Well Enforced.

Children between 14 and 16 years are required to have physical certificates before they may be employed in mills, and the state authorities report that this is being well enforced, in one county one-third of the applicants being refused certificates because they were not physically fit. No one under 16 may work at night.

In the matter of hours, however, the criticism has been widely made by the national child labor committee and others that the North Carolina laws permit the overworking of the younger operatives. They stress the fact that the law permits a work week of sixty hours where the federal law said forty-eight hours. As a matter of fact, however, the great bulk of the mills have installed the fifty-five hour week.

Two years ago more than half of the 513 mills in the state worked a sixty hour week, which means an eleven hour day. Today, according to reliable information, less than one-fifth of the mills have the sixty hour week.

8,283 at Work Now.

The latest report gives the number of children at work in the mills under 16 years as 8,283. Apparently about 1,500 of these work a sixty hour week and the rest a fifty-five hour week. The authorities say the number under 14 years in this total is small. Comparing this with the east, a fifty-four hour work week for children is allowed in New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maine, and Rhode Island. Cotton manufacturers here point out that in this state less than fifteen years ago a sixty-six hour week was the general custom in the mills.

As to whether a fifty-five hour week is too prolonged, a strain on the 14 to 16 year old workers, most of the boys under 16 are employed as doffer boys; when bobbins become full the boys remove them. Between doffs they are at liberty, so that the actual hour worked does not run more than five or six hours a day.

MAN SENTENCED FOR JEWEL THEFT.

Charged with having stolen jewelry valued at $168 from Sears, Roebuck & Co., where he was employed, Joseph Fuller, 441 South Halsted street, was sentenced to sixty days in the House of Correction and fined $25 by Judge Schulman yesterday.

NORBECK-NELSON BILL IS APPROVED BY SENATE BODY

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—[Special.]—The Norbeck-Nelson bill was favorably reported out of the senate agricultural committee by a unanimous vote this morning, immediately following the closing testimony given by farmers and bankers supporting the measure to extend credit to foreign buyers. The patron of the bill, Senator Peter Norbeck [Rep., S. D.,], was also authorized to offer the bill as an amendment to the Lenroot-Anderson bill.

Quick Action on Bill.

Quick and favorable action on the Norbeck-Nelson bill followed the testimony given by Gray Silver, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, with more than a million members.

In reviewing the fact to show the need of legislation to aid farmers in disposing of their surplus crops at a good price, Mr. Silver said:

"America has a surplus of grain. Europe's exporting countries have fallen short in grain production and will not be able to meet the demand. There is a vast foreign market open to farmers of the United States. Europe would buy more of our surplus agricultural products if her importers could get credit.

Will Boost Farm Prices.

In his testimony, Mr. Silver pointed out that if the plan of the proposed bill was put into operation it would not start the government into the business of buying and selling, as some measures do, but would only tend to aid responsible importers from a revolving fund of $250,000,000 furnished by the War Finance corporation. With the corporation's machinery already in existence, this bill, if passed, will provide quick relief and will have a strong tendency to boost farm prices. Farmers will get the direct benefit of these better prices if congress will act quickly, he said.

Start the Day Right

Most people like a cereal that makes them chew—for the chewing insures perfect digestion. That's the reason that millions eat

Shredded Wheat

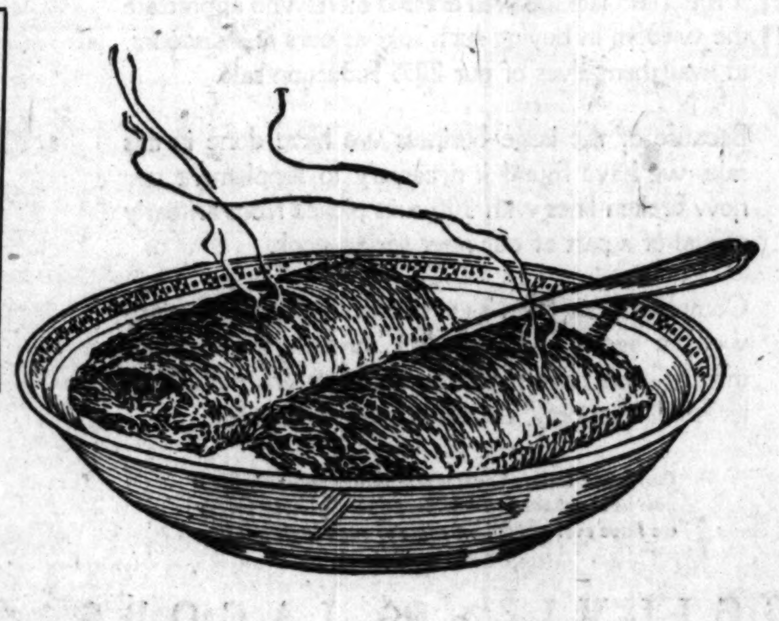
Its crisp, tasty shreds of baked whole wheat encourage thorough mastication.

For those who like a mush or porridge, however, there is nothing so nourishing and satisfying as Shredded Wheat porridge, and nothing so easy to make. Put the Shredded Wheat Biscuits in a small saucepan, add salt and enough water to cover the bottom of the pan; stir and boil until it thickens, then serve with milk or cream. Better than ordinary porridge for youngsters or grown-ups.

A DELICIOUS, NOURISHING WHOLE-WHEAT BREAD

Here is the recipe for that famous "Shredded Wheat Bread" by Alice Bradley, principal of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery, published in Woman's Home Companion:

Break six shredded wheat biscuits into bread bowl, add two cups of boiling water. When cool, add two cups scalded milk, one-half cup molasses, two tablespoons shortening, one tablespoon salt, yeast dissolved in one-quarter cup lukewarm water, and flour to knead (about six cups). Finish like white bread. Half white and half whole wheat flour may be used.



TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—eaten with butter, soft cheese or marmalades.

C. A. A. TANKERS DOWN MAROONS BY 37-31 SCORE

RALPH LEVY.

Chicago Athletic association swimmers cast anchor six knots ahead of the Maroon tank squad at the University of Chicago last night, beating the Midway varsity 37 to 31 in the swimming events, though completely outclassed in the water basketball tilt, which was won by the Maroons, 10 to 0.

Maroon points were for the most part won on second and third places, though in the 150 yard back stroke Levy and White of Chicago took first and second, beating Hafner, entry of the athletic association. The absence of Capt. Ed Blinks from the Chicago lineup made a big difference in the performance of the squad, no other Maroon being equal to his speed in the relay, 40, 220, or 100 yard swims.

Two players on the athletic club cage squad are former Maroons, Dick Flint and Dunnie Clark, both having University of Chicago records. Ken Gilchrist and F. Janovsky were the outstanding performers on the Maroon squad, Capt. Livingston Hall playing a good guard game in deep water and Mike Greenebaum putting up a hard defensive fight in the shallow end. Summaries:

Fancy diving—Won by Halvorsen [C. A. A.], Dorff [U. C.] second, Sterling [U. C.] third. Winner's points—104.45.

40 yard swim—Won by Leach [C. A. A.], Gleason [U. C.] second, Van Derventer [U. C.] third. Time—:19 4-5.

200 yard breast stroke—Won by Peterson [C. A. A.], Lyon [U. C.] second; Harkins [U. C.] third. Time—2:51 2-5.

220 yard swim—Won by Browne [C. A. A.], Protheroe [U. C.] second, Norton [C. A. A.] third. Time—2:31 4-5.

100 yard swim—Won by Elliott [C. A. A.], Gleason [U. C.] second, Van Derventer [U. C.] third. Time—1:58 4-5.

Water basketball—Won by University of Chicago. Score, 10 to 0.

BACHELOR FLAT.

It is not so in-trik-it as one might suppose;
On essentials you dine, and details are but few;
And the frying of bacon is easy to do;
Preparation of ham is quite speedily through;
You can bake a potato with never a bat
Of the eye, and the Java: O, well, let it brew—
But the grease of the skillet's the jinx of the flat.

It carpets the range and it splatters your clothes;
It renders the walls curlicuetively new;
It splutters in glee as it scorches your nose;
If you care for your sight it means goggles for you;
You'd think from its fondness for leaping askew
It would all splash away of its own urge to scat;
Not a chance! More remains than is popping a-strew—

While the meal is progressing it grows and it grows
And it swells and it swells to an ocean of goo
Till the cleaning-up starts, when it instantly shows
Disposition to freeze to the dishes like glue;
You rub and you scrape and you jabber and stew
And you fuss and you cuss as you go to the mat
With the fat you begat with your simple me-nu—
The grease of the skillet's the jinx of the flat!

JOIE TO RETIRE

JOIE RAY, I. A. C. flash and record holder in the mile run, announced last night that following the present indoor season he will retire from track competition to devote his time to business.

Ray's decision is hastened by his present squabble with the Central A. A. U. over his eligibility. He asserted last night that since his reinstatement by President Charles D. Lynch of the Central A. A. U., after suspension by the central registration officials, he plans to leave next Monday for the east to participate in the meets at Newark, New York, and Boston.

"Joie Ray has been reinstated and will leave on Monday to compete in eastern indoor track meets," Charles A. Dean, chairman of the athletic committee of the Illinois A. C., declared yesterday. This statement was made by Dean in answer to the announcement made Tuesday night by Secretary Harry Berz of the Central A. A. U. registration committee, that he had no official word of Ray's reinstatement and that the I. A. C. flyer would not be allowed to leave the Central A. A. U. territory to compete until such notice had come to him.

Chairman Dean declared that President Charles D. Lynch of Detroit, head of the Central A. A. U., had wired Ray of his reinstatement and that the matter of the suspension was closed as far as Ray was concerned. "The executive committee of the Central A. A. U. voted to clear Ray of the charges brought up by Berz by a vote of 13 to 2," Dean said yesterday.

"President Lynch was in Chicago last Saturday and personally showed me the result of the telegraphic vote taken on Ray's case," Dean declared. "Berz and Paul Henning, president of the central A. A. U. registration committee, were the only two members of the executive committee who opposed the reinstatement."

"Joie Ray was a member of the boxing club at the Arcade gym when he competed in the bouts there," Chairman Dean said, "and is fully within his rights. Mr. Howard of the gymnasium stood ready at all times and was anxious to obtain a Central A. A. U. sanction for the tournaments he conducted, and I am informed that Howard was told, when he applied for a sanction, to forget about it and run his show."

MAROON STARS ENTER I. A. C. TRACK EVENTS

Maroon track stars will be represented in the college events at the Illinois Athletic club meet tomorrow night by a dozen leading representatives of the Midway team.

Tom Eck, University of Chicago trainer, will enter Brickman and Jones in the hurdles, Krogh in the distance runs, and Stitt, Rudnick, Kennedy, and Krogh in the two mile relay. Stackhouse will be the foremost contestant from the Midway in the dashes, Wright being another entry who will compete.

Among prep athletes to appear in the scholastic competition will be several runners from Hyde Park, one of the leading city teams, which registered with Charles A. Dean of the tri-color last night.

Eleven prep teams are entered. They are: Evanston, Oak Park, Proviso, Lindblom, Lyons, Shields, Rockford, Hyde Park, Crane, Deerfield, and University High. Hyde Park and University High were the ranking teams in the interscholastic meet at the University of Chicago last week and bid fair to reach high standing in the coming carnival.

Two events, a fifty yard dash and high jump for girls, have attracted entries from various organizations.

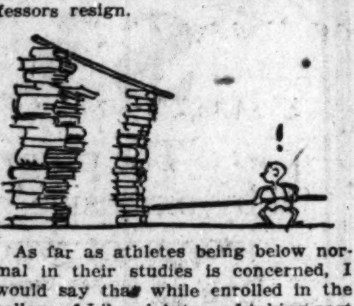
PREPS MEET CHESS CHAMP.

Chicago high school chess players will get a chance to try their skill against Samuel Factor, western champion, in simultaneous matches tomorrow night at the rooms of the Chicago Chess club in the Capitol building, Randolph and State. Matches will start at 7:30 o'clock.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT.

DEAR WAKE: If the football situation at Northwestern is as presented by Mr. Fullerton in THE TRIBUNE, there is no time like the present for the graduates to arise and demand that all anti-football professors resign.



As far as athletes being below normal in their studies is concerned, I would say that while enrolled in the college of Liberal Arts, and taking part in football and basket ball for eight months a year, I was not an A student.

When in medical school and out of competition I jumped to the first third of my class. But I would rather have my three years' athletic service medal than the best Phi Beta Kappa key worn. Why not? Their worth is according to the ease with which gained and the number given out. There are perhaps two athletic service medals a year, compared with 15 to 40 Phi Beta Kappa keys.

And why all this talk of the underpaid professor?

In the Depth of the Soul.

Hidden away in the depth of the soul
Are thoughts unspoken and songs unsung;
Musical notes in a minor key,
And harplike chords no hand has strung.
If once they were tuned by a master-hand,
If once they were touched by the hand of love,
The music that's hidden within the soul
Might almost rival the strains above.
Alas! Too oft they never find vent,
Too often they're silenced by struggles rife,
Till rusted become the harp-like strings

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

GET READY FOR SPRING CULLING OF LAYERS.

THE opening of the spring laying season is several weeks earlier than usual in many sections this year. It is a good time to make a preliminary study of the flock and prepare for the spring culling. Busy, cackling hens with red combs are the ones that are laying and are worth keeping.

Where there is doubt and trap nest records are not kept, a regular, systematic method of culling must be followed to get rid of loafers. A hen without capacity does not have room for the egg organs to develop and will not produce eggs profitably.

There are certain measurements that can be made which are used in determining the ability of a hen to lay. They are made with the hands and are always relative; for this reason it takes time and some experience to learn how to cull the flock with any degree of certainty.

This may sound discouraging, but experience has shown that even a beginner can cull with a fair degree of accuracy within a short time. The details of culling by using hand measurements will be given later in this department.

MURCHISON EQUALS WORLD SPRINT MARK

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—One world's indoor record was equalled and several others threatened in the annual games of St. Joseph's Catholic club at Newark tonight. The record performance was that of Loren Murchison, former national champion sprinter, in the sixty yard invitation, one of the three dashes in which Jack Scholz of the New York Athletic club, L. R. Rawlings of the Long Island Athletic club, and Eddie Farrell of Fordham university opposed him.

Flashing more speed than he has shown in two seasons, Murchison made a show of his field, leading all the way and reaching the tape five feet ahead of Scholz in :06 2-5. This equalled the world's indoor mark set by Lon Myers in 1882.

Threatens Other Records.

Prior to this race Murchison had come within one-fifth of a second of the world's record in winning the fifty yard sprint, and later in the evening he approached the record figures for seventy yards just as closely. In each case Murchison's margin of victory was five feet, and in each case, too, Scholz, was second, Rawlings third, and Farrell last. Bob McAlliser, New York's flying copper, was unable to appear.

Early Eby of the Chicago A. A., former national and intercollegiate half mile champion, ran one of the most impressive races of his career in winning the 600 yard invitation race for the Waldron Memorial trophy. His work stamps him a dangerous contender for the Rodman Wanamaker trophy at the Millrose games next week. Eby holds two legs on the latter cup and needs one more for permanent possession.

In a shoulder-to-shoulder sprint with William Kelly in the final half lap, Eby outlegged and outlasted his rival, and won by three yards in 1 minute 16 1-5 seconds.

Higgins Disqualified.

Walter Higgins, intercollegiate cross-country champion, was in his best running mood in the 1,000 yard handicap, getting home first in 2:20 2-5, but the officials discovered immediately that Higgins wore spiked shoes and disqualified him, giving first place to Art Fidgeon of the Paulist A. C., who had finished second.

The 500 yard Metropolitan A. A. U. championship was retained by Walter Koppisch of Columbia university, who won by five yards from William Farley of Loughlin Lyceum. Koppisch's time was 1:00 4-5.

For the second time this season Miss Marion McCartie of the Valcour club of the Bronx defeated Miss Camille Sabie of Newark State Normal school, the Paris Olympic games' champion In a sixty yard dash Miss McCartie won by two yards. Miss Blanche Dixon beat Miss Sable for second place.

The Chicago club skaters who will compete in the special invitation races are those skaters of class A who did not collect enough points in the local tournaments to permit their entrance in the championships. The winner of the most points during the three races will be awarded the Fair cup, a trophy put up by E. J. Lehman.

Work on Track.

The rink at Logan Square is rapidly rounding into shape. All of the rough spots on the track have been cut out and patches put in, and the work of spraying the surface with hot water to insure perfect racing was started last night.

POLITICS MIXED WITH N.Y. BOXING IS AWFUL MESS

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Boxing as a sport is on trial in New York, as in every other state, the issue being whether the sport lovers or the burglars are to triumph. With one of the best boxing laws ever enacted, with the leading commissioner striving to bring the sport into reputable standing, it seems to be a battle now as to whether the game can survive the efforts of promoters to grab their gains while the grabbing is good.

GOV. AL SMITH. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

The effort to force a match between Jess Willard, former champion, and Jack Dempsey, the titleholder, and to promote a series of building up matches for the champion has curdled public opinion and alarmed even the fellows with their hands in the grab bag.

Ordinarily the New York boxing public will stand for almost anything short of murder—and not always will balk at that.

Title of Champ Means Fortune.

The situation needs explanation. Firstly, the big money depends upon championship bouts. Pick out the biggest bum in the game and label him champion and it means a fortune.

The public in New York likes boxing. If it can get clean, decent boxing matches it means a big attendance and tremendous gate receipts, and the minute gate receipts enter into the argument politics creeps in—and the minute politics gets in—blooie.

The New York boxing law was put over by Senator Jimmy Walker, and it was a remarkably clean, decent bill, providing for a commission of three to handle the game. This commission was paid—and was Democratic. Al Smith was governor, liked boxing, and let it go over.

Under his régime boxing thrived—there were fifty or more clubs started—most of which starved to death. Then the Republicans elected Miller governor, and immediately the bunch saw a chance. They knew Miller wasn't a sport and they sold him on the idea that to be honest it was necessary not to have a salary. So they loaded up the law with wrestling and they chased Curley out of control of that game.

Muldoon Miller's Appointee.

They put over a law with four salaried and three nonsalaried commissioners—and Miller listened to folks and named his nonsalaried commission, putting old Bill Muldoon at the head. Bill, to be frank, is a crank and old, but honest, so we can forgive all the rest. Putting an honest and cranky old man in charge makes complications.

Now Smith and the Democrats are back in power. They believe (and rightly) that the old law was best, but they don't want to monkey with it for fear they might stop the whole graft..

Nor can the governor get rid of the present nonsalaried commission without changing the law—even if he wants to.

Gov. Smith's idea when he talked with me two months ago was to get one strong, honest business man to run the boxing game and then get two fellows who know boxing to work with the business man. There has been heavy pressure brought to bear upon him to keep Muldoon in the lead of the commission and, regardless of politics, Muldoon has gone ahead and run things.

Rickard Only a Figurehead.

On the other end of the game we have a practical boxing trust—with Tex Rickard as the nominal head. In reality Tex is not much more than a figurehead representing powerful capital, and that capital has strong Tammany Hall affiliations. Whenever you scratch the boxing graft down here you touch politics, and the politicians are powerful.

Rickard, through John Ringling, the circus man, secured control of Madison Square Garden, the biggest indoor show shop in New York, and in alliance with a bunch of politicians, built Boyle's thirty acres in New Jersey. Recently he acquired nominal control of the new Yankee park in the Bronx, while Tom O'Rourke, the old fight manager and former boxing commissioner, grabbed the Polo grounds—the National league park, for rival shows, making a new source of conflict.

The development of the athletic commission of New York has been queer. Formerly there was a licensing commission—but under the Miller law the nonsaladies commissioners, the supposed highbrows, have come to act as the license committee and thus have retained power. And Bill Muldoon has been the power—rather arbitrary, cranky at times, but usually working for the best interests of boxing.

Muldoon Does as He Pleases.

In other words, Bill does pretty much as he pleases. He usually has so many folks whispering to him, but when he thinks a thing is right he goes through—and no one contradicts him. He has practically run boxing in New York—and in addition has made the athletic commission a sort of match making body, as it assumes the right to make or forbid matches.

The "out" of the New York promoters, managers, and others is that New Jersey is right across the river, so that, if they don't like what the New York commission does, they can go across the river, or threaten to go to Argentina or Canada—and scare the money folks into letting them do as they please.

KEARNS HAS DIFFERENT DEMPSEY STORY FOR EVERY SCRIBE HE MEETS

Here Is What Hugh Fullerton Gleaned from Voluble Manager.

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

In behalf of Jack Dempsey, he agreed that the champion fight Harry Wills, light coffee colored boxer, on or about July 4 next. In behalf of himself he challenged one and all the heavyweight championship aspirants—Williard, Firpo, Greb, Gibbons, Johnson, and others, to meet him at any time prior to July 4.

Dempsey wants three fights in a row, climaxed by the match with Wills, and he is ready today to sign articles with Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, or with any one else. All he asks is that the promoter who undertakes to stage the battles be responsible—and he is not the least exorbitant in prices. Dempsey is willing to fight on a percentage basis, starting with Gibbons or Firpo, Johnson, Greb, or any one else, and to sign articles tomorrow to meet them in succession.

Wants a Trial Horse.

Paddy Mullins told me late tonight that he would sign articles in behalf of Wills, regardless of division of purse, within an hour after Kearns signed in behalf of Dempsey.

Kearns' arrival in New York today upset most of the dope on the boxing game. He reached New York twenty-four hours after Dempsey had settled here, and the boys came on determined to fight, and to fight any one in sight.

I had a long talk with Dempsey today, and later was with Kearns for a long time. They are not only willing, but anxious to fight—and they want to tackle Wills. But prior to meeting Wills, Dempsey wants to box two or three other heavyweights—not for the revenue especially, but to make certain that he is right.

The Kearns-Dempsey crowd is ready to start with Gibbons in March, to tackle Willard or Firpo the next month, and then meet Wills. Nor are they particularly interested in the aspirants. They figure every one excepting Wills a near dub, and insist that in boxing Willard or Floyd Johnson or Tom Gibbons they will merely be warming up for the real match with Harry Wills.

Articles for a fight between Dempsey and Wills probably will be signed within the next two days—and the signing of those articles probably will mean the passing of Tex Rickard as the dictator of boxing in New York.

Today Tom O'Rourke, former member of the commission, who has taken charge of the Polo grounds, the Giant balliwick, made an offer of a million dollars to Dempsey to fight three times in his park. The offer from O'Rourke was for Brennan, Firpo, Tom Gibbons, Willard—or what have you—with a climaxing match against Wills.

The situation today is seemingly the passing mark of Tex Rickard as the fight dictator of New York. Rickard still has nominal control of Madison Square Garden, real control of Boyle's thirty acres in Jersey, and assumed control of the Hippodrome.

O'Rourke has the Polo grounds and the Rickard crowd has control of the new Yankee stadium. Meantime there is a fierce political fight for control of the situation. Rickard, who has dominated boxing ever since 1918, seems to be in bad.

Split with Governor.

I have inside information that he will not control any of the big matches in which Dempsey will appear. Further, Gov. Smith is done with Rickard and, within the last few weeks the fellows who put over the boxing laws of New York have dropped Willard.

Tomorrow, so Kearns tells me, he will confer with financiers who are ready to promote three bouts, who will observe all the laws, and that he will make agreements for three matches for Dempsey.

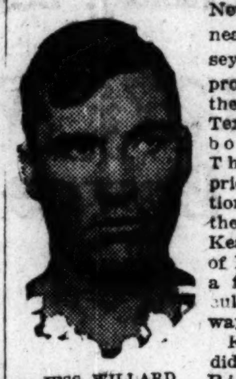
Jack is looking fine. He weighs about 194, a bit thin, says he needs real fighting, and is in really great shape. The objection of the fans, of the boxing commission and of others, has been that Dempsey is dodging Wills and trying to make minor matches.

SETUPS FOR GREB

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—[United News.]—Because his wife is seriously ill and he therefore is under stress of great worry, Harry Greb, holder of the American light heavyweight championship, has been excused from fighting any but comparatively easy opponents for the time being. This is the first time that any such plea has been advanced to the boxing commission here, but in Greb's case it was readily recognized.

United Press Given Some 'Title Dope'

New York, Jan. 24.—[United News.]—Jack Dempsey will fight twice in New York or in nearby New Jersey next summer, probably under the auspices of Tex Rickard on both occasions. This pearl of priceless information tumbled from the lips of Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, after a few hours' circulation on Broadway.



JESS WILLARD. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Kearns said he did not see Tex Rickard, but would have a confabulation with him Thursday. He said Rickard intended to put on Dempsey and Jess Willard in the bowl at Boyle's thirty acres, Jersey City, as the first production of the season. Later there will be another bout, possibly with Harry Wills. This might go on in New York.

Expects Offer from England.

Kearns expects one of those periodical offers from Maj. Arnold Wilson, the London promoter, who so far has promoted nothing but an ambitious cable bill. His offer is $250,000 for a fight with Joe Beckett, and if you believe that one Kearns will tell you some more like it.

Paddy Mullins, the mute manager of Harry Wills, crashed into print at last wiht a subtle letter to the general effect that Dempsey doesn't want to fight Wills. This was considered most undignified of Mullins and he may find himself suspended from the better social circles or rings for offending the champion.

Tom O'Rourke Busy.

Tom O'Rourke, former member of the boxing commission, now matchmaker of the Theoretical Republic A. C., which has a lease on the Polo grounds, said he had made an offer to Dempsey for three fights between April 15 and Oct. 1.

Harry Wills would be the first challenger. The other two would be selected from among Tom Gibbons, Joe Beckett, and Jess Willard. The bouts would net Dempsey $1,000,000, according to O'Rourke.

While Associated Press Gets Another Slant at the 'Show.'

New York, Jan. 24.—[By the Associated Press.]—Jack Dempsey's principal objective in his heavyweight campaign this year is a bout with Harry Wills, Negro challenger. Second choice is Jess Willard, who lost the title to Dempsey three and a half years ago at Toledo.

That was the way Jack Kearns, the title holder's manager, summarized his plans today after his arrival for conferences with promoters which are expected to result in a definite program of action for Dempsey next summer.

"The Wills match is what the public wants most of all," Kearns declared, "and Dempsey is ready to sign for any reasonable terms. I have had no bona fide offer for a match with Wills, but I am going to insist that it be given first consideration."

Anxious to Box Wills.

Kearns declared he was anxious to sign for a Wills bout around July 4, and if successful would seek one or two fights beforehand to put the champion in condition.

"They say Willard is too old, that Tom Gibbons and Harry Greb are too light, and that Luis Firpo and Floyd Johnson are not yet ripe for a championship match," Kearns said, "but we're willing to fight any of them. Willard is entitled to a return bout and I think he would give the champion a real battle if he is in shape."

Dempsey is ready to fight on short notice during the indoor season, Kearns added, or early in the spring.

Will Meet Rickard Today.

Kearns and Dempsey postponed their scheduled conference with Tex Rickard until tomorrow, when the Madison Square Garden promoter is expected to propose terms for two bouts, one with Willard and another with either Gibbons, Firpo, or Johnson.

Tom O'Rourke, Polo grounds matchmaker, announced he would offer Kearns definite terms on Friday for three bouts, all to take place at the Giants' ball park between April and October, with three of four contenders from whom O'Rourke would choose.

Except to admit that Wills was one of the quartet he had in mind, O'Rourke would not disclose his plans, but it was understood Willard, Gibbons, and Beckett were the other three.

B. LEONARD—DANCER

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—[United News.]—Benja Leonard, the well known dancer and holder of the lightweight title, has introduced a new dance creation of his own, entitled the "Jersey Kazotsky," in his new Broadway musical show.

The "Jersey Kazotsky" is a sentimental allegory portraying the emotions of a young business man earning $65,000 in a no decision bout with Leftie Lew Tendler. It includes some of the dancing figures which Benja reeled off in his famous exhibitions with Rocky Kansas and Johnny Dundee.

Pal Moore Figures Murray Easier Than Bud Taylor

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Pal Moore, local bantamweight, who will meet Tommy Murray of Philadelphia aboard the U. S. S. Commodore tomorrow night, is not worrying so much about the outcome of this contest as he is regarding the fight with Bud Taylor of Terre Haute at Indianapolis Feb. 13.

The local 118 pounder is bent on showing the pugilistic world he is master of the Hoosier Tiger. They have met three times. Once Moore was given the popular decision, while the other two were even affairs. As a result of this difference of opinion Pal intends to remain in training after the Murray fight and expects to show Taylor more gloves in Indianapolis than there are in any of the local sporting goods houses.

Long Predicts K. O.

Eddie Long, who looks after the interests of Taylor, is just as confident Bud will be the victor, not only on points, but claims there is a strong possibility of Moore being stopped. Long claims the bout is stirring up a lot of interest in the Hoosier state capitol and that a capacity crowd will be on hand. In fact, any time these two fighters meet a battle results.

Joe Burman, one of Chicago's leading contenders for the bantamweight title, and Patsy Flannigan of St. Louis are hard at work for their ten round clash to be staged by the Blackhawk post before a west side suburban club next Monday night. The post will present two new faces in Billy Stearns of Minneapolis and Joie Daily of Erie, Pa.

Has Good Record.

Stearns decisively defeated Chuck Byers at Toledo last Tuesday night, according to Manager Larney Lichtenstein, who claims his fighter has beaten Bert Spencer, Shamus O'Brien, and Johnny Clinton, eastern boxers of note. Stearns will meet Mike Snyder in the semi-windup to the Burman-Flannigan affair.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

At Milwaukee—Johnny Tillman beat Jimmy Nikol [10]. Jimmy Nuss knocked out Jay Borko [3]. Joe Sielaff beat Jimmy Muzzy [6]. Big Ben and Larry Sobjeck, draw [4].

BOWLING BODIES GATHER SUNDAY

Illinois Bowling association and the Chicago Bowling association will hold annual meetings Sunday in Hotel Sherman. The state organization will hold its annual election and delegates will name the site for the state tournament in April.

The C. B. A. will elect delegates to the American Bowling congress and also will award the city tournament held each year in December.

KEENE WINS AT ROQUE.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24.—Jimmy Keene of Chicago, 17 year old national roque champion, defeated F. C. Turner, formerly national champion, 32 to 19, in the national roque tournament in progress here. The meet was to be resumed today by more than 150 players.

EUSTACE READY FOR S. ZBYSZKO

Allen Eustace, the young Kansas giant, is all set for his bout tomorrow night with Stanislaus Zbyszko at the Star and Garter.

The match will be a two out of three fall affair.

It has been two years since Eustace showed in Chicago, but even that far back he appeared to have class. He then weighed around 210 pounds, but has taken on twenty pounds and developed proportionately.

Local wrestling fans appear to be a unit in their praise of the ability of Eustace, and not a few are predicting Zbyszko will have his hands full in this trial.

MOGULS MUM ON PLAN TO NUMBER PLAYERS

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Although an industrious ball scribe has been able to peddle columns of favorable publicity on his pet scheme of numbering ball players, the project seems to stand slim chance of making headway with the big league owners. So far not a single magnate has come out with an indorsement of the proposition, and this attitude indicates that the matter will not be given attention at the coming spring meetings.

First off let it be said that the average major league magnate is perfectly content to go along year after year without disturbing the routine. In this case there is another factor that accounts for the owners' attitude. That is the ball player himself. Most big league athletes have an idea they are so well known by every baseball fan that there is no need for a mark of identification.

Identity Lost to Floaters.

The thing the players overlook is that a big percentage of baseball patronage is of the floating type. That is, the games attract hundreds of fellows from the smaller cities, and this variety of fan has no means of knowing Tweedle Dee from Tweedle Dum except by employing a score card, which is unsatisfactory because it usually is more wrong than right.

Even a score card correct in all its details has its shortcomings. It does not make possible the identification of substitutes who may be in the pregame practice but not in the game itself, hence the numbers appearing opposite their names in the card are not flashed on the electric score board.

Might Hurt Card Sale.

Another point the magnates may have in mind when the numbering system is proposed is the profits accruing from the sale of score cards. Should each player possess a number newspapers in some cities might get into the habit of printing the names and numbers of the home and visiting players.

Hinman's 207 Average Helps Tribune Eds Win

Frank Hinman, rolling with the Editorial five, was high man in THE TRIBUNE bowling league games last night. He had three games that netted an average of 207, with 223 as high count. The Editorials whitewashed the Engraving department with ease.

STEVENS PIN WOMEN WIN.

The Charles A. Stevens & Bros.' women's bowling teams won a special match from the Western Electric women last night at the Wabash drives, by 1,889 pins to 1,799.

Olympia Fields C. C. Plans Million Dollar Club House

BY JOE DAVIS.

Now comes the Olympia Fields Country club, the only private golf organization in the world possessing four eighteen hole courses, with a novelty no other club can boast of. It is to be a "seventy-third" hole.

Perhaps in a general way the "nineteenth hole" was mostly thought of as a place where, at the end of a round, it was possible to obtain spirits furmenti in various delectable forms. Now it is generally thought of as a gathering point at the end of the round where one can relate his joys and sorrows.

In presenting its plans for a new clubhouse at Olympia Fields, the investigating committee, after eight months of arduous labor, includes the establishment of two "seventy-third" holes, one each for men and women.

Brown Heads Committee.

This committee was appointed to investigate the "advisability, feasibility, and propriety" of erecting a new clubhouse. It consisted of Everett C. Brown, chairman; A. M. Saxe, secretary; J. V. Lawrence, R. T. Forbes, J. J. Pelley, and C. A. White.

Copies of its comprehensive report have been sent to all the members of the club, and it is planned to have meetings of groups of 100 members at a time, so that the whole scheme may be thoroughly understood. The first of these was held last night at the Chicago Athletic association. The proposed clubhouse is listed to cost $650,000, while furnishings, equipment of kitchen, and lockers call for an expenditure of $104,500.

Cost Totals $969,500.

Improvements on the three old courses, new quarters for help, a swimming pool, and other matters bring the total to $969,500. The report of the committee includes plans for the financing of this outlay.

Among the members the need for a new clubhouse is generally recognized, but there are a number who assert that Olympia can get along with a smaller clubhouse. These members have sent out questionnaires to the 1,000 members of the club, so that for the next few weeks there will be much campaigning. The matter will eventually be submitted to a general meeting of the club.

* *

Lincoln Park golfers will open the indoor putting and pitching course at Bob MacDonald's indoor school in the Leiter building tonight at 7 o'clock. The course requires plenty of skill, and the north siders who compete in the qualifying round will find that 3s are likely on many of the holes if the tee shot is not well placed. The lowest thirty-two scores will qualify for the match play rounds.

* *

E. A. Maginnis of Edgewater was the star of the indoor tournament at Henrici's school, 71 West Randolph street, yesterday. Rounds of 13 and 15 gave him a total of 29, beating the record made by A. T. Packard of Lincoln park by one shot. Other players to qualify were: C. A. Wolf, the Bryn Mawr champion, 34; D. A. Matteson, Edgewater, 35; B. C. Bachrach, Idlewild, 36; Walter Crowdus, Lincoln park and J. F. Lyman, 37. The thirty-two lowest players will be paired today, the first match round being carded Saturday.

STOCKHOLM TO RIDE IN SIX DAY BICYCLE RACE

Chicago again will be represented in the six day bike race at the Coliseum Feb. 10, the entry of Carl Stockholm of the Alverno A. A. having been accepted yesterday by Manager Paddy Harmon. Stockholm is the second American to enter for the long grind, the first being Frank Keenan of Revere, Mass., who will make his first appearance here as a racer.

Stockholm has ridden in two six day races here. Teamed with Al Grenda, he finished in the money last fall at the Coliseum. The blonde Swede is looked upon by many as the best of the local riders. He made a great showing in both of the races even though handicapped in the last race by having just recovered from a bad case of blood poisoning.

CALZA VS. DRAAK MAT BATTLE ON

The squabble between rival wrestling promoters over the next appearance of George Calza, undefeated Italian champion, in Chicago, was settled by the city athletic commission yesterday. The commission ruled that Calza must fulfill his agreement to meet Tom Draak, Holland champion, for Promoter Doc Krone at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, Feb. 5.

Joe Coffey, matchmaker of the Midwest A. C., appeared before the commission with the claim that Calza had agreed to wrestle John Freberg at Ashland Boulevard auditorium Jan. 30. Coffey, however, failed to produce a contract and his claim was not allowed.

EDDIE LOOS TOPS FIELD IN COAST TITLE GOLF PLAY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24.—Eddie Loos, Chicago and Los Angeles professional, won the open golf championship of southern California today at Flintridge Country club, turning in a card of 291 for the seventy-two holes. Jock Hutchison, former British open champion, took second with a score of 292, and MacDonald Smith, former Metropolitan open champion, was third with 295.

JOCK HUTCHISON. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Gene Sarazan, national open and professional champion, played better today than on the first two days of the tournament, shooting the first 18 holes of his final round in 71. It took him 79 to negotiate the next 18, however, bringing his tournament total up to 306 and leaving him well in the rear at the finish.

Abe Espinosa, Oakland, Cal., professional, was tied with Loose at the sixty-third hole, and a large gallery followed the two players during the final play. Espinosa's chance to win the medal went glimmering however when he missed several putts, boosting his total to 296.

ANOTHER NOTE ABOUT THE PASSENGER PIGEON.

THAT little squib about the passenger pigeon, which appeared in this column a few days ago, has brought forth all kinds of interesting letters from the old timers, who, not so many years ago, were able to observe these beautiful birds in flocks of thousands.

Grant Fitch, who lives down state, is certain that a small flock still nests on his land each spring, and wants me to come down when they arrive within a few months. G. F. writes:

"These birds are the original wild pigeons, as I have lived in this country for about 58 years, and have seen them alive and killed when there were birds in countless numbers flying in droves that would darken the sun. And when they alighted on trees the great number of birds would often break the branches. The ones in question that have been nesting on my land are very shy, fly exceedingly high and swift (almost out of gunshot), and no one but an expert gunner could ever bring one down."

Most of the letters we have received tell you about the old days when the writer went gunning for pigeons. To read them makes us wish we had been able to see some of those big flocks. E. L. Buy on Oakland's "Mileage-Basis" Plan—and Know In Advance!

When you go to the show judge the cars you see on the basis of the actual mileage they will deliver!

You have probably owned one car, perhaps more—you're motor-wise! Look for power, beauty, economy—look for a body that pleases the eye and a price that fits your purse—but look beyond these things!

Make sure—in advance—of the quality built into the car, and of the satisfying mileage it will deliver!

For the first time in motor car history, you can do this!

Under Oakland's "mileage-basis" plan you can know, before you buy, those things you have hitherto, perhaps, learned only by experience.

Oakland will tell you, for instance, that its valves will function properly for 15,000 miles or more before requiring grinding!

Oakland will tell you that its main crankshaft bearings and connecting rod bearings will require no attention or adjustment under 40,000 miles or more!

An Oakland Six will deliver 20 to 25 miles per gallon of gasoline—15,000 to 25,000 miles per set of tires!

And the major parts of an Oakland Six (axles, frames, bodies, etc.), will endure throughout the life of the car.

When you weigh these figures in the light of your own personal experience as a motorist with cars of various makes—you will appreciate how remarkable they are.

And when you remember that Oakland last year guaranteed the performance of its engine for 15,000 miles, and that it cost Oakland only a fraction of a cent per car to make good this guarantee—then you will appreciate how certain Oakland is of its ground and how accurate these figures are!

See all the cars at the show! —judge them all on Oakland's "mileage-basis" plan—and only a car with Oakland quality (which will be way above Oakland in price) will satisfy you!

COLE Squeezes Water Out of Automobile Prices

One year ago the Cole Aero 8 sold in Chicago for $3550, delivered. Today, through the operation of a remarkable new selling plan, based on a new economic principle, we are able to offer the same car with many added refinements for only $1885, factory. Here are the high points of what you get in the 1923 COLE 8—

8-Day Waltham Clock Boyce Motometer
Shock Absorbers, Powerful Brakes (Safest Car Made). 2 to 72 Miles an Hour in High

All for Only... $1885 All for ...Only

The Plan That Makes This Price Possible

For years the outstanding evil of the motor car industry has been the "trade-in" practice.

To be able to offer what appears to be good prices for old cars taken in trade, it has been necessary to list prices high enough to take care of the old cars "traded in."

The result—you have an old car for which you paid $2,000—the dealer allows you $1,000, or perhaps more. You think you get $1,000—but do you? To make this offer possible a high price is set, with big discount to dealers. After all—at actual valuations aren't you getting only $200 or $300 for your old car?

Understand, this policy has been imposed on all retailers of motor cars, and its effects have been steadily growing worse.

This evil has added an untold burden to the industry. Think of it—distributors throughout the country have thousands of used cars stored away—these used cars pile up interest costs rapidly; heat, light and selling expense is also tied up in them. These costs have to be paid, so they are usually added to the new car in the first place—and therefore, the public pays the penalty.

The man who buys a car for cash—who has no car to trade—is in worse shape than anyone, because he has to help pay for the burden of the other fellow's used car.

The Cole Motor Car Company decided to lay their cards on the table face up—to lay bare the inside truths of merchandising motor cars—and, what is more important, discontinue the "trade-in" policy.

This means that we are literally saving the biggest cost of doing business—no more heat, light, rent, sales cost, interest and depreciation to be charged to used cars—the saving is being passed on to the public, where it belongs.

That is the plan in tune with modern economic conditions, which makes it possible to offer the Cole at $1,885—nearly one-half the price of a year ago in Chicago and from $1,000 to $1,500 under any car of similar power, finish and quality.

A Service to Dispose of Your Car

While we will not take any make of car at any price in trade on a Cole 8, we are prepared to render a service which will assist in disposing of your car at a fair price for you.

This plan is not to be confused in any way with the "trade-in" policy, but it does provide a satisfactory and modern way of your disposing of your car.

Why Cole Leads

Many thousands of Cole owners all over this country can and will testify to the splendid and economical performance of their cars for all the way from 100 to 100,000 miles and more—and back of this satisfaction is an aggressive organization that is endeavoring to render a real service to the motor public.

For instance, the Cole Motor Car Company has been the first to produce the following improvements which have since been imitated and become standard with better automobiles:

First One Man Top
First Four Door Car
First Eight with detachable cylinder heads.
First with demountable rims as standard equipment.
First with Vacuum Tank and many other innovations, such as the Cole Aero type body, which has been so widely imitated.

Give thought to the Cole slogan, "There Is a Touch of Tomorrow in All Cole Does Today." In other words, the Cole Motor Car Company has done its best to serve the public.

'Compare With Any Car—Side by Side

Many cars look good upon casual inspection—many seem fair values when examined without comparison—but the fair test is to put two new cars of different makes side by side and go over them point by point.

The more you know about automobiles the more quickly you will realize the tremendous value offered in the Cole—place it alongside any car and give it the most grilling and critical scrutiny.

You will find the Cole is bound to win in any fair decision, whether it be in power, beauty, comfort, finish, equipment, strength, performance (speed, hills, dust, mud, sand or what not) or economy of operation.

Then you will see what this new selling plan—the "no-trade-in" policy, saves you—actually from $800 to $1,000.

Practically at Wholesale Price

Under the Cole plan every car buyer is placed on the same equal footing—he gets what he pays for, and there is no trade to muddy the waters.

Cole distributors and Cole dealers no longer have any trading margins—margins that the public has always paid for in the past—the "trade-in" evil, with all its costs, has been cut out.

The result is that you now get a quality car at what would be considered wholesale prices by most manufacturers.

Important

Due to this process of squeezing out the water from motor car prices, Cole cars will show a lower first-year depreciation than any car bought on the old basis.

Actually Means One Car Free

The two-car-per-family idea is spreading and is justly popular. The saving of $800 to $1,000 on a high-class car offered by Cole means that you can afford to keep your old car.

It literally means that you can keep your old car free—compared with what you can find in any other make.

Liberal Terms

On our new selling policy we do not require all cash. A reasonable payment down and the balance at liberal terms is our offer to the responsible public.

A $1,000 Challenge

There is an $800 to $1,000 challenge to your pocketbook which no man can afford to overlook.

No matter what car you own, have owned or are predisposed toward—remember that you cannot afford to let any prejudices stand in the way of such a big saving.

And, regardless of the saving, you actually owe it to yourself to know what a revelation the Cole 8 offers in power, speed, control, endurance, beauty, economy and a hundred other points.

To see the 1923 Cole is to approve it, and the new selling policy which means so much from every standpoint.

SYNOPSIS.

John Corbeyne, one of England's financiers, is about to become a member of the cabinet. He is devoted to Sylvia, his second wife, and their young son. Corbeyne's first wife, Katherine, threatens to reopen their divorce case on a technicality unless he returns to live with her as her husband. Corbeyne learns that if the case were reopened it would create great public interest. He goes back to Katherine to avoid staining Sylvia's honor and his son's name. To stiffen Sylvia's back to the blow, by arousing her pride, he pretends he has been lured away by the other woman.

Carfax announces that Corbeyne is ill. After a month Corbeyne's absence creates a slight panic in the financial world. There is a run on an important bank, and out of curiosity Corbeyne goes to the scene. He has changed his appearance slightly, but Carfax sees and accosts him. He denies he is Corbeyne. Carfax apologizes, but appeals to him as a patriot to take Corbeyne's place to avert a great financial crisis. Corbeyne consents. Sylvia agrees to the arrangement and, although she knows he is her husband, she will not permit him to explain.

Katherine, who is evidently being coached in her part, objects to his double rôle of Corbeyne in town and Brierly at Ealing, and renews her threats, but John insists in carrying out his agreement with Sylvia and Carfax. He discovers that Deagle, head of the wool combine, is his chief enemy and that, for political reasons, he has incited Katherine to this action against him.

INSTALLMENT LII.

That John Corbeyne, whatever strange aberration had come to him in these last days, should systematically forge a check to himself for ten pounds was absurd enough. That each one of the checks so forged—and there were five of them—should have been lost by the bank clerk and not placed in the wallet was absurd also.

For a time she pondered over it. The problem was of no importance, but it irritated her. She remembered that she had decided to see the manager with a view to arranging her cash advances, if necessary. She would get him to solve the "Brierly ten" problem for her, too.

She went to her room quickly. Sylvia was always quick in the minor movements of life. She was quick over her toilet, yet the effect was one of leisurely perfection. Her maid stood back admiringly as she passed out. "So I must look very nice indeed," reflected Sylvia.

The bank manager was busy when she arrived, but became at immediate liberty when told that Mrs. Corbeyne wished to see him. Sylvia greeted him pleasantly, accepted a chair, and told him of the possibiltiy of her requiring large amounts of cash. The brief discussion that followed was a mere formal arrangement of securities. Courtesy alone restrained the manager from pointing out that her visit had been quite unnecessary.

"I've been looking through my pass-book," she said, as the discussion ended, "and I am rather puzzled by a particular entry. There's a check to a Mr. Brierly of fifty pounds per week. That is in order. I see also that for the last five weeks a payment of ten pounds has been entered to the same name. I can find no checks in the wallet——"

There was an awkward pause. Then the bank manager cleared his throat and dived into a difficult subject.

"Those payments are the result of your letter to me of—er—last month," he said, and hoped that that would be enough.

"I'm afraid I don't remember writing to you last month," said Sylvia, puzzled. "O, yes. You mean the letter about my husband's first wife."

"Precisely," said the bank manager. "Your letter instructed us to continue the payment of the allowance unless the lady should express unwillingness to receive it. We recommenced the payments and—er—received no protest."

"Yes, yes," said Sylvia, impaitently; "but why have you recorded them under the name of Brierly?"

The bank manager smiled vaguely, murmuring something.

"I beg your pardon?" said Sylvia. Then, before he could speak again, she understood. She knew what he was going to say.

"That is the name which the—er—first Mrs. Corbeyne has assumed."

"Yes," said Sylvia. "Quite so, of course." There was a silly mist between her and the bank manager's silly smile.

"The reason why there are no checks is that we make the payment and debit your account, as is usual in such cases. I am afraid I took it for granted that——"

The words trailed off into the mist. Sylvia knew she was sitting so terribly still that the man must see she had had a shock. She tried to lift her hand in a natural way to the ferrule of the sunshade, but she could not. There was lead in her veins where once the quick blood had flowed.

The first Mrs. Corbeyne had assumed the name of Brierly. John Corbeyne had assumed the name of Brierly. The first Mrs. Corbeyne had assumed the name of—why did the bank manager stroke his chin as if he had a beard? Perhaps he had had a beard once and had taken a false name. He seemed to be waiting for her to say something. Sylvia heard herself say it.

"Would you be good enough to give me Mrs. Brierly's address?" she asked.

"Well, I'm afraid—you see, the rule of the bank—that is, I could forward a letter for you, Mrs. Corbeyne."

"That would not be any good," said Sylvia, dully. "I want to go and see her at once. It's—it's an important matter."

"Ah—really, Mrs. Corbeyne, you are putting me in a difficult position. Mrs. Brierly is a client of ours."

He looked at her deprecatingly, with homage for her beauty and breeding and youth. Sylvia remembered that she looked nice. She whipped up her vitality.

"That simplifies it wonderfully," she said, with a regal lift of the head. "You can act promptly in the interests of your client. By the simple act of giving me her address now you will save her from losing five hundred a year. There, now, Mr. Barfoot, you really cannot hesitate, can you?"

She smiled at the bank manager. The smile melted the bank manager. She watched the melting with cold interest below her charming cloak of gratitude. She had not known before that she could do that kind of thing with men. The knowledge might be useful.

"When the bank decides to dispense with my services, Mrs. Corbeyne, I shall come to you for a job!" Mr. Barfoot pressed a bell. He said things to a clerk, who presently brought him a book.

"Um—ah—no. There's been a change of address since then," muttered the manager, looking down its columns.

"From Ealing?" asked Sylvia, on an impulse.

"Er—yes—er—here we are—Forty-seven St. George's Mansions, Red Lion square," said the manager, and banged the book shut.

"Thank you," said Sylvia. She smiled long after she had left his office, and the smile was a gallant thing.

Brierly—Mrs. Brierly. The divorcée had taken the name of Brierly. She had recently moved from Ealing. Easy enough for a child to guess and be sure that the divorcée and the woman with whom John Corbeyne had lived at Ealing were one and the same—terribly hard for Sylvia to guess the same and be as sure when she knew so well John's attitude to his first wife.

If John had not hated his first wife it had only been because she had passed out of his life. He spoke of her as an unpleasant memory of which he was partly ashamed. Now and again he would make an involuntary grimace at the thought that he had once felt physical love for her.

And John had gone back to her. There were a number of theories, but not one that would embrace all the facts. The most promising of a bad lot was, perhaps, Carfax's nonsensical suggestion that John Corbeyne had gone mad. Mixed in with a little of Carfax's version of German philosophy one could just arrive at the rebirth of a physical passion. It was a poor attempt at reconstruction, but it was, at least, better than the blackmail theory. If Katherine had in some inconceivable way blackmailed him he would have talked it over.

Sylvia spent the day with her thoughts. They rode her savagely through the lonely hours and would not leave her when she retired to rest. A bad night brought a blurred confusion of wonder in which, jumbled with the greater issues, was an overwhelming, intimate curiosity to see the woman who, at the age of thirty-nine, could drag a clean, upright man from a happy home and a great career.

By the time Sylvia had finished pretending to take breakfast she had further resolved, with frank, feminine cruelty, to see this woman in the morning light. By 11 o'clock she was knocking at the door of the flat in Red Lion square. She knocked twice before the door was answered by a general servant, uncouth but efficient looking.

"I wish to see Mrs. Brierly, please," said Sylvia, and entered the hall.

"I don't know as she's dressed yet," answered the maid. "What name shall I say?"

"Mrs. Corbeyne."

The maid was absent for quite a long time. She came back with an expression of exasperated unconcern.

M. E. Church Budget Put at $18,500,000

Real Needs for Year Set at $28,045,175.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

After an all day discussion at the Lexington hotel, the council of the boards of benevolence of the Methodist Episcopal church, including bishops, board secretaries, other ministers, and laymen to the number of 150, decided yesterday that the annual needs of the church for all benevolences were $28,045,173 and that the church should be asked on the apportionment basis for 18,500,000.

DR. DOWNEY.

The amounts were recommended by a special committee of twenty-five, of which the Rev. David G. Downey of New York was chairman. The committee has been studying the situation for a year and the report covers all phases of church work, home and foreign.

The two largest apportionments are for $6,800,000 each for foreign and home missions. The board of prohibition, temperance, and public morals, which received last year $149,284, is apportioned $250,000.

An important feature of the report was a call for better methods in evengelism and church work.

"The leakage and wastage in our church membership every year are appalling," the report reads. "Losses are so unnecessarily large as to show bad methods of church and pastoral care, if not criminal neglect.

"We should include as fields of evangelistic obligation not only the so-called 'neglected poor,' but the 'neglected rich.' Appeals should also be made to such groups as business men's organizations, women's clubs and societies, labor organizations, and workingmen, foreign speaking communities, and army and navy men.

"Sin is rampant and deadly. It is no time for pleasant platitudes and passionless plausibilities. If the methods we use are unsuccessful let us try other and successful ones."

Chinese Medical Faker Routed by U. S. Physicians

"The hand of the western physician and surgeon is driving the fakir and the soothsayer out of China," Dr. Edward H. We have won the people away from the customs of hundreds of years."

Huberman Plays New Italian Sonata in Violin Recital

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Bronislaw Huberman's violin recital at Orchestra hall last night—his second within a week—was begun by a composition that had peculiar interest for several reasons. The number was a sonata for violin and piano by Ottorino Respighi.

Quite outside of its own merits, which were many, this sonata served to indicate how the new generation of Italian composers is laboring to get away from the theory that Italian music means Italian opera and nothing else. This has been the endeavor of Respighi, and Casella, and Pizzetti, and all the others, but the escape has not always been complete. In many cases a song, especially if it was an elaborate song, was likely to sound like an aria from a modern opera; an orchestral piece frequently had distinct operatic tendencies.

However, it is difficult to make a sonata sound operatic, and Respighi has written a rather good sonata. It is, of course, subject to the current critical cliché that it does not follow the canons of sonata construction. Perhaps this one does not follow the Beethoven formula, but it is conceived along broad lines and on large ideas, it moves, and it is not ultra-modern to the point of boredom. Rather the reverse.

Mr. Huberman is an excellent interpreter for such a work. In other parts of his programs he has a bad habit of playing unaccompanied Bach, but in a number like this sonata he maintains forceful tone and authority. He and Paul Frankel, the pianist, wrought earnestly in an idiom that was individual enough to be somewhat unfamiliar, and succeeded in being both impressive and stirring.

The Question.

Where Asked.

Madison street at Dearborn.

The Answers.

Walter W. Snyder, 4038 North Ridgeway avenue, salesman—The only thing that could cure Europe would be the application of a good will feeling towards one another. Selfishness and clannishness should be forgotten and the small nations and the weak nations given a chance to start all over again.

Mrs. Lillian M. Brady, 1024 Lawrence avenue, welfare worker — I would say a United States of Europe—a government of the people, for the people, and by the people, with a peace conference in control. Then stop fighting and go to work. Even the women work here.

James A. Smith, Glencoe, Ill., chauffeur—Self-government, with the help of the United States at the start. Europe is like a wounded man who needs a pair of crutches. Europeans need assistance from this country. Later on they could reimburse us. But they need assistance until they themselves become self-supporting.

Miss Jessie Baxter, 1145 East Marquette road, home girl—Seems to me they ought to have a united government of Europe similar to our own United States, and each country to have state's rights. Women should be allowed to vote and have a hand in the government. Then work instead of fight.

T. H. White, 219 East 24th street, traveling representative—Well, I think the thing for them to do is to bury their grievances. If they would think less about military operations and more about the reestablishment of their countries they would be better off.

Start Move to Blue Pencil Bible Edicts

Would Change Six of the Commandments.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—[United News.]—A movement was launched today to blue pencil the ten commandments used in the prayer book of the Church of England. This promises to stir up a bitter religious controversy.

Members of the churches of the national assembly were presented with a draft of the revised liturgy by the ritual revision committee. The assembly is to debate the committee's recommendations at a convention next week, and already there is much opposition in evidence.

2. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is under the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them. For I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

REVISED — Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is under the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them.

3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

REVISED—Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.

4. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work, but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. In it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor the stranger that is within thy gates: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day; wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it.

REVISED—Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work, but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God.

5. Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

REVISED—Honor thy father and thy mother.

9. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

REVISED—Thou shalt not bear false witness.

10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man servant, nor his maid servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

REVISED—Thou shalt not covet.

DAILY HOROSCOPE
Doris Blake Says:

TODAY IS LUCKY FOR THE STEADFAST.

Conflicting forces prevail on this day, according to astral government. There is some presage of disappointment and setback, and it may be hazardous to attempt important change or travel. Those whose birth date it is have the forecast of a troubled year in which business may cause some anxiety unless it is kept well in hand. Children born on this day will be unsettled and restless in disposition.

By birthright you have literary ability, also ability in the line of public speaking and lecturing. You are poetic and artistic. You have a roving, restless disposition but one adaptable to circumstances. You are rather inclined to be inactive, and unless things go hard for you, you will not arouse yourself to effort. You do not think enough of the future, which is a bad fault. You must develop more foresight.

Your temperament is changeable; one day you are up, the next down. Make a study of your character and try to eliminate its faults. Admit them frankly, and half the fight is over. If you once gain this mastery over yourself, you will make much more of a mark in the world.

◆

Those Days Are Over.

"Dear Miss Blake: We are two college sophomores who commute daily to and from school. On the train every morning we see two clean cut young men, whom we would like to meet. We believe they, too, are interested in us, but this is the problem:

"They are not the kind who make advances and neither are we. We have no mutual friends, we are quite sure, to introduce us, so that possibility is out of the question.

"We shall greatly apreciate any advice or suggestions from you.

"HELEN AND JANE."

I could not advise you to do other than await the turn of a kind fate who might send along a mutual friend. Only in story books are the lovely lovesick heroines in danger of falling down and breaking their necks, but to be rescued heroically by the Rudolf Romeos. No, girls, we poor Juliets are at a woeful disadvantage, are we not?

HAROLD TEEN—WELL, OF ALL THE BONERS!

-I'M TICKLED PINK THIS AFTAHNOON-TO SEE SO MANY BRIGHT AND SHINING FACES BEFORE ME-AHEM!
CHILL
YOU POOR BIMBO—DON'T YOU KNOW THE NOSE IS A PART OF EACH SHINING FACE?

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

All Need Clothes.

"I have been helping a large family all winter but can do so no more. They need clothes. The father cannot work, as his feet are on the ground, and he has only a summer weight suit in bad condition. He wears size 42, overcoat 44. The mother wears size 44. Three girls are 15, 6, 2; boys, 13, 9, 8, and a baby is coming.

"MRS. J. H."

Suppose the father's efforts to work without adequate clothing should result in pneumonia! Here is a case where prompt action now probably will avert great sorrow and misery later!

◆

Disabled for Work.

"Mr. S. is 55 and paralyzed. His wife is 52 and diabetic. Their only child is a schoolgirl of 12. They have no means of support. They are unable to work. There are many needs in the family that we are helping them meet. We wonder if you can help us get a suit of clothes for Mr. S., size 46.

C. P. P."

·MEN'S FASHIONS·

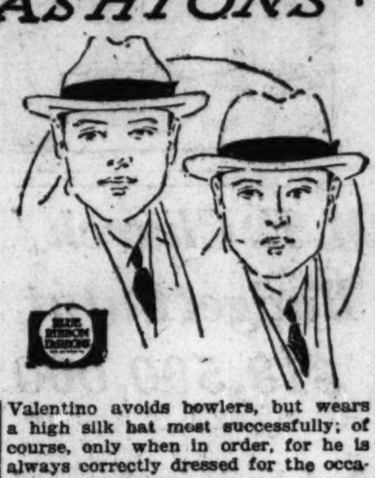
BY A. T. GALLICO.

Full Face—Full Hat.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—There are just as many ways of shaping a soft hat as there are shapes of faces. The trick is to match the right shaped hat to a particular face. I could tell from the back view of the man on the car that he wasn't wearing his hat to the best advantage. He had a large squarish head which needed plenty of hat to give it the right proportion.

But his hat, although adequately broad in the brim, was crushed in too much at the sides, and pushed down to such an extent that the crown was too low. The same hat could, with more judgment, have been made to fit the man in question in a satisfactory manner. There should have been no side dents.

Every man who is careful in his dressing is particular about wearing a hat that best becomes him. Rodolf Valentino is an excellent example. He told me that as he has a rather round face he never wears low crowns or too wide brims. His soft hat is the shape known as Tyrolean, having no dents at the sides. It is similar to that worn by the Prince of Wales. Mr.



Valentino avoids bowlers, but wears a high silk hat most successfully; of course, only when in order, for he is always correctly dressed for the occasion.

Fashionotes.

S. T.: Stickpins are only occasionally worn these days, although there seems to be slightly more tendency in their direction. Their chief rôle now is with formal day dress. But if worn with one of the wider cravats they are not out of place, if modest. Solitaires are out of date with the well dressed man.

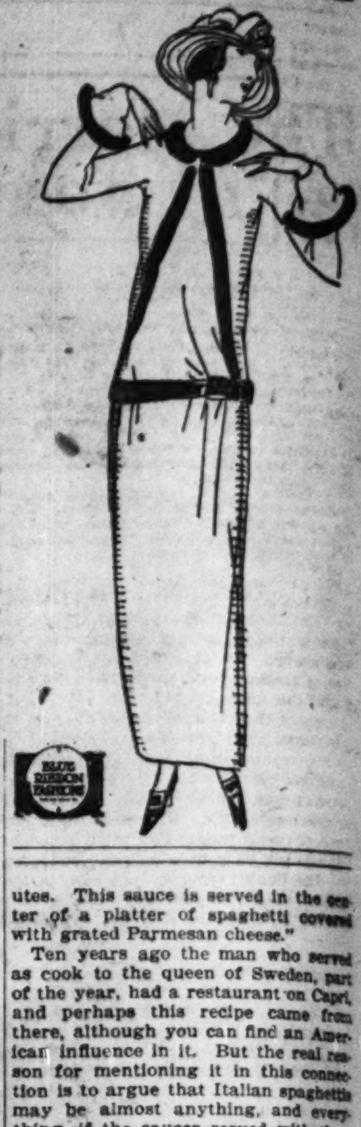
Drama of Dress Gives Stellar Role to Ribbon

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Ribbon has become almost as universal as a lip stick. Never, in fact, was it cast for such an important role in the drama of dress, and there is no sphere of apparel in which it is denied activity. As a trimming for the cloth frock, there is really no other touch which can convey such a maximum of modishness with such a minimum of effort.

Behold, for example, the little gray woolen frock pictured today. This would be absolutely undistinguished without the ribbon of darker gray applied to neck line, sleeves, and corsage. Yet so original and so piquant is the manner in which that ribbon is applied that the model becomes through this ribbon influence the smartest imaginable costume.

Such a frock as this is becoming more and more indispensable to every woman. For there is really none of its silken sisters which does quite so well for travel, for the ordinary luncheon, and for a hundred daily occasions.



Sunday fashion page will be found in the New Color Section.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Italian Spaghettis Vary.

The other day there were printed in a list of recipes the ways to make Genoa spaghetti, and spaghetti Sorrento, and sometime ago there was printed in the same place "sauce for spaghetti as made on the Island of Capri," which read:

"Four cups tomato, four pomentoes, four large onions, one clove of garlic, one cup stoped ripe olives, three bay leaves, one cup French canned mushrooms, one and a half teaspoons salt, paprika, red pepper (a grain or two of this should suffice for ordinary mortals and ordinary comfort), one-half cup olive oil. Slice onions, simmer covered in their own juice until soft. Then add three tablespoons of the oil and the pimentoes cut fine, and fry slowly about one-half hour. Add the tomatoes and remainder of olive oil, salt, paprika, and a little red pepper. Cook all together slowly at least one and one-half hours. Then put in mushrooms and olives, and cook ten minutes. This sauce is served in the center of a platter of spaghetti covered with grated Parmesan cheese."

Ten years ago the man who served as cook to the queen of Sweden, part of the year, had a restaurant on Capri, and perhaps this recipe came from there, although you can find an American influence in it. But the real reason for mentioning it in this connection is to argue that Italian spaghettis may be almost anything, and everything, if the sauces served with them and make their character are "flavored with almost everything under the sun."

To a good meat gravy is often added a chopped and cooked mixture called a "soffrito," or this latter with tomato paste and water is often used without the slightest flavor of meat. There are endless "soffritos." They may be only a bit of onion, parsley, mushroom and ham. They are essentially a seasoning.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Boy Scout Principles Called Europe's Need

Race prejudice and materialism are responsible for the calamity in Europe and for the new war clouds which are gathering. In a new conception of personal righteousness based on the ideas of service and brotherhood of men, as preached and practiced daily by the Boy Scouts of America, lies the salvation of the nations of Europe.

This thought was expressed last night by Lorne M. Barclay, director of education in the national organization of the Boy Scouts, at a banquet at the Chicago Beach hotel. The banquet was held in connection with the annual meeting of the Chicago council and the sectional scout executives' conference.

More than 250 persons, including scout executives and representatives of every scout troop in Chicago, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana, were present.

She Gave Her a Look.

I was visiting my grandmother's house when I spied a doll on the table. When I picked it up its head came off. My aunt came in the room, and she saw the doll's head off. She looked at me but did not say anything. I felt so embarrassed I wished I was home.

Facing the Fact.

My employer, who most strenuously objects to smoking, comes to the office every morning and invariably leaves at noon for the balance of the day. Immediately upon his departure I draw my pipe from my pocket and enjoy it to the fullest extent.

One afternoon he gave us a surprise by walking in. I hastily put my pipe in my pocket, not knowing what else to do with it. While bending over my books he kept remarking about smelling something burning.

Finally the stenographer procured a glass of water, and as she dashed it on my burning coat I will confess it was the most embarrassing moment of my life.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

M. L. B.: YOU HAVE TO DRINK milk, take cereals buried in cream, and use butter generously on bread and in other foods. Drink malted milk, chocolate, and cocoa instead of coffee and tea. Get just enough exercise to work up a good appetite, and you will gain weight. I can tell you all this in more detailed form if you will send me s. a. e. Space here is limited.

ESTHER: CANDY MAKES YOU fat, not skinny! A moderate amount will not—but folks are fat because they are not moderate.

Dorothy was receiving guests for her birthday party, and as the table began to be filled with gifts she ran out to the kitchen, where her mother was finishing the refreshments, and exclaimed: "I haven't opened one, but I know what they all are, for they're wrapped in peek-a-boo paper."

A strange family moved into the house next door. A few days later, as I was sweeping the front porch, a child came out to play.

"What is your name, little girl?" I ventured.

"O, my mamma's name is Ethel and my daddy's name is Jim, and my baby brother's name is Lester, and my name is Bessie, and we're all Brown," was the reply.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Abigail Hall Dies at Age of 104

Within a few days of her 105th birthday, Mrs. Abigail Hall died yesterday at her daughter's home, 9531 South Winchester avenue. She was 104 years 10 months and 26 days old.

In spite of her age, Mrs. Hall retained her faculties unimpaired until about a month before her death. She was a constant visitor to the movies, busied herself with the housework, did a great deal of knitting and fancy work, and was an insatiable reader.

Born in Holden, Mass., in 1818, the year that Illinois became a state, Mrs. Hall moved to Aurora in 1856. In 1918 she joined her daughter, Mrs. Barth, with whom she had lived ever since.

Mrs. Hall leaves four children, twelve grandchildren, twenty-six great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild. One of her sons was killed in the civil war at Stone Hill.

LESS PRESSURE ON GRAIN TRADE; PRICES ADVANCE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A favorable report on the foreign grain credit bill by the senate committee, combined with short covering, gave a much stronger undertone to the grain markets. Pressure was less pronounced and sentiment underwent a slight change. Wheat closed ⅞c higher to ⅛c lower, the latter on September, while corn was up ⅜@1c; oats, ⅞c, and rye ½c.

There was some selling of wheat at the start by commission houses which made an opening decline of as much as ⅝c, but at no time did the market show pronounced weakness and there was persistent buying by houses with eastern connections on the dips and the local element were less disposed to press the bear side despite a break of ⅛d in Liverpool in the face of an advance here Tuesday.

Spreaders Are Active.

Spreaders were active in selling May wheat at Minneapolis and buying here, and there was also selling of July here against purchases at Winnipeg. May at Minneapolis closed ½c under Chicago, against ½c premium the previous day, and Chicago July went to 5⅝c under May, against 4⅞c on Tuesday. Export demand was rather inactive, although some hard winter afloat was sold abroad. A better cash demand was reported in the southwest, with some inquiry for flour for export. Dry weather continues in western Kansas and Oklahoma, with the forecast for snow in the two states overnight.

Bullish sentiment in corn was somewhat more pronounced than of late, the government report on the number of hogs on farms, with the foreign grain credit bill, bringing in fair commission house and local buying, and at the top May showed 2¼c over the low of the previous day. Country offerings are small and receipts here light. There was a fair export demand at the seaboard and New York reported premiums on cash grain 1c higher.

Cash and commission houses bought May oats, and with only moderate pressure they showed relatively more strength than other grains. Shipping demand only fair. Considerable oat seeding has already been done in Texas, where recent rains were highly beneficial.

Rye Market Dull.

Rye market was rather dull and there was an absence of aggressive export demand, but with wheat higher an advance was easily attained. The two northwestern markets received 193 cars.

Strength in grains offset to a great extent the weakness in hogs and the bearish government report on farm stocks, and lard closed 2½@7½c and ribs 17½c higher. Advance in cotton was also a factor. Packing of hogs in the west for the season to date, as compiled by the Price Current-Grain Reporter, is 10,342,000, against 7,071,000 last year. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

While there was considerable talk of export business in wheat at the seaboard confirmation was lacking and sales were estimated at 200,000 to 300,000 bu. Corn sales were 250,000 bu, oats 200,000 to 250,000 bu and rye 100,000 bu. Winnipeg reported resellers offering Manitobas 3c under what the grain could be sold from there. A cargo of Argentine wheat was reported sold to Switzerland at 2c under American.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago aggregated 20,000 bu wheat, 60,000 bu corn, 60,000 bu oats and 5,000 bu barley with 10,000 bu rye to exporters. Deliveries on January contracts were 20,000 bu wheat and 5,000 bu corn.

Premiums on cash wheat at Chicago were firmer. No. 2 red was 1c higher at 12@13c over May while No. 2 hard was ¼c over to 2c under the future. Receipts, 32 cars. Southwestern markets were 1@2c higher and Omaha ½c higher with a better demand.

Basis on cash corn at Chicago was unchanged to ¼c better as compared with the May. No. 2 white and yellow sold at 1c under and No. 2 mixed at 1½c under. No. 3 grades brought 2@2¾c under and No. 4 grades 2¾@3c under May. Receipts, 172 cars. Outside markets, ½@2½c higher with St. Louis leading. Omaha reported corn sold to Denver and to the southwest.

Offerings of cash oats were not large but the basis at Chicago was unchanged with No. 2 white ¼c over to ¼c under and No. 3 white 1@1½c under May. Receipts 63 cars.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

There was a somewhat less bearish sentiment noticeable amongst wheat and corn traders after the close. While the advance in the May was regarded as largely due to short covering, which had weakened the technical position, there was a belief that the sentimental effect of the favorable report of the senate committee on the $250,000,000 foreign grain credit bill would bring about a further upturn before sales would be in order again. A majority of commission houses can see nothing at the moment to bring about a sustained advance.

Wheat has still to go through its period of readjustment to the basis of the prices prevailing for other commodities, according to a long summary of the situation given to the trade by Bartlett-Frazier company. Attention is called to the fact that while corn is up 58.5 per cent, as compared with last year, wheat prices have advanced less than 1 per cent on an average. Decreased production is expected until such time as the readjustment occurs.

Dry weather in Argentina is becoming a factor in the corn market, as many traders see it. They call attention to the fact the prices in Buenos Aires are up 4c since Friday on the continued drought and hot weather in that country. January is the critical period of growth of corn in that country.

"Government report on the number of hogs on farms would seem to indicate that we can expect much higher prices for corn later in the season," said G. W. Beaven, with J. S. Bache & Co. "Average weight of the hogs received at Chicago last week was the heaviest at this season in over ten years and 15 lbs above the average for that period. This confirms all reports of liberal feeding operations, and a remarkable disappearance of corn is likely to be shown in the March 1 returns on farm reserves. No let-up in feeding operations is to be expected. Number of fall litters in 1922 was 18.6 per cent in excess of 1921, while the number of sows bred for spring litters is 13.1 per cent more than last year, as shown by official reports."

A circular favoring the proposed amendment to the rules of the Board of Trade creating the position of assistant to the president has been sent to the trade, signed by thirty-five prominent members of the exchange. It is pointed out that the adoption of the rule will permit form and force in the solution of the problems of administration, permit continuity of management of the board's affairs, and will insure good presidential timber in future years by lightening the many burdens now imposed almost exclusively on the president. A vote on the amendment will be taken today.

Close students of conditions express the belief that the foreign grain credit bill will not pass the senate, which will adjourn around March 4, according to present plans. No financial help for Europe is anticipated until conditions there become more stabilized.

Private cables received from Argentina yesterday, which were not given to the trade during the day, said that the corn crop there has been seriously damaged by drought and hot weather.

Issuance authorized by the Tennessee Railroad and Public Utilities Commission

A letter from Mr. T. H. Tutweiler, president of the company, copies of which will be furnished upon request, is summarized as follows:

BUSINESS

Memphis Power & Light Company has taken over the property formerly owned and operated by the Memphis Gas & Electric Company and does the entire central station power and light and the entire gas business in the city of Memphis, Tennessee, and certain suburbs, serving a population estimated at over 200,000.

The operation of the company's properties is under the supervision of the Electric Bond and Share Company, a subsidiary of the General Electric Company.

PROPERTY

The property of the Company consists of an electric generating plant having an installed capacity of 22,500 kw; a water gas plant having a daily capacity of 8,590,000 cu. ft. and complete electric and gas distributing systems.

Part of the proceeds of this issue is to be used for the acquisition of the electric generating plant now owned by the local street railway company, and the installation of a new 15,000 kw. generating unit.

Upon the acquisition of this plant and the completion of the proposed extension, the Company will own and operate all the central station generating facilities in the city of Memphis and surrounding territory. It will thus be enabled to take on substantial amounts of profitable power business (in addition to supplying all the current required for street railway purposes) which are now available but which hitherto could not be efficiently handled because of limited generating capacity.

SECURITY

The first and refunding mortgage bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage upon a substantial portion of the present property, and upon the new 15,000 kw unit and the generating station to be acquired as described above. They will be further secured by a direct mortgage upon the remainder of the physical property, subject only to two issues of underlying (closed) mortgage bonds, aggregating $1,852,000 principal amount outstanding, which mature in 1929 and 1931 respectively.

EARNINGS

	Year Ended Dec. 21, 1921	12 Mos. Ended Nov. 30, 1922
Gross earnings	$3,202,553	$3,336,332
Operating expenses and taxes (including maintenance, renewals and replacements)	2,309,275	2,396,717
Net earnings	893,278	939,615
Annual interest requirements on total funded debt, including this issue		367,600
Balance		572,015

89½ and Interest to Yield About 5.80%.

We offer these bonds when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. It is expected that bonds in temporary form or interim receipts will be ready for delivery on or about February 14, 1923.

All legal details pertaining to this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Stetson, Jennings & Russell of New York, for the bankers, and by Messrs. Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett of New York, for the Company.

—detailed Want Ad rented these rooms

MRS. K. had two very desirable rooms for rent, so she ran the following Want Ad in The Tribune:

MICHIGAN, 0000—TO RENT—LGE. FRT. splendidly furn. rm., suit. Mrs. K.

This Want Ad brought only a few indifferent inquiries and did not result in the renting of either of the rooms. Mrs. K. did not, however, blame The Tribune. She said that The Tribune could not rent rooms in her neighborhood. The Tribune Adtaker advised Mrs. K. that the real trouble was in the wording of her Want Ad. She was finally persuaded to run the following amplified Want Ad:

MICHIGAN, 0000—TO RENT—LGE. FRT. rm., not the ord. furn. rm., but a REAL home; easy chrs., reading lamp; ref. Mrs. K.

When The Tribune Adtaker called Mrs. K. a few days later, she reported that both rooms were rented, and from the number of inquiries she could have rented others, too, if she had them. "The more you tell, the quicker you sell."

THE Tribune has prepared a booklet—"Wording a Want Ad to Make it Pay" which it will send free to anyone requesting it.

The more you tell: the quicker you sell

BUY HIGHLAND PARK ACRES FOR NEW SUBDIVISION

BY AL CHASE.

Hill & Stone, north shore realtors, have taken title for a syndicate to the 33½ acre Hambleton tract on the east side of Sheridan road just north of the county line, in Highland Park, and will place it on the market as Hill & Stone's Ravine View subdivision. The name is from the ravines which almost encircle the property. It lies east of the Braeside station. There'll be forty-four lots of 100 feet each. Charles T. Rothermal represented the seller, the Hambleton Realty trust. Mrs. E. R. Stone of Hill & Stone represented the syndicate.

Maria Arndt, one of the early settlers of Evanston, has sold the ten acre tract on the west side of Asbury avenue, between Cleveland and Warren streets, to John C. Dillon & Co., for $27,000. This property has been in her possession for fifty years. John F. Hahn, Evanston real estate broker, will subdivide the property for single houses and two apartment buildings. The lots will be 50x127. It will be put on the market within ten days.

Two Residence Sales.

One of Oak Park's most attractive residential properties, the entire block of frontage on the east side of Euclid avenue, between Erie and Ontario, 429x165, has been sold by Edwin E. Wood to Andrew Dole, a member of the H. M. Hooker Glass and Paint company, for $85,000, subject to $63,000. The house is brick and has twelve rooms. Tom Roberts, of Whittier G. Gale's office, made the sale.

The one time residence of Enos M. Barton of the Western Electric company, at 4920 Greenwood avenue, has been sold by Philip D. Block, president of the Inland Steel company, to Thomas B. Kane, president of the Kane Manufacturing company, through James J. Parker, for $82,000. The house contains fourteen rooms and stands on a 297x144 foot lot.

Alex Friend & Co. announce selling the two story building at the northeast corner of Peoria and Lake, 110x50, for the Chicago Title and Trust company, to Frank Loeffler, for $95,000. The building is occupied by produce merchants. E. G. Krumrine & Co. were associated in the deal.

South Side Sales.

Two good sized south side sales are reported by Howard & Orr. At 4818-28 Dorchester avenue they sold the twenty-four flats for Samuel Simpson to Frank Davis for a reported $172,500. The eighteen apartments at the southeast corner of 67th and Paxton were sold by Walter E. Blaufuss, song writer and orchestra leader, to Paul Braude for a reported $105,000, subject to $65,000. Matteson & Conran represented the seller.

James Karben, real estate dealer, bought the twelve flats at the southwest corner of Wilcox and Karlov, 50x125, from William Launer, for $60,000. Brogni & Brogni, brokers, also sold the twelve apartments at the northwest corner of Hamlin and Van Buren, for Mr. Karben to Jacob Spiro, for $63,750.

Attorney Samuel B. Epstein has bought from Morris Bender the seven one story stores at the northwest corner of Spaulding and 26th, 50x125, through Rosenberg & Lurie, for a reported $75,000.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1923: Fairchild News Service.]

BERLIN.—The president of the All-Russian Textile syndicate is coming to Germany to buy textile machinery. The understanding here is that Germany is working hand in glove with Russia for reconstruction of Russian industries.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The Kentucky Court of Appeals declares unconstitutional the anti-trading stamp act of the 1922 state legislature, which forbade giving, receiving, or use of trading stamps for discount purposes, but permitted manufacturers to pack such coupons in goods.

NEW YORK.—One line of 4.30 chambrays is reported newly priced at 14⅓ cents. In general, however, large cotton goods factors are withholding action. Interest continues to center around flannels, new price lists on which are now almost marketwide with all sellers on a competing level. The heaviest business is developing around solid colors. Some producers have abandoned production of stripes to concentrate on solids.

NEW YORK.—Print cloths were in continued fair demand at unchanged prices in the local gray goods market today. Unfinished sheetings, however, are hardening. Sellers are now asking 12⅝c net for the 56x60, 4.00 yard, a ¼ cent advance.

NEW YORK.—Hevyweight spot and afloat burlap was in fair demand here this morning, but lightweight goods were unwanted and slightly weaker at 7.40@7.45c for 8 ounce. The 10½ ounce was 9@9.05c. Calcutta was slightly dearer, because of a higher exchange.

NEW YORK.—Manufacturing needs impel the importation of large quantities of former "nuisance merchandise," of which the Belfast linen market was relieved recently by Thomas Young, Inc. Some already have arrived and been distributed. Active buying in the United States is anticipated.

MEXIA CRUDE OIL BOOSTED 25 CENTS.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 24.—The price of Mexia Tex., crude oil today was advanced 25 cents a barrel to the new price of $1.80 a barrel by the Magnolia Petroleum company.

An Active Bond Man

An old established bond and investment house, members of the New York Stock Exchange, desires the services of an experienced bond man with clientele.

The man wanted is one capable of assuming greater responsibilities, for the opening in the recently established Chicago branch of this house gives the greatest of opportunities. Liberal compensation to the right man. Replies held in strict confidence.

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Practically all financial markets lapsed into inertia and purposeless fluctuations today, evidently wearied with the alternation of violent up and down movements which had turned out to have no basis except erroneous rumor. Even the foreign exchange market pretty much lost the power of initiative; the day's changes in European rates were neither uniform nor important.

It is a favorite tradition of Wall street that when any speculative market comes to a dead halt after a violent swing in one direction its next movement is likely to be in the opposite direction. But no one is able to conjecture exactly how the existing Franco-German deadlock will terminate.

Today's foreign exchange market gave no sign, the only rate which really moved, that for the pound sterling at Paris, advancing 50 centimes after having fallen a full franc on Tuesday and advanced nearly 2 francs on Monday. Such gyrations hardly indicate anything but excited speculation which is not sure of its own mind.

European stock markets were quiet and steady today; our own, with business only a little larger than the very small trading of the two preceding days, moved uncertainly, advances and declines, mostly fractional, being about equal numerically. During part of the day the recovery in railway shares, which had attracted some attention on Tuesday, was carried further, but this, too, lost its momentum before the closing.

RAILROAD NOTES

Prohibition of exportation of anthracite as a measure to relieve the present shortage was suggested by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts in a resolution adopted by the senate yesterday calling upon the interstate commerce commission to report whether a coal embargo is desirable and feasible. The commission is called upon to report whether it has considered an embargo order and if not whether such an inquiry should not be immediately instituted.

An application for authority to issue and sell $1,536,000 in equipment trust certificates was filed today with the interstate commerce commission by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. Proceeds would be used to complete payment for 100 locomotives ordered in 1920 at an approximate cost of $5,000,000.

Embargoes were established yesterday against a dozen Detroit plants in an effort by the Detroit Terminal railroad to break the jam of several thousand cars in the local yards. Delay in unloading is held responsible for the congestion.

Railroads put into service during 1922 or ordered from manufacturers 145,553 new freight cars, the car service division of the American Railway association reports, as compared with 76,117 during 1921. They likewise added or arranged to add 2,824 locomotives to the number already on hand, as compared with 1,382 in 1921.

C. G., Morrison, Ill.—The United Light and Railways company furnishes diversified public utility service in seventy-seven communities, mostly in Illinois and Iowa. It is issuing $2,500,000 6 per cent debentures, series A, to retire its 8 per cent bond secured notes. These debentures are unsecured, but certain restrictions are placed on the issuing of additional series. Consolidated net earnings for the year ended Nov. 30, 1922, were over twice the annual interest charges on the entire funded indebtedness, including this issue, and all annual prior charges. After deducting all annual charges prior to interest on these debentures, the balance available was over thirteen times the annual interest requirements on this issue. These debentures are followed by a 7 and a 6 percent preferred and a common stock which at the present market represent an equity of over $15,000,000. Dividends on both preferred stocks have been paid regularly since issuance, and the common is paying 5 per cent and extras. These debentures are a business man's investment.

Reliance Manufacturing.

G. B.—The Reliance Manufacturing company is a large manufacturer of workingmen's shirts. It is an Illinois corporation. It is offering $2,500,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. Net profits, after all expenses and after deducting federal taxes at 1922 rates, for the six years and eleven months ended Nov. 30, 1922, averaged $603,092, or over 3.4 times annual dividend requirements on this preferred stock. For the first eleven months of 1922 such earnings were $990,409, or at the rate of over 5.4 times such requirements. The balance sheet as of Nov. 30, 1922, giving effect to the present financing, shows net tangible assets of $5,524,054, or $221 per share of the preferred stock, of which $4,358,137, or $1.74 per share, are net quick assets. A sinking fund is provided to call or purchase at least 3 per cent of the outstanding stock each year. It is redeemable at $115, prior to Jan. 1, 1933, and thereafter at $110. This is a high grade preferred stock.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Despite various claims of railway executives that their company unions were working smoothly and turning out repair work as efficiency and expeditiously as in pre-strike days, reports continue that sabotage, in widespread and virulent form, is still evident on many roads. An inspection of the reports of certain roads, it was explained, would show an absence of equipment, an absence of power, delayed transportation, and sabotage, a situation which was said to be largely responsible for the necessity of embargoes of freight.

Fisher Body dropped 3⅛ points yesterday. F. J. Fisher, president, announced that due to the fact that a large percentage of the Fisher output is sold to the General Motors corporation, both corporations have concluded it would be to the best interest of each to have Pierrie S. du Pont, I. du Pont, La Mount du Pont, J. J. Raskob, A. P. Sloane Jr., J. A. Haskell, and C. S. Mott resign as directors of the Fisher Body corporation, thus making it unnecessary for these men to act in dual capacities as directors of both corporations. Accordingly their resignations have been accepted.

Directors of the Pressed Steel Car company declared the regular 1¾ per cent preferred stock dividend, payable Feb. 27. Rumors which affected trading had been current to the effect that it would be passed.

General Motors corporation announced the following election of officers and directors of the Klaxon company of Newark, N. J.: William M. Sweet, president; Fred W. Ayers, vice president; M. I. Mullen, secretary and treasurer; board of directors, William M. Sweet, Fred W. Ayers, Alfred P. Sloan Jr., John L. Pratt, and John T. Smith. Fred W. Ayers, who has just been made vice president, has for the last two years been connected with the Klaxon company as general works manager.

"The First Suburban"

THE first railroad out of Chicago was the Galena & Chicago Union, chartered in 1836. It was designed to "increase the value of real estate at both points," but Galena, being then the leading town in the West, obtained precedence in the naming of the road. The incorporators were given the choice of operating the road by animal or steam power.

The projected right of way began at Dearborn Street, running due west, along Madison, all the way to the Desplaines River. But "the ambition of Chicago was ahead of her means, and the enterprise collapsed."

The Illinois Central was chartered almost simultaneously, with more ambitious plans. but this "stupendous project," as it was called, also collapsed.

In 1850, however, it was revived, despite the opposition of the supporters of the Illinois & Michigan Canal, and to allay local jealousies, it was planned to start building from both ends at once.

Railroads, in those days, were not always viewed with approval. A certain tavern-keeper of Marengo expressed the thought of many, when he denounced railroads as undemocratic, institutions that would ride rough-shod over the people and grind them to powder. "The only roads the people want," said he, " are good common, or plank roads, upon which everybody can travel."

The Illinois Central really began in 1848, Judge Sidney Breese being the father of the enterprise, and Stephen A. Douglas an ardent supporter. In its original form, the plans did not contemplate any connection with Chicago.

SEARS-ROEBUCK NETS $5,435,168 INCOME IN 1922

BY O. A. MATHER.

Improvement in the mail order business last year after two disastrous years is shown in the annual report of Sears, Roebuck & Co. Betterment was slow in the first half of 1922, but the last half brought a rush of buying which, coupled with more economical operations, resulted in a satisfactory showing.

Net sales last year totaled $160,648,152, an increase of $1,613,634 over 1921. Operating expenses, etc., were $157,385,331, a decrease of $20,578,245 from 1921. Operating profit was $5,706,926, compared with an operating loss of $16,435,468 in 1921. Net income last year was $5,435,168, and after preferred dividends and provision for taxes, etc., there was left a balance of $4,875,980, equivalent to $4.87 a share on the $100,000,000 common stock outstanding. No dividends were paid on the common stock.

Pay Off $16,389,300 Notes.

The company's current assets show a decline of $34,788,822, while current liabilities receded $19,503,054. But there was paid off $16,389,300 of 7 per cent serial gold notes, leaving $16,907,900 to be retired next October. Fixed assets and investments increased $4,014,803 and $542,803 respectively. Record Year for Western Electric.

The Western Electric company announced yesterday that its business last year broke all previous records with total sales of $210,900,000, marking an increase of $4,800,000 over 1920 and of $21,100,000 over 1921. At the end of 1922 orders on hand were about $62,000,000. Orders received in the last quarter of 1922 aggregated $63,000,000. On Dec. 31 there were 51,162 employés on the pay roll, compared with 45,243 at the end of 1921 and 39,650 at the close of 1920.

President J. A. G. Hawkinson of Allied Packers, Inc., in his report for the year ended Oct. 28, 1922, says:

"While a loss was suffered during the year, due principally to conditions in the industry in Canada, we are nevertheless able to present a sound and liquid position. An increase in our property account will be noted, being largely the result of our purchase of the business and plant of the Western Packing and Provision company of Chicago. We look forward with confidence to a more satisfactory year in 1923."

More Cheerful News.

General business news was cheerful yesterday. A new high mark for freight handling at this season of the year was reported by the railroads. Car loadings for the week ended Jan. 13 totaled 873,251. This figure exceeded any corresponding week in any previous year and marked an increase of about 22 per cent over the corresponding weeks in both 1921 and 1922.

Continued business expansion is indicated by the midweek reports of the steel industry. Although the steel mills are working at 85 to 90 per cent of capacity, the Iron Age says the mills are finding it difficult to get operations up to the scale called for by their order books. As a result of the continued building boom, the last week's business in fabricated steel was four times as great as in the first two weeks of January, which were regarded as unusually good weeks. Railroad buying is abnormally high and agricultural machinery makers are increasing operations.

New Dividend Declarations.

That stock dividends do not always mean increased cash dividends was demonstrated yesterday. The Standard Oil Company of California declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents, or just half as much as was paid for a 100 per cent stock dividend distributed recently. The Hudson Motor Car company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents. The Standard Milling company declared a quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the common stock, which compares with $2 before its recent 60 per cent stock dividend. The Hayes Manufacturing company resumed dividends on its preferred stock by declaring a payment of 1 per cent. Stockholders of the United States Tobacco company will vote on March 6 on increasing the common stock from 360,000 to 600,000 shares of no par value and a 20 per cent stock dividend is planned.

NO "CORNER" IN PIGGLY WIGGLY, IS N. Y. REPORT

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—Reports from Chicago that a "corner" existed in the stock of the Piggly Wiggly corporation and that the Chicago Stock exchange has started an investigation into the market position of the stock brought forth a statement from an official of the New York Stock exchange that no "corner" existed and that the stock, although loaning flat in the local market, was easily borrowed. In view of this it was pointed out that no corner could exist as long as the stock was borrowed.

The official of the stock exchange, however, pointed out that the business conduct committee of the New York institution was watching the developments, and have been doing so ever since the president of the corporation made the charge that speculators were endeavoring to depress the market price for the stock and that he intended going into the open market to buy up every share he could acquire.

Danger of a Shortage in Asbestos Products

New York, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Due to the recent improvement in general business conditions, there is a possibility of a shortage of asbestos products facing the country this year, according to a statement issued by T. F. Manville, president of Johns-Manville, Inc. The situation, according to Mr. Manville, is brought about by the increasing demand for insulation materials due to the coal shortage, legislation requiring fireproof building materials, and the requirements of the automobile industry for asbestos brake lining.

There was a bad slump in the hog market yesterday, with the close low point of the day. Prices declined 10@30c and about 17,000 remained in the pens, with 58,000 expected today, which had a weakening effect late in the session. Packers favored the better grades, consequently the general average price dropped only 15c at $8.15, against $8.30 Tuesday, $8.10 a week ago and $8.50 a year ago. Top light sold at $8.55. Quality good, with underweights plentiful.

Lamb Prices React.

On a dull midweek trade, lamb values slumped 15@25c, dropping back to a level with initial day this week. Top lowered only 10c at $15.40, city butchers purchasing a deck of 80 lb averages at that figure, while packers refused to pass $15.25. Yearlings shared in the general decline, while aged stock remained stationary. Missouri fed Texas 77 lb yearlings reached $13.25, while Dakota 93 lb averages brought $13.00. Three year old wethers reached the top for their class on yesterday's market at $9.50. Shearing lambs brought $14.85. Clipped lambs moved slowly at $12.25@12.85, with fall shorn at $13.25.

Seven western markets received 39,000 cattle, 138,000 hogs, and 59,000 sheep, against 41,000 cattle, 101,000 hogs, and 31,000 sheep the previous Wednesday, and 47,000 cattle, 125,000 hogs, and 44,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 15,000 cattle, 58,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 12,757 cattle, 52,231 hogs, and 16,477 sheep the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

Runaway Rubber Market May Be Halted by Britons

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special.]—When members of the British mission of rubber producers invited to make a tour of the United States to study the rubber industry in the light of the British export tax on British crude rubber were guests at a luncheon today at the Down club, it was learned that British plantation rubber producers might soon exercise their power to halt an apparent runaway market in crude rubber. It was explained that it is their position to release stocks as the price goes up. Under the export tariff regulations which went into effect last November the British rubber producers agreed that if the price advanced 1 shilling and 3 pence and held that gain for a period of three months they would release an extra 5 per cent of their surplus stocks. It was further provided that if the price advanced 1 shilling and 6 pence of a period of three months an extra 10 per cent of the surplus held was to be released, the idea being to release surplus stocks with a view to stabilizing the market.

The price of crude rubber had advanced approximately 5 or 6 cents a pound since the members of the British rubber mission landed in New York City about ten days ago.

BONDS

of the Webster Building

This modern, high-grade, 12-story Chicago building, erected several years ago, is well located to attract the best class of tenants. It is close to the new Federal Reserve Bank, Continental and Commercial Bank and the new Illinois-Merchants Bank buildings, Board of Trade and the La Salle Street Station. Its tenants include railroad and steamship lines, exporters and importers and Board of Trade members. Space on the ground floor is reserved for a new bank now being organized. The remainder of the building is 100 per cent rented.

We recommend the 20-Year 7% First Mortgage Leasehold Bonds of the Webster Building Corporation. Total appraised value of leasehold and building is $3,022,500, or over $2,000 for each $1,000 Bond. Net income is adequate and, based on new leases to be entered into during 1923, will be considerably larger.

It is estimated that, by maturity, through operation of the sinking fund, this issue of bonds will be reduced to an amount less than the present appraised value of the leasehold, exclusive of the value of the building, and without considering enhancement in value of either leasehold or building.

PRICE: 100 and Accrued Interest, to Yield 7%

Harvard Business Forecasts

Your judgment concerning the business future will govern largely what your concern will make or lose a year from today.

Will the upward swing in business, which has been in progress during the past twelve months, continue during 1923? Or will this advance culminate shortly in another industrial reaction?

The Harvard Economic Service forecast the depression of 1920 by six months. Subscribers are now receiving forecasts of events for the coming months.

4 Bargains AT THE Peerless FACTORY BRANCH.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, COUPE. We have just received this car from our refinishing department and we do not believe that you could tell it from a new one. It is a very late "double-letter 57" and one that has never been abused or mistreated in any way. It is painted a beautiful Dustproof Gray, with black running gear. The cord tires are excellent. Mechanically we believe it to be 'way above the average. The upholstery and general conditions are almost like new. It is equipped with a set of Westinghouse shock absorbers, spare tire and much other extra equipment. See it and ride in it today because it will not stay in our possession long at our price of $1,500.

HUDSON TOURING CAR, 1919. A beautiful 7 passenger touring car that has just been turned in on one of our new Peerless enclosed cars and we feel very fortunate in being able to offer it at such a ridiculously low price. Mechanically it runs smoothly and quietly. Paint is excellent, tires good; in fact, it is a very good looking car and shows no signs of excessive use. A real bargain for anyone who would appreciate owning a car that we know has had the care and attention that this one has had. See it today. Price $500.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, TOURING CAR. In order to complete a new car deal this car must be disposed of immediately. It is in such condition that we feel it would be very difficult for you to distinguish it from new. Newly finished, seat covers, bumper, excellent cord tires, and mechanically exceptionally fine—all this in a late model Cadillac Touring Car at a price that we know is far below its market value. It must be moved today; for that reason we will sacrifice it for $1,475.

MARMON TOWN LIMOUSINE MODEL 34. We do not believe that this automobile should be really classed as a "used" car. Its condition does not warrant calling it such. Automobiles that have been kept like this one has are hard to find and some lucky purchaser is going to get this one at a price that is sharply reduced as compared with its present day market value. It is painted a dark blue, has 6 excellent cord tires, and much other extra equipment. Mechanically it is exceptionally fine. For any sort of use, either private or commercial, this car will more than exceed your expectation. The circumstances surrounding the sale of this high grade Marmon car are such that we can let it go at the ridiculously low price of $900.

WILLS SAINTE CLAIRE

WILLS SEDAN—'22.

You cannot find a more beautifully appointed automobile than this late model Wills Sedan. It is a close coupled job that seats 5 very comfortably and there are also 2 auxiliary seats that fold flush into the rear of the front seat. The upholstering is the very finest velour, the paint is tandard Wills Sainte Claire Huron Blue—There isn't a scratch or a mark on the body or fenders. Women especially enjoy a Wills Sainte Claire because of its ease of operation. The clutch and brakes are as soft as velvet and its acceleration and riding qualities are wonderful.

One key locks ignition, transmission, doors and rear wheel—This unique feature should appeal strongly to you if you are thinking of a closed automobile. The mileage is very low and we give the same guaranty with this automobile that you get when buying a new one. Price $2,850.

WILLS SPORT—'21.

You get real fun and enjoyment in driving a Wills Sainte Claire Sport—Once you drive it you realize that never before have you received such a motoring thrill. The Wills Sainte Claire has a certain individual charm that you have always wished for—It is an automobile you will like better every day you own it.

We have only 1 more Wills Sport. It is painted a beautiful Arizona Brown and striped in Vermilion Red. If you are contemplating a new automobile it will certainly pay you to look at this one—Has all accessories—Price $1,650.

WILLS BROUGHAM—'23.

It is seldom you can offer for sale a new automobile in the used car department. Last week we took back a new 923 Brougham, driven only 2,200 miles, because the man who owned it decided that he wished a Sedan. We are sure that if you will examine this car you will buy it—That is if you wish a Brougham.

Painted a standard Wills Sainte Claire Huron Blue with granite weave upholstering makes a very pleasing combination—All appointments are in keeping. This car cost new, not one month ago, $3,750. You can buy it today for $3,200.
